

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: TUESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1886. SALISBURY ON IRELAND.

The ill-omened alliance between the Tories and the Parnellites has not lasted long. Conceived in fraud, sustained by insincerity, it naturally ends in collapse. The Tory premier puts in the queen's mouth the strongest possible denunciation of the policy to which Parnell is committed, and an unequivocal announcement that his remedy for Irish disorder is more coercion. "I shall look with confidence," says her majesty, "to your willingness to invest my government with all necessary powers to enable it to cope with the growing evils in Ireland."

There is one thing we never could understand, and that is, why a man in financial difficulty should commit suicide. A man gets in debt and can not pay. He gets nervous over the fact, becomes despondent, walks the floor of nights, and finally goes and kills himself. This is very absurd and illogical. Why does he not let his creditor get nervous, become despondent, walk the floor of nights, and kill himself? He is the man that's out of the money. He is the one to feel anxious.

The Tacoma News says: "The exodus of the Chinese from this city develops daily some indisputable facts of its beneficial effects on the city. Testimony of a cumulative character is fortified by the fact that where during the nine months prior to the Chinese 'git-up-and-git' there were sixty-one applicants for county relief. On the other hand, since their departure the county officers have only had occasion to listen to the statements of two persons seeking public aid."

In the second volume of "Twenty Years in Congress," Jas. G. Blaine is said to take strong grounds in favor of silver coinage. That great statesman couldn't do otherwise and be the man he is. If a silver dollar is good enough to pay workmen for wages, it is good enough to pay bondholders for interest.

the government with it; and again, in 1831, William IV dissolved parliament six months after it had been elected in order to give the people an opportunity of electing members pledged to a reform of the franchise. A dissolution at this time would probably result in an overwhelming majority of liberals.

THE Pioche, Nevada, Record says: "The mountains and desert on the Utah side of the line are again becoming alive with the brethren who have been transgressing the laws by taking more wives to their bosom than they are legally entitled to. While out hunting cattle the other day a rancher wandered over and out into the big desert, at the lake, where he discovered a caravan of the brethren, consisting of four wagon loads—a party of underground tourists hiding in the wilderness, while the officers of the law were seeking them through the small villages in the southern part of Utah."

WILL ADMIT WASHINGTON. WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—It is announced to-day that the senate committee on territories has decided to recommend the admission of Washington territory and spent a day in putting Mr. Voorhees's bill for the purpose into shape. The most important amendment will make some changes in the geographical next year. The committee makes the panhandle of Idaho a cut-off, and sticks it on to Washington. The present southern boundary of Washington is to be extended east to Salmon river, which is for the most part easterly in its course to the Bitter Root mountains. These mountains form a natural boundary between Montana and Idaho, and are to be the line between Montana and Washington. The tract of country north of Salmon river to the British possessions is nearly as large as Vermont and New Hampshire, and consists of three counties, including the Cœur d'Alene county and the Nez Percés. People out there have had to travel between 250 and 300 miles to attend their legislature, down at Boise City. As they live along the Northern Pacific they will find their new relations much more convenient for business. The committee is regarded as favorable to the admission of Montana as well as Washington.

WHAT IS SAID. It is said that Henry States, United States commissioner of the district of Alaska, has preferred charges against the collector of customs, Col. Peter French, at Sitka. These have been forwarded to secretary Manning, and accuse the Alaska collector of making $15,000 in a year illicitly by conniving with smugglers. The charges further state that it would be of great benefit to the service to have collector French removed. Mr. Coleman, who recently visited Alaska, says that Carroll's cannery, at Kasan's bay never paid even the expenses of the man who was employed as foreman. It is said to have been a failure from the start. He also says that Captain Carroll owns a controlling interest in the Idaho, Captain Carroll is the only man of all the steamship masters running into Portland who has a special license by which he is allowed to pilot the Idaho in and out over the Columbia river bar. All the other steamship captains are required to have pilots on the bar.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. The chamber of commerce met last evening and re-elected the following officers for the ensuing year: J. Q. A. Bowly, president; Dr. A. C. Kinney, vice-president; E. C. Holden, secretary; M. C. Crosby, treasurer. The president appointed Messrs. Gray, Tallant, Berry, W. W. Parker and W. E. Dement to serve as the executive committee. A special committee consisting of Messrs. Holden, Tallant, Crosby, Berry and Capt. Gray, was appointed to visit the recently constructed jetty at the mouth of the river and ascertain the effect of the severe stormy weather lately experienced on the works. The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were presented. A review of the work of the chamber during the past year indicates that it has been earnestly engaged in watching over and furthering the commercial interests, not only of Astoria, but the whole of the large territory comprising the Columbia river basin.
