Burdette, the humorist of the Bur lington Hawkeye, gives the follow-ing illustration of the long and short ing illustration of the long and short haul business: "Anybody ought to know that it is the short haul that costs the most. You see I am sitting in a railway parlor car down in Maine, writing a postal card to a friend in Oregon. Now, if I can get that card to the mail car, only seven car lengths absed of me the govern. car lengths ahead of me, the govern-ment will carry it 3,000 miles for one cent. That is the long haul. But it costs me a quarter to get the porter to carry it to the postal car. That's the short haul. Then the porter loses it on his way or for-gets all about it. That's the shrink age. And there you have the whole transportation problem in a nutshell."

Sec. 155 of the charter says: "The mayor and councilmen are not en-titled to and must not receive any salary or compensation for their official services, nor shall they, or any of them, be in any way interested in any contract made with or on behalf of the city during their term of of-fice." But it any one of them finds that his position interferes with his securing or retaining any such contract, there is nothing to prevent his resigning and thus having the same business privilege as any other private citizen.

Last night's mail brought THE As TORIAN the New York Tribune and New York Clipper almanacs for '87, a little late by reason of eastern mail detention, but none the less welcome. The Tribune almanac, as usual, is of great value. Its chief merit to a newspaper office is its accuracy, and its political information makes it worthy of a place in any newspaper office in the Union. The Clipper al-manace is the "boss" for reference to records in the sporting world and is handy to settle disputes and questions that arise occasionally.

Major J. B. Brockenborough, government land agent, has brought suit at the Oregon City land office, says the Democrat, against Dean Blanch-ard on the ground that the timber land he took up on the Columbia river was agricultural land. The witriver was agricultural land. The wil-nesses on both sides number together about two dozen. Last week they besieged the land office several days and this week the trial has another fit. The testimony is taken down in long hand by a young lady, which will be voluminous when the wit-nesses are talked out. The trial is pleasant to the boarding houses there.
