THE LIQUOR LICENSE BILL

Passes the Senate After Some Debate.
SALEM, Feb. 16.—The Watts liquor license bill, which was under discussion when the morning session of the senate adjourned, was called up at 2 p. m. Watts moved that the bill be amended —that the license be $300 instead of $500, as $300 was the uniform license in incorporated cities all over the state. The bill had been before the judiciary committee, and had they reported $300, there would have been no objections.
Chandler moved that the bill be reported back to the gentleman from Yamhill with leave to report at 8 o'clock to-night.
Watts said this meant defeat, and he hoped it would not prevail. It did not.
Weatherford said there was a serious question whether or not this bill should pass now. There was too much legislation in it.
We had had too much experience of that kind before. It mentioned gambling and liquor sold for medicinal purposes. This was a cloak by which druggists could sell liquor without any license. He would ten to one rather have a dozen open saloons than one drug store selling behind a prescription counter. He was afraid this would go like the Keady law. He was in favor of the suggestion of Senator Hare—let's wipe it out altogether, or else let them all come under the same law. He thought an amendment made to the old law, which had stood on the statute books for many years past, increasing the license from $100 to $300, would fit the case. The old law had been frequently construed by the supreme court.
Watts said the whole trouble was these amendments. That had always been the trouble and what the supreme court had objected to.
If you had left the Keady law as it originally was it would have been a law to-day.
Weatherford said the trouble was that the amendments by Siglin to the Keady law had not been placed there. If the amendments had, the Keady bill would have been a bill to-day. This was what caused it to be held null and void.
Siglin said: This appears to be a rather troublesome and hard question to meet. So far as the evils of the liquor traffic are concerned, it is hardly necessary to say a word. Men who drink and men who don't drink understand that. The principal trouble is how to regulate it. The Keady law, as amended in the senate, was "one gallon," and in the house "one gallon," except that it appeared on the senate journal "one quart." Somebody tampered with the records of the senate after we went home. I don't know who it was.
Taking into consideration the prohibition amendment to be voted upon, would it not be better to let the old state law stand until this was decided. The Keady law having been declared unconstitutional, the old law, which had stood for fourteen years, would come into effect. It was questionable whether it would not be better to let this stand until the constitutional amendment was decided. This was the question, and a serious question. If you leave it as it is, you have the old law you have had for years. If the constitutional amendment is adopted, you have entirely new liquor legislation to meet. It the constitutional amendment is defeated, make a stringent liquor license. This bill says you shall not have a saloon within a mile of a school house; but, bless you, there are a dozen saloons in my county within a mile of a school house, where you can get as drunk as you want to. I never voted against temperance bills in my life, but I don't know what to do about this question. I think I will have to dodge into a committee room and avoid the question.
Dimick said he hoped no one would dodge his vote by going into a committee room.
Rinehart objected to that part of the bill which provided that no saloon be established within one mile of a school house, and asked that this section be stricken out.
Coleman said he objected to the manner of amending the bill.
Shupe said he wanted the bill voted on now. As a member of the committee who framed the bill he would say they did their best to frame a bill that would suit the people. They did not expect a bill that would please everybody, or every senator on the floor.

The bill passed. Ayes—Allen, Bird, Cartwright, Cauthorn, Chamberlin, Dawson, Dimick, Emmett, Hare, Irvine, Lee, Looney, Shupe, Veatch, Williams, Wager, Watts, Carson. Noes—Barin, Coleman, Gray, Miller, Rinehart, Simon, Stanley, Weatherford. Absent—Chandler, Gray, Steel. Blank—Siglin.

A Dynamite Devil Finally Arrested.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—About 4 o'clock this morning the police arrested J. E. Stite, on Hyde street, with a dynamite bomb. He had been suspected for some time and his house was closely watched.
He came out this morning and the police gave chase, when he dropped a bomb in the yard of a private residence and started to run, but was captured after a lively chase.
Dynamite caps and loose dynamite were found in his pockets. The bomb secured contained a pound and a half of dynamite so arranged as to explode when struck by a wheel. His room was searched and dynamite and appliances for making bombs were found. H. C.
Deans was arrested as an accomplice. The evidence is strong against both.

Physicians Have Found Out That a contaminating and foreign element in the blood, developed by indigestion, is the cause of rheumatism. This settles upon the sensitive sub-cutaneous covering of the muscles and ligaments of the joints, causing constant and shifting pain, and aggravating as a calcareous, chalky deposit which produces stiffness and distortion of the joints. No fact which experience has demonstrated in regard to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has stronger evidence to support this, namely, that this medicine of comprehensive uses checks the formidable and atrocious disease, nor is it less positively established that it is preferable to the poisons often used to arrest it, since the medicine contains only salutary ingredients.
It is also a signal remedy for malarial fevers, constipation, dyspepsia, kidney and bladder affections, debility and other disorders. See that you get the genuine.

lisle as secretary of the treasury.

Diphtheria.
"I am living in a neighborhood surrounded with Diphtheria and was attacked with Ulcerated Sore Throat. I at once commenced to use Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, diluted about one half as a gargle, when great clots of hard membrane and mucous came from my throat, and the attack passed off. I am satisfied of its efficacy as a preventive and cure for Diphtheria."
