ASTORIA, OREGON: THURSDAY, JANUARY 21, 1886

Ice skates at the New York Novelty store.

The Canby minstrels will appear at Liberty Hall to-night.

The Katahdin cleared for Antwerp yesterday with 63,537 bbs. wheat, valued at $48,600.

It was stated last evening that the grand jury would make their final report, and be discharged to-day.

Jos. Hume has purchased from King, Morse & Co., the Black Diamond cannery on the Sacramento river.

That story of the "heavy ice in Kasan bay" sounds a little fishy to those acquainted with those waters, though it certainly was "a cold day" for the Idaho.

The luckless Chinamen found additional worry in this sad world yesterday in going along the streets being pelted with snowballs till their upper works looked like the eaves of a house.

"Lots of canvas back ducks" are reported a short distance up the river. If so a lucky hunter could make big wages. They were quoted scarce at $2.50 a dozen in Portland a few days ago.

Some activity is reported among canneries and preparations have begun for the season's work.

The general impression is that the coming season will be a prosperous one. As yet the making of nets is about the only work done that amounts to anything.

To-night the Canby minstrels will give a good entertainment at Liberty Hall. This is said to be an A1 amateur company and their performances are highly spoken of.

Nearly 300 people were conasting on Main street last evening, and to midnight last night. The sport was enjoyed to the utmost.

Vivid lightning and loud thunder at 1:30 yesterday morning completed the freaks of the weather for that 24 hours.

River pilots report thick ice at Willow bar; the State and Columbia did good service in smashing through the ice in the channel.

Charles Taylor, a well known canneryman, died of heart disease in Portland at six o'clock last evening.

Through a special representative of Mr. M. B. Leavitt, of the Bush street theater, San Francisco, the management of Ross' opera house, yesterday arranged for a performance there on February 4th next.

Seldom has there been a more enjoyable party than the calico ball given by the ladies of the relief corps at Liberty Hall last night.

A Port Townsend dispatch says: The Idaho is due here on the 26th. There is every reason to believe that she will be seized and that legal complications will arise over the opium seizure, which is the largest one ever made in the United States.

Inspector Gardner played a very important part in bringing about this seizure, and feels justly proud to see his plan work out so well.

THE OPIUM SEIZURE.

Said one man who in earlier days had not been entirely disconnected with the steamship service on the Pacific coast: "The whole trouble is that they got over-confident. Just think of it! Trying to get a ton and a half of opium through at one time. You see the trouble is right here. This opium comes to San Francisco and then is taken in bond to Victoria, where it remains in bond. The treasury department always has secret service men at Victoria and it would be next to impossible for 3,000 pounds of opium to leave Victoria and they don't know it. There were just two places for it to go to—one was Port Townsend, the other was Alaska. Of course some one who had been on the inside must have told Beecher exactly where the opium was cached. The chances are that it was taken up by some small sailing vessel. That was the only crime committed. That was the smuggling—taking foreign goods into United States territory. If it can be proved that the Idaho carried the stuff to Alaska the vessel will without a doubt be seized by the government and sold."

YESTERDAY'S NEWS SAYS: F. N. SHURTLEIFF, collector of customs for this district, does not think Capt. Carroll is implicated, although appearances are against him.

LOST AND DAMAGED CARGOES.

A peculiar fatality appears to have attached to salmon cargoes in the past two seasons. Of the pack of 1884 two cargoes were lost, representing about ten per cent of the entire Columbia river pack.

Of the pack of 1884, the cargoes of the Kirkwood (52,804 cases) and Perthshire (11,890 cases) were total losses. Of the pack of the past season the cargo of the Rover of the Seas (16,916 cases) has been reported lost, the bark having foundered at sea.

The cargo of the Haddingtonshire (17,696 cases) was lost on the coast a few miles above the north head entrance to the harbor of San Francisco. The Prince Rupert, carrying a cargo of salmon and other merchandise from Victoria, (the salmon being of the pack of 1885) has been reported spoken at sea in a leaky condition. Her cargo was valued at $90,207. The cargo of the Rover of the Seas also was British Columbia fish. The following is a summary of the losses of the past two seasons.

(1884.) Kirkwood.....52,804 Perthshire.....11,890 Total (cases).....64,694 (1885.) Haddingtonshire.....17,696 Rover of the Seas.....16,916 Total (cases).....34,612 Total (both seasons).....99,306

The cargo of the Rover of the Seas was valued at $126,000. Allowing a value of $4 per case for the other cargo, the total loss for the two seasons is $455,560. To what extent the cargo of the Prince Rupert has been damaged is not known.—Cal. Grocer and Canner.
