

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1886

To-night: Calico ball. Better go than wish you had. Have your ticket for to-night's ball?

Calico Post band play at Liberty Hall to-night.

The charge for refreshments at the calico ball to-night will be only twenty-five cents.

Did you notice the brilliancy of yesterday? The white snow reflected the rays of the sun to an extent unusual in this longitude.

Lieut. Cotton's telephone line from Ilwaco to the cape and thence to the beach, is coming on well. The intention is to extend it to Oysterville.

This is the last day of the sale of delinquent city property for taxes thereon, to which the attention of all interested is, by request, directed.

Mr. Jno. Davlin is reported to have bought the lot and building at the corner of First and Salmon streets, in Portland, paying $49,400 therefor.

Tickets for the calico ball can be procured at Griffin & Reed's and C. H. Cooper's. The grand march will begin at nine o'clock. Those attending may be assured of a pleasant evening.

Yesterday's Oregonian contains no opinion as to who is to blame for the deep snow, but it may undertake to show that Mitchell's "malign influence" caused it. He is to blame for everything that has happened since the special session convened.

At a late hour last night it was reported that John Davis, a well known resident of upper town had taken an overdose of laudanum, and it was believed that despite the most strenuous efforts of the medical attendants it would be impossible to save his life.

Sleigh riding and snow balling are two things Astorians don't often enjoy, and when a chance does offer it is eagerly embraced. By the way, this will be a splendid night for dancing. The ladies of the relief corps have a calico ball at Liberty hall. Of course you're going.

Considerable trouble has been experienced in getting water the last few days by consumers who neglected to box their pipes. The water company is doing the best it can to supply the demand, but knows of no way for its patrons to save their pipes in freezing weather except by protecting them.

The ladies of the relief corps will give a calico ball at Liberty Hall this evening. The floor has been waxed and put in splendid condition for dancing. Refreshments will be served in the room adjoining the hall. The ladies of the corps are sparing no effort to make the affair a success and will be glad to see all their friends.

Great icicles hung from the bows of the Portland boats yesterday afternoon. They report coming down through Willamette slough, no ice in the Willamette, the Columbia solid above Vancouver, ice four inches thick floating in great quantities to a point below Astoria, lots of snow and cold wind all the way. They will leave up at the usual hour this morning.

According to the Port Townsend Argus the champion crank of the northwest is named W. D. McFarland and lives at Tacoma where he runs an educational tread mill. Among his pupils was a young lady named Miss Edith Jones, and her refusing to go without corsets so wrought upon McFarland's alleged mind that he sent the young lady home to Port Townsend with a letter "full of insults, complaints and snarlings."

The Columbia is due from San Francisco this morning; the State sails. Captain Gregory and his crew, of the Shubrick had prepared to tear from their berths all the clustering associations and tender memories that bound them in fond endearment to that old craft, and go to San Francisco on the State to bring up the Manzanita, but a telegram yesterday said the Madrona had not yet arrived there, so they will defer their departure till she does, which will probably be by the time the Columbia sails next Monday.

Know all men and one woman by these presents that when the snow is coming down at the rate of three minutes an inch, and the wind is blowing from the east cold enough to freeze the nose off a brass monkey that to carry the morning paper through the drifts and tuck it into your ear as you lie snug in bed is an impossibility, and if the wind blows the paper off your porch, or out of your box, blame the weather and not the carrier. The carrier is just as sorry to see this weather as you are, and has a hard enough time of it without being growled at.

The question of liquor licenses has been a fruitful subject of discussion since the passage of the bill raised the license fee to $300. It has been decided to make a test case at the present term of the circuit court, and thus settle the question one way or the other. It has been agreed to by District Attorney McBride and counsel for those objecting to the enforcement of the statute, and the matter will be brought before the grand jury, an indictment found, and the matter put through with all possible dispatch. The result of the case will be viewed with interest throughout the state.

Notice. A meeting of the Liquor Dealers' Union is called for at 2 o'clock this afternoon next door to the Telephone saloon. Important business will come before the meeting. All dealers are requested to attend.

By order Secretary. Ice Skates at Adler's. To the United States Restaurant for the best oysters. Private rooms.

BY TELEGRAPH.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND FIRM. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19.—President Cleveland told a Republican senator to-day that he denied the right of the senate to demand reasons for official removals. He would give no reasons, and would deny the request in every instance.

The president to-day approved an act legalizing the election of the Wyoming legislative assembly.

A TERRIBLE DEATH. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Keller, a paralyzed woman aged 68, while sitting alone by the fire to-day was terribly burned by her clothes catching fire. She was unable to move or speak, the chair burned under her. She lived seven hours after being found and died in terrible agony.

A TONGUELESS NEGRO. NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A negro here who had his tongue removed some time ago for cancer has, it is believed, permanently recovered. The case excites considerable interest among the medical profession.

NOTIOUS STRIKERS. Mt. Pleasant, Penn., Jan. 19.—Trouble still continues. The strikers here attacked the Alice coke yard and drove the men away. Work has been entirely abandoned.

ATTEMPTED RESURRECTION. NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—A strong effort is being made by a London syndicate to place confederate bonds on the stock board.

Mrs. Frank Leslie denies for Joseph Miller the charge that he neglected his daughter. She claims that he has given her money many times although she had a husband to support her.

SE. PETERSBURG, Jan. 19.—The police have uncovered a nihilist den and captured several persons, bombs, printing press and treasonable documents.

DUBUIN, Jan. 19.—Great alarm exists here for fear of a business depression as a general boycott will doubtless soon be inaugurated.

COMMON COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The city council met in adjourned session last evening, Mayor Trullinger in the chair; present Councilmen Bergman, Sherman, Cleveland, Sovey, Gratke and Carruthers. The application of Alex. Campbell for a liquor license was granted.

A communication from Bergman & Berry concerning assessment on a portion of their property was referred to street committee.

The following communication from Mayor Trullinger was read: To the honorable, the Common Council of the City of Astoria:

GENTLEMEN:—Having had my attention called to the prevalence in our city of scarlet fever and other contagious diseases, and to the fact that we are liable at any moment to have small-pox in our midst, and deeming it advisable to be always prepared for emergencies, I would respectfully recommend that your honorable body appoint a health officer, who, together with the mayor and committee on health and police, form a board of health of the city of Astoria. I also recommend that you elect a president of the council. Hoping that you will give this matter your early attention, I remain Yours respectfully, J. C. TRULLINGER, Mayor.

On motion of Councilman Cleveland the communication be received and complied with: carried.

Councilman Sovey asked if the office was in existence; it was stated that there was no regular salary, but the office when filled was paid at the discretion of the council. Councilman Bergman nominated A. A. Cleveland for president of the council. The vote was unanimous, Councilman Cleveland voting no. Councilman Cleveland thought the mayor should nominate the health officer. Mayor Trullinger placed in nomination Dr. W. D. Baker for the position of health officer. Councilman Sovey moved that further deliberation of the matter be laid over till next meeting: carried.

Mayor Trullinger directed the attention of the council to the matter of harbor dues and suggested that an ordinance be passed relative thereto. Councilman Cleveland moved that the matter be referred to the committee on wharves and water frontage and the city attorney, to be attended to at next meeting: carried.

An ordinance making an appropriation from the general and police funds to pay the expenses of the city of Astoria for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1885, was read third time and passed. (The ordinance appropriates $400 for board of prisoners; $5,000 for incidental expenses; $2,300 for street lights; $2,500 for interest on city bonds; $125 for stationery; $400 for printing and blanks; $3,620 for the support of the Astoria fire department; $10,000 for salaries of city officers; total, $24,345.)

An ordinance granting a liquor license to C. Everson brought up the matter of the new license law regarding the $300 license. With a few preliminary remarks, Councilman Cleveland moved that any gentleman present who wished to address the council regarding the matter be accorded the courtesy of a hearing. Mayor Trullinger suggested that District Attorney McBride be present at the time these remarks were made. While the chief of police was looking for the overseer of the dog catcher, poundmaster and other municipal officers.

An ordinance providing for the extension of a bond by any one desiring to obtain a liquor license was read first and second times and passed under suspension of the rules. On motion council adjourned.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

A Big Seizure of Opium.

PORT TOWNSEND, Jan. 18.—The cutter Wolcott is just in from Alaska with 3,100 pounds of seized opium, that had been cached from the Idaho. This is the biggest haul yet.

After the seizure of the opium on the Idaho here, some time since, Collector Beecher received information that opium was stored in Kaasun bay, Alaska, awaiting shipment to Portland or San Francisco. The collector at once telegraphed to Washington, asking that the revenue cutter Oliver Wolcott be sent to Alaska in search of the same. Orders to that effect were received by Capt. Moore, and on the 10th inst. the cutter left here on her cruise, accompanied by Collector Beecher.

She called at Departure bay and took on coal and Pilot Hicks. On Wednesday she anchored in Metlakatlah bay for eight hours, on account of a heavy gale. On Thursday at 10:15 she arrived at Kaasun bay and anchored, and the collector, accompanied by Lieut. Rhodes and eight men from the steamer, went ashore at the cannery. This cannery is said to be owned or leased by Capt. Carroll, of the Idaho, and was found in charge of two men, the foreman having gone to Wrangell to meet the Idaho. Fourteen barrels landed by the Idaho on the last trip, and said to contain furs, were opened and found to be filled with prepared opium. The cutter was at once signaled, and after considerable difficulty forced her way through the ice to the wharf.

The opium was taken on board and the cutter came at once to this place, arriving this morning. She had to force her way through ice to get out, the men at times having to get on floes and tow her.

The amount of opium seized amounts to 3,012 pounds, valued at over $45,000.

No doubt exists that this smuggling has been carried on for many years. A sloop was brought here and taken to Alaska some time since, which it is believed was to be used in connection with opium smuggling.
