

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 13, 1886

The Telephone advertises tickets to and from Portland at excursion rates.

Harris & Wright are opening a well fitted saloon in the old White house corner.

Geo. Hansen has opened a paint shop on Commercial street next door to F. L. Parker's.

The Prince Frederick cleared for Queenstown yesterday, with 73,104 bus. wheat, worth $55,100.

Every steamer that arrives from Portland or San Francisco brings some Chinamen; few go away.

Some few contracts have been made for cannery work; the making of cans in two or three instances will begin about February 1st.

Fifteen more electric lamps came up on the last steamer. They are being tested and will be put up as soon as considered satisfactory.

The case of Mee Jin Jan, charged with resisting an officer, was on trial in the police court yesterday resulting in his being fined $20. The case was appealed.

The regular meeting of Cushing Relief Corps will be held this evening at which time the newly elected officers will be installed; a full attendance is requested.

There is probably no city of its size in the United States where there is less drunkenness or disorder than in the city of Astoria. This is what travelers and visitors say and the facts justify the assertion.

There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Coffee club at Mrs. Fraiel's, over the Empire store, this Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. The question of dissolving the club will be considered and all members are requested to be present.

The postoffice department is opposed to restoring the ocean mail service between Astoria and San Francisco; "economy" will not permit it. We don't amount to much out this way and had better keep still or we may be kicked out altogether.

The West Shore Lumber mills have received considerable improvement and enlargement this winter; an addition has been built, new machinery put in and the daily capacity of the mill enlarged to 50 M. Mr. Fraulinger expects to begin running about the first prox.

The News is the only Portland daily that advocates the continuance of silver coinage. The others appear to be influenced by the gold bugs. Yesterday's Standard falls into line and makes a good second to the Oregonian in its advocacy of the bondholders' interests.

On Monday Senator Mitchell introduced a bill in the senate to appropriate $150,000 for completion of improvements at Yaquina bay. Also, to appropriate $160,000 for improvement of the entrance of Coos bay. Also, to appropriate $75,000 for improvement of the mouth of the Coquille river. Also, to appropriate $75,000 for continuing work on the canal and locks at the cascades of the Columbia river.

The Mercury says the fish ladder at the falls at Oregon City, which cost the state $10,000, don't seem to amount to much. The salmon seem to regard it as an unnecessary outlay of public funds, and there are people who are not "suckers" who view it in the same light. At any rate, says the Mercury, tributaries of the Willamette above the falls have not been retarded from flowing on to the sea by a gorge of salt-water fish since the ladder was constructed. It is more than probable that another appropriation will be asked of the next legislature to complete the work and bring the perverse salmon to emigrate south to be devoured by the denizens of Long Tom and Luckamute.

A contract was entered into on Saturday last between Governor Z. F. Moody, Hon. B. P. Earhart, secretary of state, and Hon. Edward Hirsch, state treasurer, ex-officio board of public building commissioners for the state of Oregon, and S. W. Blaisdel, president of the Oregon Electric light company (the same company that has placed the dynamo lights in Astoria) for lighting the state capitol building, the Oregon insane asylum building and the Oregon penitentiary building for a term of ten years, in accordance with the provisions of an act approved November 30, 1885. The board on their part agree to erect a building on the penitentiary grounds of sufficient capacity to contain the machinery, etc., to furnish the necessary water power, provided no interference is made with existing contracts and further agree that the company shall, upon a faithful compliance with this agreement be entitled to the sum of $5,000 annually for the term of ten years from the date of the acceptance of said work.

LIFE AND DEATH.

The Daily Record of Passing Events.

PORTLAND, Jan. 12.—It turns out now that there are only forty men working on the portage for the railroad at The Dalles, for the O. R. & N. Co., instead of four thousand as heretofore reported. This force is only surveying and awaiting further orders from New York.

Ella Tooley accidentally swallowed a pin this morning which lodged in the pleurogastric membrane. Physicians have been fighting death all day. She is in constant convulsions and cannot live.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Congressman Hermann has introduced bills for the relief of the First National bank of Portland, for a pension of $72 a month to Fred Beno; for the relief of O. Lockwood and Northcut Bros., and a petition to improve the Coquille and Siuslaw.

SHOULD BE SERVED THE SAME.

RINGOOLD, Penn., Jan. 12.—Hattie Maurer and her two children were refused shelter by her father last night, on account of marriage contrary to his wishes. The night was bitterly cold and she was found stiff and frozen to death this morning.

GOOD FOR STEINMETZ.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—In the chess tournament now in session in this city, Zakortoff was beaten by Steinmetz in first game for the championship.

THE FOOL KILLER SPARED A JOB.

GRANTSVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 12.—Anna Cosmer, aged 17, took poison this morning with fatal results, because her parents would not allow her to go to Utah to join the Mormons.

ROBERTS' RULES GOVERN.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 12.—The Ohio legislature to-day adopted a resolution declaring the seats of the Democratic delegation from Hamilton Co., void whereupon the nine Republicans walked up and were sworn in amid cheers, hisses, and great uproar. Sherman's election is assured, probably to-morrow; he will have a majority of twenty-one on joint ballot.

SNOW IN TEXAS.

GALVESTON, Jan. 12.—There are four inches of snow here. Snow is still falling.

DEATH OF JUDGE DWINELLE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Judge J. W. Dwinelle died here to-day of apoplexy.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Jan. 12.—Louis Delisto was thrown out of a wagon to-day by a runaway team and found frozen stiff, dying soon after.

The thermometer here stands 25 degrees below zero.

IN STATU QUO.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—The German government has received no official news regarding the Samoan affair, and still adheres to the official agreement.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The absence of any criminal business of importance occasions unusual quiet in the court room this term, the court house being almost deserted yesterday.

The following cases received such disposition as appears below: Mary Pulvermacher, vs. Radolph Pulvermacher; referred to D. Hart to find the facts.

W. T. Coleman & Co., vs. W. G. Ross; decision by Judge Smith in favor of defendant.

Elizabeth Craft vs. F. H. Craft; default of defendant; G. W. Dorris appointed referee.

J. W. Welch vs. O. R. & N. Co.; time for taking testimony extended to Sept. 1st.

J. Demio vs. S. C. Hildreth; defendant overruled; till Friday to answer.

C. H. Page, vs. J. W. Hume; judgment for plaintiff.

W. W. Parker, vs. B. L. Crane; argument on demurrer.

M. Schelluss, vs. Carlson and Berry; settled and dismissed.

F. DeLosa, vs. Jos. Missioani; judgment reversing and annulling judgment of lower court.

Geo. Smith and C. E. Frisk admitted to citizenship.

A Necessary Amendment.

The Oregon legislature has passed a law to the effect that bicyclists must stop riding whenever they approach within one hundred yards of a team, and, after dismounting remain standing until it has passed. This law may be a good one, but it does not go far enough. It should be amended so as to compel the bicyclist to take off his hat and remain uncovered while the driver of the team is passing him.—Norrstovon Herald.

Days of the Past.

Ben Holladay, not satisfied with beating his brother at Portland in a suit involving several hundred thousand dollars, is before congress with a claim for $250,000, growing out of an old mail contract. Mr. Holladay should remember that the palmy days of the star route ring are of the past.—St. Paul Globe.

It is the Best Skate.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3, 1885. We have the Lovell, Star, Henley and other Skates in use in our rink, but the Star requires the least repairs and gives our customers the best satisfaction. SHEAR & O'BRIEN, Mission Skating Pavilion.

For sale at the New York Novelty Store.

Carl Adler has just received another invoice of those celebrated Emerson Pianos direct from the factory. This elegant piano is warranted for seven years. Getting these instruments from first hands Mr. Adler is enabled to sell you an instrument at very low figures; cheap for cash or on easy monthly installments. Remember Adler's Music Store.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The City Attorney Thinks that the Council Must Charge Three Hundred Dollars for a Retail Liquor License for One Year.

The city council met in regular session yesterday evening, Mayor J. C. Trullinger in the chair; present Councilmen Bergman, Sherman, Cleveland, Sorey, Gratke and Caruthers. In attendance A. M. Twombly, chief of police, Geo. Noland, city attorney and T. S. Jewett, auditor and clerk.

A communication was read from J. Q. A. Bowley, attorney for I. W. Case, asking the return of taxes paid under protest on an amount of $23,000 assessed in 1885. Referred to ways and means committee to report at next regular meeting.

A communication was read from Geo. Noland regarding the present status of the Chinese cases recently before the police court. The city attorney was, on motion, directed to attend to the interests of the city and go ahead with the cases.

The superintendent of streets directed the attention of the council to the unsafe condition of West 9th street; referred to street committee with power to act.

The city attorney read an opinion regarding the new liquor law passed at the last session of the legislature prescribing $300 as the annual amount to be charged for retail liquor licenses in cities, towns and counties. The opinion was in substance that the city council must raise the amount required from $200, the present rate, to $300, the amount prescribed by the legislature in the bill approved Nov. 25th, 1885. City attorney Noland stated that in a conversation with District attorney McBride, he learned from that gentleman that there was a general intent expressed throughout the state to comply with the provisions of the law, that the several district attorneys intended to make an effort to see the law enforced and that any license issued by the city council of Astoria for a less sum than that prescribed by law would be considered null and void and would subject the holder to prosecution.

The city treasurer's report for 1885 was reported correct; report adopted. The same action was taken regarding treasurer's report for last quarter of 1885.

The committee to whom was referred the proposition of D. H. Welch, et al, regarding taxes, reported, recommending adoption of proposition; report adopted.

Street superintendent's report for 1885 was referred to street committee.

An ordinance regulating the storage of combustibles within the city north of 8th street, was read first time and referred to committee on health and police.

Ordinances granting liquor licenses to R. L. Jeffery, and C. Evenson were read first and second times and referred to committee on health and police.

An ordinance appropriating $204 out of the general fund for the benefit of John McCann was passed under suspension of the rules.

An ordinance making appropriations out of the general and police fund to pay salaries, lighting streets, interest, supplies, printing, fire department and other expenses of the city for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1886, was read first time and referred to committee on ways and means.

An ordinance for the preservation of health and prevention of disease was read first and second times and referred to committee on health and police.

The following claims were ordered paid: John McCann, $50; Astoria Gaslight Co., $8.75; J. E. Wirt, $5; W. C. Logan, $2.50; M. Powers, $15.90; N. C. Raymond, $12.50; Carl Adler $15.10; N. Y. Novelty store $6.50.

On motion council adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening, the 19th inst.

SUIT TO ENJOIN.

The case of Hobson et al., vs. Thos. Mouteith was up for final argument before Judge Smith in C. H. Page's office yesterday afternoon. Raleigh Stott and Fulton Bros. appeared for plaintiffs and C. H. Page for defendant. The case was argued and submitted to Judge Smith for decision.

It involves the ownership of a strip commonly known as Hamilton street, 50 feet wide, extending from Astor street northward to the city front, east of and adjacent to the Pythian building and at right angles with Squemoqua street.

It was originally the property of John McClure who platted the tract in 1857 and laid out a street there. In 1858 or '59 he transferred his interests to Cyrus Olney who laid out another addition or extension and set down the strip in question as subdivided into lots on his map, pushing the street farther east to what is now known as Olney street.

As the deeds to the property run back prior to the declaration of the city's right to tide lands and water front, and as the original title and transfer were acquired and made before the then territory of Oregon had become a state, and as the whole matter has been in dispute for nearly ten years, the decision of the question is no easy matter.

A KNIGHT OF LABOR.

How to Tell a Real One From a Pseudo-luminous Fraud.

Thick and fast come the questions, "Why do and why don't the K. of L. do that?" "Why do they give their trade to merchants who are boycotting them?" "Why do they vote for men for legislative offices who are their enemies?" These are very pertinent questions and the public have a right to know the truth. It is short and simple.

The general public, outside the organization, have but one certain means of knowing who is a Knight of Labor.

The statement of a man that he is a Knight, is not reliable, and four times out of five it is false. A Knight of Labor is not in the habit of proclaiming it, nor does he give the name of another Knight, for by so doing, except in rare instances, he violates his obligation and proclaims himself a liar and a fraud. So when the public read in a lottery bulletin, or any other demoralizing monopoly paper, what a "prominent Knight" said of a confederated perjurer repeated, by an enemy of the cause, and it should be taken with due allowance.

There are, however, certain signs by which a Knight of Labor can always be known, which are as follows:

He is honest, sober and industrious.

He is very unpopular with the party bosses and tricksters, because they can't use him to advance their schemes.

He is never seen standing about saloons awaiting a drink and telling about his influence in the organization.

He subscribes for and reads a labor paper. Knighthood is a work of education and it is impossible for a man who does not study the principles to be a good knight.

He is a friend of co-operation, and inquires for and purchases no other goods when he can get the products of co-operation.

He will not take or read an obscure or demoralizing paper, or spend a dollar with a merchant who advertises his goods in it, or who refuses to advertise in a labor paper. A man who will patronize the enemies of labor or permit his family to do so, and neglects to patronize the friends of labor, is a scab and a monopolist at heart, and if in the Knights of Labor is either ignorant of his duty, or is there for the furtherance of selfish motives.

There are other signs by which a Knight may be known, but these are infallible, and the man who does not employ them is no true Knight, although he may be connected with some assembly. By their works ye shall know them, and not by their words.—Sunday Mercury.

PAID FOR THE CHRONOMETER. Here is a story about old John Jacob Astor that shows how wretched parsimony and detestable meanness are sometimes rewarded: "One of Astor's best captains had made six voyages to China without a chronometer, but just before sailing on his seventh voyage he suggested to Mr. Astor that it would be safer to have one. 'Get one,' said the millionaire. The captain did so and entered its cost on the account current. When Astor's eye fell upon the item he drew his pen through it. The captain expostulated. 'Damn it, man,' said Astor, 'I told you to get one, but I did not say I would pay for it.' The old seaman left Mr. Astor's employment at once and went down town, and before night was in command of a fine ship as ever floated. In three days he set sail. At the same time Astor's ship under a new commander also set sail. The voyage to Hong Kong was very close, but the captain who, as he used to say, had 'discharged John Jacob Astor,' by keeping his men at the braces, took advantage of every breath of wind and won by three days. The ship was loaded in the shortest possible time, and before Astor's vessel, which had arrived in the meantime, was half loaded, our captain weighed anchor, and with a full cargo of tea sailed for New York. He arrived in good time and hoisted out the cargo, which was sold at auction on the spot. The market was thereby overstocked, and when Astor's ship arrived the price had fallen. Some time afterward, he met Mr. Astor. 'How much did that chronometer cost you?' the latter asked. 'Six hundred dollars.' 'Well,' said Astor, 'that was cheap, it cost me $60,000.'
