The impression prevails in the minds of many of our eastern friends that in this "Web'oot" country the rainfall of the year must exceed that of any other state. From tabulated statements the Albany Herald shows that the average yearly rainfall in the New England states is 47.85 inches. middle Atlantic states 46.42, south Atlantic states 59.01, gulf states 55, Ohio valley states 49.39, while in Oregon the average yearly rainfall for the last six years is about 44 inches.

S. K. Stanley's Chicken Ranch.

S. K. Stanley, of the Seaside, gives, in his hennery or "chicken ranch," a good example of what industry and application can do in the raising of poultry as a paying business. He has a place fitted up with especial reference to his business, and employs belp all the year round. At present he only has a few hens, about 1,400 or 1,500, but in the summer time there are several hens and chickens to be found around Mr. Stanley's place. He makes a specialty of supplying fresh eggs to the Astoria market, and if any one who buys a dozen of eggs from his place should find a bad one in the dozen, it will be remarkable as being the first instance of the kind hens don't cost much, it only takes the constant care of three men, and a little matter of expense, of which four tons of wheat per month and from four to five tons of turnips a month form a part of the bill of fare. and fresh eggs.

Jumped the Game.

On Tuesday morning, as the Tele phone was backing off from Kalama, a sailor, who was on his way to join a ship at Astoria, jumped overboard and swam ashore, preferring a cold duck in the river to a hot bath aboard ship. He stated to a reporter of the drugs, was induced to sign the usual The present term of the circuit aboard the steamer for Astoria. PITTSBURG, Jan. 19.—The baggage ear attached to the New York limited express arrived here last night almost blown to pieces by dynamite, or some other terrible explosive, a few miles east of Altoona, Pennsylvania. The baggage master, Harvey Mingue, who was in the car at the time, was badly hurt. A trunk was put on the train at Duncan, n ar Harrisburg, and was checked to Pittsburg. Mingus, while arranging the trunks in the car, picked up a small, ordinary trunk and threw it on top of the other baggage. An explosion followed which lifted the top of the car as though made of paper and scattered the fragments in all directions. The shock was terrible; it startled the engineer and train men, and also at-gers. When found the baggage car had been almost blown to pieces.

The greatest excitement prevailed. The train was stopped and the baggage transferred to another car Mingus is seriously injured, but will recover. The brakeman who was in the car at the time, escaped by being by A. Balmanno. thrown behind the stack of trunks. The damaged car was side tracked and the train then proceeded on its way. The Pennsylvania railroad officials have determined to sift the matter to the bottom. The owner of the trunk was arrested when he presented the check for it at the baggage room this morning. He said he was a Hungarian coal miner, named John Kagman: that he came from Hasleton in search of work and strenuous ly denied that he had had any explosive in the trunk. He claims that FORBIDS THE BANNS CHICAGO, Jan. 19.-Sheriff Mabon declares that he will not permit the marriage of the condemmed anarchist Spies and the young woman named Van Zandt to occur so long as Spies remains in jail, under his charge. The sheriff expresses surprise that the parents of the girl should allow her to visit the condemned criminal. When Miss Van Zandt appeared at the jail this morning she was refused admittance by the guards, as orders had been issued to allow no one to see the anarchists.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, there-by giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsis and Liver Complaint, and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps, the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries.
