Scientific Miscellany.

From experiments made in March, Fol and Sarasin conclude that in fine weather the last rays of light are dissipated in the Mediterranean at a depth of about 1,300 feet.

In a new French method of sugar manufacture, which is attracting the attention of Paris capitalists, the use of beet-root is to be superseded by that of potatoes, the saccharine matter being extracted by the help of electricity.

The relative value of different foods for soldiers is being carefully tested in the German army. One diet is tried at one regimental station and a different diet at another, all food in addition to the prescribed rations being kept from the men.

Artificial sponge—made of cotton, rendered absorbent, and treated with antiseptics—is a recent English product. A piece of the size of a walnut has absorbed water until it has become as large as a cocoon. It is so cheap that it need not be used a second time.

A French commission has found that the most violent explosion in mines occurs when there are thirteen parts of air to 100 of fire-damp, and that above or below this the force diminishes. When the mixture is below seven parts in 100, or above 18 in 100, the gas simply burns.

As the cause of cancer—resulting from toil, privation, or anxiety—promotes the development of cancer, an English medical authority thinks the marked increase in the death-rate from that disease during the last half-century may be readily explained by a glance at the history of our laborious age.

Although very rare before, a great number of moderate earthquakes were recorded in Tasmania during 1883 and 1884, nearly 100 having been felt at St. Mary's in a single month of last year. These small shocks evidently originate 100 miles or more out to sea, and are seldom felt outside of the northeastern part of Tasmania.

Miss E. A. Ormerod, England's well-known entomologist, reports that her many correspondents all agree that sparrows will not feed on insects when seeds, grain, fruit, and other vegetable food is within reach. She therefore advocates a judicious destruction of the house-sparrow for the protection of crops, but is careful to show that the objection does not extend to other small birds.

Fish as Brain Food.—Sir Henry Thompson, the eminent English physician, declares that there is no foundation whatever for the common notion that a fish diet tends especially to feed the brain. Nevertheless, he recommends fish for brain workers, because it contains in smaller proportions than meat those materials which, taken abundantly, demand much physical labor for their complete consumption, and which, without this, produce an unhealthy body and a sluggish brain. That fish is particularly suitable for persons who are unable to take much exercise.

EXTENT OF THE VISIBLE UNIVERSE.—On a clear night about 3,000 stars are visible to the naked eye. A like number in the opposite hemisphere makes a total of about 6,000 that can be seen without a glass. These are divided according to their apparent brightness into six classes, 20 ranking as first magnitude stars, 65 as second magnitude, 200 as third, 450 as fourth, 1,100 as fifth, and about 4,000 as sixth. The telescopic stars, unseen by the unaided eye on account of their remoteness, are classified as high as the fourteenth magnitude, and their number is vastly greater, being reckoned as high as 20,000,000.

EFFECT OF ACID FUMES ON PLANTS.—Schroeder, in Germany, has been investigating the influence upon vegetation of the acid fumes which are present in a smoke-laden atmosphere. He finds one part of sulphurous acid in 40,000 of air is fatal to the growth of serious damage to plants in a short time. They are less sensitive to hydro-chloric acid. Coniferous trees are most sensitive to sulphurous acid, then deciduous trees, while ordinary field plants resist longest. Oaks, planes, elms, poplars, and mountain-ashes, resist better than birches and beeches. Fruit trees are very sensitive; plums and cherries more so than pears and apples.

BEE-METEOROLOGY.—Numerous observations have shown Emmerig, a German scientist, that bees, otherwise gentle and harmless, become exceedingly irritable and excitable on the approach of thunder-storms; and he thinks that their conduct may be taken as a reliable indicating whether a storm is impending over a certain district or not. In cases of instances, the barometer and hygrometer foretell a storm, the bees remaining quiet, and no storm occurred; or the instruments gave no indication of a storm, but the bees for hours before were irritable, and the storm came. With regard to rain merely, the barometer and hygrometer are safer guides than bees; but in the case of a thunder-storm the indications of the bees appear to be more trustworthy.

Cure For Piles. Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, protruding a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile remedy, which acts directly upon the parts of the feet, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Plaquemine, La.
