Bank President (to cashier): "You look somewhat pale this morning." (Cashier): "I do not feel very well."
B. P.: "Nothing serious, I trust?" C.: "No. I've been vaccinated and it has taken, and it makes me feel quite feverish." B. P. (aghast):
"Been vaccinated?" C.: "Yes, sir." B. P. hurries to directors' room, enters, exclaiming: "Gentlemen, the small-pox is raging in Montreal, and our cashier informs me that he has just been vaccinated." Great consternation among directors. Immediate investigation ordered.

A Western minister, who paid a visit of condolence to the widow of one of his deacons, was shown the funeral wreath, which the forlorn "relict" described in broken accents as follows: "The red flowers were made of his red flannels; the white ones of his white flannels. The stamens were made of the coffin shavings, and the pistils of his beard.
The berries and buds were made of the pills that were left when he died, and the feathery part was made of the feathers of the last chicken dear James killed before he was taken ill."

Hansom Cab Driver (to fare, who has admired the horse): "Yes, sir, 'e is a beauty! You see my wife's brother is coachman to Lord Splashboard.
My Lord's out o' town. So I takes a small consideration 'n takes his stable in turn! (Lord Splashboard was the fare!)

A scientific writer says: "No power has yet been conceived to enable the human eye to see one of the atoms of matter." No wonder. That is what makes it so hard to find out what makes it so hard to find out.
It doesn't require any power to enable a human nose to smell an atom of musk, though.

"Herr Professor, how do you like my new tragedy?" "Very much, indeed. Especially the robbers—they are first rate. In fact they are the best thieves I ever heard of; even the words they speak are stolen from other books."

Doctor.—You need exercise; what is your employment? Patient.—I am a mason. Doctor.—But then you cannot lack exercise? Mason.—That depends. Sometimes, you know, we work by the day and sometimes by the job.

A lady wrote to the Old Testament revisers an earnest plea against change in one particular verse in Proverbs, because it had been a favorite, to quote her own words, "with both of my dear husbands who are now dead."

The entire business portion of a Western town was reported as destroyed by fire; and when a charity association made inquiry, to render some assistance, it was discovered that a solitary saloon had been swept away.

The best thing a real ignoramus can do is to become a drunkard.
Everybody will then observe what a smart man he would be if he would only let whisky alone, and thousands of lies will be told for his benefit.

Fred Archer is the most successful jockey in the world because he picks out winning horses before he mounts them. There would be some great doctors in the world if they could choose their patients.

A little girl having been reproached with disobedience and breaking the commandments of God, sighed and said to her mother: "Oh, mamma, those commandments break awfully easy."

When Minister Cox retired from the sultan's presence, he walked backward and bowed three times.
And no doubt, just as he went out, he slammed the door.

A man named Cannon, employed in a Pittsburgh foundry, went off the other day loaded to the muzzle, and on his return was promptly discharged.

"Waiter, you can bring me a nice young chicken smothered in onions."
"No, sah. We doesn't kill 'em dat way, sah. We cut off 'em heads."

A funeral is a tiresome preacher's opportunity. Turn him on to a large congregation, and he will make the mourners wish the party had never died.

An English clergyman advertises in a church paper his willingness to exchange a cassock, nearly new, for a bull pup with a good pedigree.

The man who went to the country for "rest and change" says the waiters got most of his change and the landlord the rest.

Cure For Piles.
Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs.
At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, together with uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanquet's Pile remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address
