A very funny incident occurred on an Ogden avenue car a few evenings ago, says a Chicago Mail contributor. I was hanging to a strap in the front end of the crowded car when a woman squeezed her way through the crowd with a baby in her arms all wrapped up and completely den from sight in a shawl, and stood herself up in an agonizing attitude, as if mutually reproaching for their selfishness the people who had seats. Then a gentleman arose and cavalierly waved the lady to a seat. When she had squared herself around, she began to loosen up her shawl-wrapped bundle. The gentle-man who had given up his seat was horrified when the frowsy head of a poodle dog was disclosed to view and the passengers who had ob-served her fusiness in getting comfortably settled set up a laugh that was full, able-bodied and satirical. The poodle-caresser looked first indignant, then annoyed and finally confused, and left the car at the next crossing to escape the jeers of her heartless fellow-passengers. "Talking about this seat relinquishment business," said a shrill, gimlet voice that was found to emanate from a very small man on the lower step of the front platform, "I played a good one on one of those nice, amiable women who think they own the earth as soon as they come in-side a street-car. He! he! I was sitting one evening last week wedged right in between a big man and a fair chunk of a woman when a lady came in who, I reckon, weigned about two hundred. She seemed to feel rather bad because some one didn't get right up and ask her to be seated. Then thought I'd have some fun. So I wiggled out of my inch and a hall space, and says:—

"'Have a seat, madam?"
"She smiled a thankful sort of smile, and turned around to sit down You see, I ain't no heavy weight, and only about two inches of space was visible on the seat. She looked at it sort of astonished, and then kind of sized herself up.

"' Did you sit there?' says she

"'Yes'm,' I says.
"'Well,' says she, 'I guess I ain't very tired.' Then everybody snickered good and hard, and two or three fellows went out on the platform to smoke. That gave her room enough to sit down."

"I got even in another way," said a man with a fierce mustache, who was bitting on a cigar for keeps "I gave my seat to a lady one day, and she didn't even look pleasant about it. Sort of sniffed, 'sthough it was regular and required by law. That made me wrathy.

"''Scuse me, madam,' I said, 'I think I dropped my purse on the seat.' She got up then, and I turned round and sat down as cool as icecream. Oh, she was mad; she had been insulted, and went and made a kick to the conductor. He said he couldn't do anything about it, and she got off at the next corner, 'cause everybody was guying her."

Hard on the Father-in-Law,

In India it costs more to get mar ried than to die. Expensive presents are bestowed, and the parents of the bride are often impoverished for life by the dowry which they give the bride. When a great wedding takes place troops of beggars and priests appear, and they must not be sent away empty-handed. At a recent marriage 10,000 people were sumptuously fed and presented with clothing money.

Cure For Piles.

Cure For Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some effection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like persoiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile remedy, which acts directly upon the parts ef which acts directly upon the parts effected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, O. Sold by J. W. Conn.
