

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, JANUARY 15, 1887

BELVA A. LOCKWOOD comes to the front with a prediction that the following presidential tickets will be in the field in 1888: Democrat, Grover Cleveland and Samuel J. Randall; Republican, James G. Blaine and John Sherman; Labor, Henry George and Terence V. Powderly; Prohibition, Frances Willard and John P. St. John.

STATISTICS—and how cold and remorseless statistics are—prove that Minneapolis and St. Paul, those marvels of municipal growth, are growing at Chicago's expense. The great city of the lake is almost at a standstill as far as its commercial life is concerned and the Chicago journals are fully alive to the unwelcome fact.

THE shivering editor of the Minneapolis Tribune says, "The New Year comes in like a Polar bear." Why, no, it doesn't. The New Year comes in like a spring lamb, or a smile from the south, or a warm kiss, or a gleam of sunshine, or a fragrant bouquet, or a radiant rainbow, or a genial friend, or a playful child or like lots of other welcome things. But no Polar bear in the Astoria New Years. No indeed.

A WASHINGTON telegram says: "It is understood that the negotiations with the Chinese government, to which allusion was made in the President's message, for such a modification of existing treaties as will absolutely prevent the introduction of Chinese coolie labor into this country, have just been brought to a successful termination, and that in a few days an amended treaty, covering this point, will be submitted to the senate for ratification by the state department."

IN answer to the charge of Henry George that; "If land were free to those who wanted to use it there would be no glut in the market or cry of over production," the New York World asks: "How happens it, then, that with the land only moderately free—going to those who want it at $1.25 an acre—there has been for two years past a surplus of some 20,000,000 bushels of wheat carried over, and so full a production of other farm products that the agriculturists have made very little profits?"

Bender; same. Jury excused till Monday, the 17th inst., at ten A. M. Stewart Smith vs. Gorlier and McEwan; 10 days to answer. State vs. John Boyd; till to-morrow to plead. The jury in the case of C. J. Anderson vs. J. F. Bender, brought in a verdict for defendant. Court adjourned to 10 A. M., Jan. 15th.

Mrs. Cleveland's $10,000 Bust.

Everything that represents Mrs. Cleveland, the president's wife, seems to have interest to the millions of people in this country. Her photographs are sold everywhere, and the photographers tell me they all make money by them. An enterprising plaster-cast molder has made a small bust of the first lady in the land, and they are sold about the city of Washington for a good price, but now the government has gone into making likenesses of the fair mistress of the White house. The old and mutilated bank notes, when they come back to the United States treasury, are chopped up and made into a pulp, and this is molded into various shapes and forms. The latest design is a miniature bust of Mrs. Cleveland. It takes $10,000 worth of bank notes to make one of the president's fair wife, and each figure is labeled: "Made from mutilated United States bank notes worth $10,000." These are sold for a fair price, and are having a good sale.—Baltimore American.

Renews Her Youth. Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own household work. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50c. at W. E. DeWent & Co.'s Drug Store.

Syrup of Figs. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co. San Francisco Cal. is Nature's Own True Laxative. This Pleasant liquid fruit remedy may be had of W. E. DeWent & Co. at fifty cents or one dollar per bottle. It is the most pleasant, prompt and effective remedy known, to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels gently yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion and kindred ills.
