

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: TUESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1887.

Regular council meeting to-night.

Legal blanks of all kinds at this office.

Theft and burglaries are nightly reported at Seattle.

The Corvina, which has been cruising along the Oregon and California coast, came in yesterday.

The Idaho left for Alaska yesterday morning; the Oregon came in at noon; the Queen sails this morning.

A fire at East Portland last Saturday night destroyed Jos. Burkhardt's packing establishment; loss, $8,000; insured.

Revival services will be held at the M. E. church every night this week, beginning to-night at 7 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

The legislature is organized and at work. What it will do is the subject of the delightful nature of a condrum that everybody must for the present give up.

Underwriters have offered $1,000 to any tug that will bring in the hull of the Bolivian brig Irene, recently abandoned at sea, 30 miles off Cape Flattery.

Sam'l Price died suddenly in Portland last Saturday night, of heart disease occasioned by dissipation. Deceased was a brother-in-law of Senator Mitchell.

High tides are predicted for to-day. It is to be hoped that they will be no higher than some last November, which proved so disastrous to some of Clatsop county's dikes.

Capt. Chas. F. Powell has ordered that repairs be made at the Tillamook Rock light house as soon as practicable. The Manzanita has the necessary materials aboard and will shortly land them, and a force of men at the rock.

In Seattle last week a small boy was fined $22.50 for striking a large man, referring to which the Times says: "The big man seems to be somewhat after the order of a big calf and appealed to the courts rather than spank the boy. We suppress names, not so much for charity's sake as for the reason that this community has of late fallen into the reprehensible habit of licking editors." This is the worst yet. Brace up and publish the names.

The Gloucester Net & Twine Co., whose Boston office is 96, Commercial street, advertise their wares. They are the proprietors of one of the largest and finest factories in the United States, located at Gloucester, which is believed to be the largest fishing port in the world. This factory is managed by one of experience. Wm. Stone, the president of the company, was the founder of the American Net & Twine Co., and was with that company forty-five years, and its late president. They solicit Pacific coast business.

The Astoria rainfall for three years, as recently published by THE ASTORIAN, is furnishing food for comment by our contemporaries in other and drier climes. That's all right. The rich, warm rain from the south, the genial, fruitifying showers that drop daily promise of abundant harvest are welcome to western Oregon and Washington. Scan our columns closely and note the absence of snowfall, or hailfall, or sleetfall, or freezefall, or cropfall. With some of our arid but esteemed cons, it is a case of sour grapes, and amid the burning heats of dusty summer and the deadly blizzards of arctic winter, they would doubtless appreciate one of our balmy breezes from the south, and the warm enfolding of the low lung cloud that bears life in its embrace.

Caps for a great many years have been in universal use by employes on the United States lighthouse tenders during the time that work was required to be done on the vessels. But, says the Telegram, recently the order of things has been changed, and hats have been substituted. At a meeting of the lighthouse board, held at Washington, September 24, it was ordered that a brown canvas hat, similar in shape to that now in use in the navy, be substituted for the cap of the working quit, used at present on the tender and light ships. A few days ago a number of these newly adopted hats were received here by the lighthouse inspector, and will be distributed among the crew of the Manzanita as soon as that vessel arrives here. More of these hats are expected to arrive soon as the present supply is inadequate to the demand.

Sam'l. Elmore is in Milwaukee. Mrs. Elmore accompanies him. They are visiting his father, R. P. Elmore, who was out here about three years ago on a visit. A reporter of the Milwaukee Sentinel has been interviewing the visitor from Astoria. The interview closes as follows: "Mr. Elmore is enthusiastic about the future of Astoria. The shipments of salmon from that place amount to 600,000 cases, representing a revenue of $3,000,000 from this source alone. A large proportion of the salmon is shipped to Liverpool by vessel direct from Astoria. Mr. Elmore thinks eventually Astoria will be the terminus of the Northern Pacific. It is the first port on the Columbia river, and the expensive towing bills for ships now going to Portland would be saved. The many Milwaukee friends of Mr. Elmore congratulate him on his successful business career."

The Oregon Legislature Organized.

Death of John Roach—General Eastern News Notes.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 10.—The senate organized to-day, by the election of J. C. Carson, of Multnomah, president; E. G. Hursb, of Douglas, chief clerk; C. A. Watts, of Linn, assistant clerk; T. C. Stephens, of Yamhill, sergeant-at-arms; J. H. McCormick, of Marion, doorkeeper. The house organized by the election of J. T. Gregg, of Marion, as speaker; A. C. Jennings, of Lane, as chief clerk; doorkeeper, J. P. Cole, of Clackamas; assistant clerk, Henry Rodger, formerly a member of the house from Douglas; sergeant-at-arms, Thos. G. Young, of Multnomah. The legislature then adjourned.

DEATH OF JOHN ROACH.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—John Roach, the great Chester ship builder, died at 8 o'clock this morning. The cancerous growth had eaten its way into the side of his neck below the angle of the jaw, involving the large arteries, which became liable to rupture at any moment. Roach was in great pain all day, and yesterday, to give him relief, large doses of morphia were injected. He was unconscious most of the time. In the few conscious moments he had, he spoke to his son Garrett, who was with him all the time. The young man remained with his father during the night. He occupied a seat by the bedside and helped the nurses, who applied soothing poultices and renewed injections of morphia every time the patient awakened. Only a few intimate friends of the family were admitted to the house yesterday, but nobody other than the physicians was allowed to see Roach. The deceased leaves a widow, and three sons and one daughter, all grown.

A MILLION ACRE.

SUPERIOR CITY, Wis., Jan. 10.—Alex Crawford, a well known Duluth iron manufacturer, has received notice that by the death of a cousin named James Thompson, in Ballarat, Australia, a fortune of nearly $5,000,000 has been left to him and his four brothers, giving them nearly $1,000,000 each. Crawford has not seen his cousin for forty years.

A TIE UP IN DO-TON.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—A general tie up upon the consolidated horse railroads occurred here this morning, pursuant to an action of a meeting of employes which adjourned at 3:30 o'clock this morning. The roads comprise the Middlesex and Highland lines connecting Walden, Everett, Charlestown and Somerville with Boston and the Boston Highland districts. All the employes, including the conductors, drivers, hostlers, horse shoers, feeders and tow boys are participating. The exact grievances of the men are not known, but the trouble is believed to be caused by a failure of President Powers to keep his part of an agreement recently made with the men.

A BOOM FOR ROSCOE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The World comes out this morning and calls upon Republicans to unite with the Democrats and elect Roscoe Conkling United States senator.

DEAD.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Elam R. Jewett, formerly a prominent journalist of Buffalo, and at one time proprietor of the Commercial Advertiser, died at his suburban residence at Wilton Lawn, shortly after midnight Sunday, aged 76 years.

WON'T ALLOW IT.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Judge Barrett, in the supreme court to-day, denied a motion for a change of venue in the case of Jacob Sharpe, indicted for bribing aldermen to pass the Broadway railway franchise.

Has Returned.

Miss R. W. Brown has returned from Portland and is now prepared to receive her pupils and friends at the studio, Room 2 over the City Book Store. In addition to the plush and oil painting, etc., she is now prepared to teach pastel and painting on china. The china can be fired in Portland, Miss R. having made arrangements to that effect.

At the request of many patrons Miss Brown has decided to take a children's class, which will meet every Saturday morning, beginning next Saturday.

County Court Proceedings.

The county court met for the first time yesterday in its new room in the rear of the county clerk's office, a much more convenient and comfortable apartment than the old one. Present, Hon. C. H. Page, judge; E. C. Crow and J. Naruburg, county commissioners; C. J. Trenchard, clerk, and W. G. Ross, Sheriff. Some protracted business was transacted, Jacob Moore and D. P. Ross were admitted to citizenship.

The case of C. W. Fisher, applicant for a retail liquor license came up, a remonstrance against granting the license being presented. The case was represented by C. B. Watson for the remonstrants, and Falton Bros. for the applicant. The case occupied the attention of the court the most of the afternoon and was taken under advisement. Court adjourned till nine o'clock this morning.

A Little Matter of Charge.

From the last issue of Mr. A. F. Parker's paper, the Idaho county Free Press, published at Grangeville, we clip the following: "Local notices inserted among reading matter will be charged at the rate of one dollar a line for the first insertion and fifty cents for each subsequent insertion."

Old and New Shaft.

Some time last summer the discovery was made that there was a slight flaw in the shaft of the steamer Telephone. Capt. Scott naturally supposed that the shaft was a deep one and that the shaft was liable to snap asunder when subject to a heavy strain. He sent east and had a large shaft (one foot and one inch in diameter) brought out. Meantime the shaft in use on the steamer did not break, but continues to present writing "holding its own." Capt. Scott is determined to be prepared for any emergency, so he had the new shaft taken to the iron works, turned down to its proper bearings and the flanges and cranks attached. Should the old shaft be twisted off, the new one can be placed in position without delay.

Proper Treatment for Coughs.

That the reader may fully understand what constitutes a good Cough and Lung Syrup, we will say that Tar and Wild Cherry is the base of the best remedies yet discovered. These ingredients with several others equally as efficacious, enter largely into Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup, thus making it one of the most reliable now on the market. Price 50 cts. and $1.00. Samples free. Sold by J. W. Conn.

A Useless Task.

Without disrespect to this legislature or to any former one, the Oregonian has to say that long ago it learned the uselessness of making any suggestions in regard to legislation.—Oregonian.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own household work. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain."

THE A. O. U. W.

On the 4th inst. Dr. Jas. Brown, P. G., medical director A. O. U. W., delivered an address in Portland on the growth, progress and standing of the order, from which the following is an extract:

Mr. Upehurch, on the 3d of November, 1868, instituted Jefferson lodge No. 1, at Meadville, under the name and title of The Ancient Order of United Workmen. The order thus organized has never had any political bias, nor has it ever formulated for itself any religious creed. It simply enjoins upon its members honesty, sobriety, benevolence and charity, and requires them to aid in procuring employment for an unemployed brother, to relieve the distressed, to help the destitute, to care for the sick, to bury the dead and to protect the widow and orphan.

The growth of the order during the first few years of its existence was slow. On the 21st of August, 1871, it numbered but 400 members. (This was the date of the first death in the order, and the widow of the deceased brother received from its beneficiary fund $400.)

On Aug. 27, 1871, the order had 400 Members. On Aug. 29, 1873, the order had 3,839. On March 10, 1874, the order had 4,101. On March 16, 1875, the order had 5,800. On March 21, 1875, the order had 14,900. On March 29, 1877, the order had 25,000. On March 18, 1879, the order had 35,000. On Dec. 31, 1879, the order had 74,897. On Dec. 31, 1880, the order had 91,402. On Dec. 31, 1881, the order had 108,598. On Dec. 31, 1882, the order had 114,728. On Dec. 31, 1883, the order had 129,127. On Dec. 31, 1884, the order had 143,227. On Dec. 31, 1885, the order had 155,000. On Dec. 31, 1886, the order had 170,000.

The rapidity of this growth is probably without parallel in the history of kindred societies. Lodges of the order are now found in almost every state and territory of the Union and in the provinces of British America, and it is no exaggeration to say that their influence is felt from ocean to ocean and from the lakes to the gulf.

The order was introduced on the Pacific coast in 1875 by Grand Recorder Pratt, of California, who in August of that year instituted a lodge at West Oakland. Three years later (1878) the order found its way to Oregon. Hope Lodge, No. 1, (the lodge which presides here to-night, and one of the five lodges whose officers are to be installed) was instituted on the 10th of August, 1878, by Mr. Oliver, since deceased. In this grand jurisdiction, which embraces Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, there are now eighty-three lodges, with an aggregate membership of 3,600. The first grand lodge was held in this city on the 4th and 5th of March, 1879, I. W. Case, of Astoria, being elected grand master.

(List of grand masters of this jurisdiction: Case, Abell, Hare, Child, Bradshaw, Handley, Dorris, Brown) Of the eighty-three lodges, Industry, No. 8, has the largest membership, 180; Seaside Lodge, No. 12, of Astoria, has the next largest, 165. (Grand Recorder Wheeler informs me that Seaside Lodge, No. 12, received more new members during the past year than any lodge in the jurisdiction.)

The A. O. U. W. in this jurisdiction, as elsewhere, is making for itself a brilliant record. Here, as elsewhere, it is growing in popularity and influence, and its membership from year to year, though less rapid than in California and New York, is healthy and promising.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery

Capt. Coleman, sear. Weymouth plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough, so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his throat. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size.

Deep Sea Fishing on the Sound.

Capt. Williams, of the Old Town cannery, said to-day that so far his experiments in deep sea fishing had not been entirely satisfactory. The places in which the net has been cast have been Gig harbor, in the west passage and along the shore of the Sound from Port Blakely to Port Madison. In all of these places the bottom of the Sound has been found too rocky and uneven for the fishing to be what it should be to make the business profitable. In a few days the captain will try the waters along the east shore of the Sound, from Point Brown north, and will see if a smooth bottom can not be found there. W. T. Faltens, recently from Chicago, is trying experiments in deep sea fishing with gill nets. So far his operations have only met with moderate success.—Tacoma, News.
