ASTORIA, OREGON.
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1897.

The legislature adjourns finally, at ten o'clock Friday night.

The Columbia arrived yesterday from San Francisco; the Oregon sailed.

The British ship Andrada, 1,708, from Montevideo, came in yesterday; the Hornby Castle sailed.

"No thoroughfare" on the road beyond Trullinger's mill, the road to Uniontown being blocked at present.

The "First National bank" of Spokane Falls has been started. By a singular anomaly it is also the last one.

The snow lingers in pools of slush along the street. Such unpleasant traveling in this vicinity has not been seen since the last time, over a year ago.

The ladies of Grace church will have a sociable at the residence of Mrs. Dr. Trephard next Monday evening, the 21st inst., to which a general invitation is extended.

At Temple Lodge No. 7, A. F. & A. M., last evening the degree of Master Mason was conferred, after which P. G. M. Geo. McD. Stroud, grand lecturer of the Grand Lodge of Oregon, delivered an address.

At a meeting of the Portland board of trade last Monday evening, a letter was read from Congressman Hermann, in regard to the status of the appropriation of the $5,000 to lay cable from Astoria to Fort Canby. He considers the prospects for securing the appropriation favorable.

Sheriff Ross desires that every one who has not yet paid taxes due for 1896 make immediate payment and thus avoid inevitable expense on delinquency. All whose taxes remain unpaid must expect to find added costs which can only be avoided by prompt payment.

Letters are held at the postoffice for postage, directed to M. P. Callender, Knapppton; P. O. Pickering, Augusta, Maine; H. Fisher, Portland, Or.; Miss O. Jarvy, Marshfield, Or.; (2); Whitman Bros. 524 Sansome St., San Francisco; E. S. Jenson, Riverside, Or.; Jno. Egly, Washougal, W. T.

Yesterday's Oregonian has a puzzle that it says Portlanders are going crazy over. It is a diagram of 36 supposed prison cells, which a prisoner has to pass through, being given his freedom if he passes through each cell only once. The puzzle is very easy. Three or four Astorians worked it out about a week ago. The catch is in "passing through" the first cell "a," in which he has been placed.

Chas. Gunderson lives in the first house south of the Catholic church. Last Monday evening, he, his wife and two children went to a relative's to pass the evening. They left at seven and returned at ten o'clock. Yesterday morning they noticed something unusual and upon examination found that a tin box containing two warranty deeds, a life insurance policy and sixty dollars, a child's saving bank containing $22.75, and a music box had been stolen. There appears to be no clue to the robbers.

Dr. Harmon, oculist, is at Room 11, Occident hotel. All those wishing his professional services will engage themselves accordingly. Dr. Harmon has cured quite a number of cases of chronic sore eyes heretofore considered incurable. He is said to thoroughly understand all diseases of the eye and is honest enough to tell you at the start whether or not he can effect a cure. He also carries with him a stock of glasses, suited to all eyes, and if you are in need of glasses he will fit you a pair that will exactly suit your eyes.

Swans are very scarce this season. Usually about this time of year those huge birds can be got up the river in great quantities. A swan when properly dissected and salted down, about two to a keg, comes in very nice with salmon bellies. A party of hunters go on the Montesano at six o'clock this morning to Woody Island as a committee of investigation to see why the swans shirk their duty in refusing to come out of their native lairs and be killed, as usual. Among the party are C. H. Cooper, J. F. McGovern, T. S. Jewett, B. F. Stevens, W. W. Wherry, C. T. Thomas, Frank Tuttle and M. S. Monteith.

Last Friday's ASTORIAN had an item regarding one Christian Ayons, who left here with some provisions in a skiff for Knappa the Friday before and had not since been heard of. Yesterday Angus Gor got a letter saying that the unfortunate man had been found the day before at Harrington's point—dead. Everything was in the boat just as he left Astoria, except one oar and rowlock, which were gone. He was sitting stiff, between the thwart and cold and stiff, his eyes open and glassy. It is supposed he went to sleep and became numb and weak from exposure. A coroner's inquest was held yesterday, the result of which was not learned.

THE FUNNY SIDE OF IT.

A good many years ago the gathering of local items for this family journal was told by a wise old man that if he (he w. o. m.) could have just one little privilege from the Giver of all good, it would be the gift of indifference; the power to treat with indifference all the little slurs and sneers and stings; and ignore or overlook all the annoyances and worries of life. It would be a good thing; but it is unobtainable. Probably the best thing one can do under the circumstances is to look at the funny side of life, to see the ridiculous aspect of affairs; and in this way one will often be able to laugh, when otherwise he would feel vastly different.

Especially is this the case when he runs across people who won't be pleased, who are determined to disagree; who would like you and all your tribe lots better if you would only give them some cause to kick up a row with you, and if you decline or omit to give them such cause they'll have the row anyhow; right there is where the laugh comes in. The idea of anyone enjoying hard words and scowling glances; the ridiculous position in which such people place themselves, frowning in the face of smiling Nature, is always ludicrous.

It is not worth while wasting time or breath on such people. That is their way of seeing enjoyment; they just don't know any better. The best way is to laugh at them and let them pass, along with book agents, and oars, and the man that leaves the door open, and other little annoyances of life.

A case in point is given in illustration.

Last summer, shortly after election, Gov. elect Penney came on a visit to Astoria. The Casino troupe were aboard and were to play at Ross' opera house that night. The governor-elect was to be there. Astoria and Clatsop county had given the Democratic standard bearer a majority and that, of itself, made him of sufficient importance to pay him attention. So when Mr. Penney stepped out on the balcony of the Occident hotel to make a speech, a shorthand reporter was at his elbow; every word he said was taken down; the notes were written out, and by seven o'clock were on the cases of the compositors in the ASTORIAN office. By eight o'clock a proof of the article was ready; it was read, "revised" was taken, which was carried up to Gov. Penney where he sat in his box looking at the play. That gentleman read it, made two slight alterations in punctuation, and handed it back with complimentary reference to the accuracy with which his remarks had been reported. The speech appeared in the ASTORIAN the next morning. When the local reached the office that morning he found an offensive partisan who was prancing around at a great rate, and who at once wanted to know what in sheet and condemnation was meant by printing such stuff and saying Penney spoke it. He knew a blessed sight better; he'd been right there; right there, sir, and heard every word Penney said, and it was a blank shame for the ASTORIAN to go to work and print what it did and say the governor made those remarks.

The speech was a very good speech of the kind, and was correctly and accurately reported. But it would have been useless to become vexed with the growler, and it would have been cruel to show him what a consummate behew he had made of himself, so the local just laughed at him. Somehow or other it seemed to tense him more to be laughed at than had the other fallen into his fancy and started to explain or show that he was right.

These growlers serve a good purpose. They show what a terrible revenge the Almighty takes on them and such as they who are in a quarrel with Him for having things as they are. He twists their intestines into a hard knot, squeezes the last drop of the milk of human kindness out of their caked anatomies and permits them to drag themselves around for a few miserable years as object lessons of warning to those who are in danger of forgetting that one of the best rules of life is to "Bear and forbear."

Unnecessary Misery.
Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. HAMBURG FIGS were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents. At all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co., proprietors, S. F.

No Time for Another Investigation.

A writer in the East Oregonian makes the strong statement that no respectable woman will hold a clerkship for the Oregon legislature; that a number of the female clerks are simply mistresses of members, and that during the regular adjournments from Friday till Monday, some of the "lady clerks" provided with railroad passes follow their legislative "friends" to Portland, where forty-eight or more hours are spent hilariously by the parties.—Welcome.

What True Merit Will Do.
The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the fastest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is so widely sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75c. large bottles.

THE "DAWN" PROBABLY SAFE.

A Pleasing Piece of News For Our Readers.

ROSENBERG, Or., Feb. 15.—The telegraph operator at Empire City writes under date of February 13, that there was a steamer outside with a small steamer in tow. He thinks it was the Santa Maria with the Dawn. Each of them had signals of distress flying; they could not go in on account of the rough bar, and no tug being on hand they went south.

A Case of General Interest.

While civil suits, attachments, garnishments, etc., are of daily occurrence in justice courts, they are rarely of sufficient interest to the public to call for much newspaper publicity. But a case was decided in Justice Cleveland's office yesterday which from the principle involved is worthy of passing notice. In brief the case is this: C. W. Hansen, of the Globe saloon, brought suit in the justice court against M. Yocum, for goods, wares and merchandise sold and delivered to Yocum, and mostly consumed on the premises, to the amount of $67.20. When presented with the bill he did not at first decline to pay, but promised to liquidate at some convenient opportunity. On mature reflection, however, he refused to pay and suit being brought, his wages as fireman on the tug Columbia were attached, and the amount due him was garnished.

When the case came up again his lawyer set up the plea in extenuation that his client was a mariner sailing the high seas, and as such, his wages could not be attached.

Justice Cleveland was not exactly clear as to that being good law, and went to consult Judge Dendy, the fountainhead and repository of much of Webster jurisprudence. The judge said that such was the law; that anyone employed in any capacity on board any craft entered in the custom house, whether they signed shipping articles or not, were exempt from the usual legal process at the hands of creditors, served on ordinary land lubbers who must pay for what they get. Fortified and sustained by this assurance, Justice Cleveland felt no hesitancy in complying with the mandates of the statute book and administering the law as he found it, so, yesterday, the case was disposed of as follows: The motion for discharge of attachment was sustained, but judgment rendered in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $67.20, and interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent. per annum, from September 9th, 1895, and costs of action.

As it stands, plaintiff has judgment for amount claimed, but defendant's wages can't be attached.

There appears to be a large 7x9 moral attached to the workings of the law, and while mariners are always good pay, there is no attachment law in Oregon that will hold good against any one who claims to be a mariner and substantiates the claim.

'Tis an Ill Wind That Blows Nobody Good.

It is estimated that the recent cold weather has saved to the circulating medium of the city $10,000, the amount which would have been sent out of the Dalles for a supply of ice. —Dalles Times-Mountaineer.

Important to Ladies.

Read what Jeannie Winston, Portland's favorite prima donna, says of Wisdom's Robotine:

PORTLAND, Dec. 22, 1896.
To Mr. W. M. Wisdom.—The "Robotine" you so kindly sent me is excellent. It is the finest preparation I have ever used, and is a decided acquisition to a lady's toilet.

Yours truly,
JEANNIE WINSTON.
The above is published in order to settle all doubts and disputes as to the existence of such an endorsement, and as evidence of the high esteem in which Wisdom's Robotine is held. This preparation has been before the public but a short time, yet the sale has been extraordinary. Wisdom's Robotine is for sale by all the leading druggists.

A CHILD'S SKIN.

Ears and Scalp Covered with Eczematous Scabs and Sores Cured by Cuticura.

MY little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Underneath these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or a scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that my statement is true and without exaggeration.

CHARLES MCKAY, Peabody, Mass.

I have seen Mr. McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has felt our best physicians, and did all a father could for him, but he was not cured. I have seen him in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or a scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and wish all similarly afflicted to know that my statement is true and without exaggeration.

WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY, 33 Foster St., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than any other skin remedies I have ever handled during the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist. A. D. THOMAS, Astoria, N. Y.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful and delicate envelope, which lines the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it cuts into the very vitals, and renders life but a long and weary dream of misery and disease, dulling the sense of bearing, trammeling the power of speech, destroying the focus of smell, trampling the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it sculpts the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, stagnation and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviations are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal Administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly destroyed."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of VAPORAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.
