SENSIBLE TALK.

The Social Intercourse of the Young of Both Sexes.

The modern girl (and the boys are nearly as precocious) before they have left off wearing bibs, begin to have their small love affairs, and these are continued, with more or less desperation, till circumstances of a sentiment which seems for the moment, bring about a climax in the shape of a wedding. It is well enough, perhaps, if this climax put an end to the game; but, alas, the habit of flirtation is one not so easily overcome, and married coquettes and beaux are sadly common, insuring unhappiness and homes that belie the name. If people of this description could only be paired off together there would be some poetic justice in their tormenting each other and meeting out a mutual and well-deserved punishment. But likes seldom attract each other, and more often we see a woman giving in return for the great, whole-souled love of some man only a fraction of what she is pleased to call a heart. She gives all she has to give, perhaps, but she should have more. The trouble is that she has frittered away her affection, giving a little to this one, a bit to that, and a portion to another, till she really has no heart left, and loses, in consequence, what should have been her life's happiness. Sometimes she has enough sense and nobility of mind left to appreciate what is given her and her own poverty of response. And then she must quote sadly to herself:—

All the kisses that I have given I grieve from my soul to-day, And of all I have ever taken I would wipe the thought away.

How I wish my lips had been hermits, Held apart from kith and kin, That fresh from God's holy service To love's they might enter in.

When the millennium comes, all this will be changed. Boys and girls will then be brought up together in a sensible fashion, so wisely taught and guided by their elders that they will look upon each other as playmates, comrades, friends, until the proper time for serious love-making arrives, while "flirtation" will have become an unknown custom of the dark ages, the very word marked with the dagger which marks obsecure words in the dictionary of the times. This will be, we fear, like the jubilee of the darkies, "long, long, long on de way;" but we can all do something to help its coming. For it is the elders who are often to blame for much of the nonsense and sin of the children. So much that is injudicious or absolutely wrong is said to them or before them, putting ideas into their heads that should not be for a dozen years, perhaps. A little incident, mere trifle, recently observed, will illustrate this point.
A bright little five-year-old boy was playing on a hotel piazza not long since with a winsome wee lassie a little younger than himself. It was a pretty sight, for they were as mischievous and innocently unconscious as two young kittens. But presently one who had been watching them called out: "Elsie is your little sweetheart, isn't she, Charlie?"

The poor little fellow looked first mystified then shy and embarrassed, as others near by laughed at his perplexity.

"Tell the lady that Elsie is your dear little playmate," said a wise woman who had heard it all, and shuddered as she heard it.

"Elsie's my dear little playmate," lisped Charlie, and ran off to play again, while the first speaker had the grace to look slightly ashamed of herself, for the reply which was put into Charlie's mouth was given with an emphasis that gave no doubt of its meaning.

Another woman met at a certain large boarding-house last season, used to ask her son, a young man of eighteen or nineteen, at a public dinner table, about his "mashes." Such an expression of anger and disgust would come into his eyes that a looker-on could not but tremble to see.

This was perhaps an exceptional case, but the first is not, and we believe the "flirtation" evil might easily be reduced to a minimum if young people were but carefully and judiciously trained on that point.

Growing Gold Mines.
The famous Comstock lode is still growing; that is, the causes which produced the great vein are yet in operation, though with diminished activity. The lode was probably millions of years in reaching the condition which it had attained when it was first discovered, and in millions more, if left undisturbed, all the great chambers that have been robbed of their ore might again be filled. In all the softer ground where a drift is run, a movement is seen toward the closing of it. This movement is called by the miners the "swelling" of the ground. In many places it amounts to more than a mere swelling—amounts to a degree of motion that is almost startling in its energy. Belts of a peculiar kind of clay that have been cut by drifts have been known to rise from the floor until more than thirty feet have been cut away.

The price of cotton-seed has advanced in Vicksburg, Miss., from $10 to $16 per ton.

Prince of Wales.

In alluding to a few incidents in the lives of the Princes of Wales it may be interesting to note respecting the birth of the first one that "when the messenger arrived at Rhudlan Castle, where King Edward I. was residing, on political business, and announced to him that his Queen had given birth to a boy on the preceding day, the 25th of April, 1284, at Carnarvon, Edward, in his joy, made a knight of the messenger, stuffed his pouches with gold pieces, and gave him house and lands to enable him to support his new dignity becomingly!" Then follows the story, which every school-boy and girl knows, of the baby's presentation to the Welsh chieftains, who vowed allegiance to him and accepted him as their Prince. Some historians assert this to have been the occasion upon which Edward was created Prince of Wales. On the other hand it is stated that "the original letters patent by which he was raised to the dignity of Prince of Wales" bears the date 1301. Be that as it may, Speed says: "His creation so contented the Welsh, because of his birth-place, that when all friends afterward forsook him, they always stuck most loyally unto him, expressing wonderful love and affection, and bewailing his heavy fortunes in woeful songs, which neither the dread of his enemies nor length of time could ever make them to forget." "Heavy fortunes," indeed! For the first English Prince of Wales was the first of our kings to be deposed and murdered. Although Edward III. is generally considered as the second prince of the illustrious line, he was never created such, but he invested his son Edward, the Black Prince, with the principality in 1343; after whom came Richard of Bordeaux, making the third of the House of Plantagenet. Two Lan-castrians followed, viz.: Henry of Monmouth and his grandson, Edward of Westminster (Henry VI., being but a few months old at the death of his father, never received the title). Then two Yorkists, Edward of the Sanctuary and Edward of Middleham, after whom two of the House of Tudor—Arthur of Winchester, and Henry of Greenwich.
Of the unlucky line of Stewart three have borne the title, Henry Sterling, Charles of Dumfries and Charles of St. James. Next came the House of Hanover, of which there have been four—George I., George II., Frederick Louis, George Frederick, the latter being uncrowned Victoria.—[London Society.]

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites.
In Consumption and General Debility.
Dr. J. D. McKeown, D. M., Portland, Me., says: "I have been prescribing Scott's Emulsion during the past year with good results, and general satisfaction.
It is especially useful in persons with consumptive tendencies."

Temperance Item.
"You are getting to be a regular topper—a perfect sot," said an irascible business man, of Austin, to one of his clerks, don't you suppose that I can see that you have been drinking again?"

"Of course I suppose so," answered the employee; you always see when I am drinking, but the deuce of it is you never see when I am dry."— [Hillings.]

Humpty Dumpty sat on the wall.
Humpty Dumpty had a great fall.
When all the doctors had failed him to cure
St. Jacobs Oil healed certain and sure.

Family Physician—Well, I congratulate you. Patient (excitedly)—I will recover. Family Physician—Not exactly, but—well, after consultation we find that your disease is entirely novel, and if the autopsy should demonstrate that fact, we have decided to name it after you.

Everything Goes Wrong
In the bodily mechanism when the liver gets out of order. Constipation, dyspepsia, contamination of the blood, imperfect assimilation, are certain to ensue. But it is easy to prevent these consequences, and remove their cause, by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the biliary organ and regulates its action. The direct result is a disappearance of the rains beneath the ribs and through the shoulder blade, the nausea, headaches, yellowness of the skin, furred look of the tongue, and sour odor of the breath, which characterize liver complaint. Sound digestion and a regular habit of body are blessings also secured by the use of this celebrated restorative of health, which imparts a degree of vigor to the body which is its best guarantee of safety from malarial epidemics. Nerve weakness and over-tension are relieved by it, and it improves both appetite and sleep.

Summons.
IN THE JUSTICE COURT, ASTORIA PREdict, county of Clatsop, state of Oregon.
P. Grant plaintiff, vs. J. Lambert defendant.

To J. Lambert the above named defendant: In the name of the state of Oregon:

swer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled action, in the above entitled court on or before the 25th day of February, A. D. 1886, being six weeks from the date hereof, and if you fail to answer the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint, which is in substance to recover of you the sum of $38.25, and for costs and disbursements of this action.
This summons is published by order of N.
E. Goodell, Justice of the Peace, for Astoria predict, county and state aforesaid, made this 15th day of December, 1885.

C. J. CURTIS,
Atty. for Plaintiff.
Astoria, Dec. 31st, 1885.

TAKE SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

For all Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen.

This purely vegetable preparation, now so celebrated as a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1838. It acts gently on the Bowels and Kidneys and corrects the action of the Liver, and is, therefore, the best preparatory medicine, whatever the sickness may prove to be. In all common diseases it will, unassisted by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote digestion, dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system. The dose is small, not unpleasant, and its virtues undoubted.

No loss of time, no interruption or stoppage of business while taking the Regulator.

Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick Stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief.
If taken occasionally by patients exposed to MALARIA, it will expel the poison and protect them from attack.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.
I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action, and at the same time aid (instead of weaken) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system. L. M. HAYDON, M. D., Washington, Ark.
