

The Daily Astorian, ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1885. The Oregon arrived from San Francisco yesterday; the State sailed. It is plain that the engine of Astoria No. One needs a new boiler, and the quicker the sooner. From what our eastern Oregon exchanges say we ought not to be more than ten cents a pound next summer.

It is thought to be not improbable that the tug Columbia will be taken to Cose Bay by Capt. McGee, next month. Pilots and river men say that take it altogether this has been the roughest and stormiest winter in these parts for ten years. The lighting of the streets other than those illuminated by the electric light, was resumed last night, to the great convenience of residents.

Marriage licenses were issued during the week to Jacob Kazala and Amy Honkala, Clement Orteig and Elsie Nichols, Wm. Christianson and Carrie Jasperson.

The shipment of 5,499 cases on the Ballochyle, together with eastern shipments overland, goes far toward clearing out the entire salmon pack of '86 from the Columbia river.

Governor Penoyer has the appointment of about forty-four more officers, and a good many applicants are anxious to know the worst or best, and of relief of suspense.

The district court for Lewis county, W. T. was in session at Chehalis a few days ago, and four ladies were on the jury, notwithstanding the adverse woman suffrage decision of the supreme court.

The horses which were kept at Two's engine house during the cold weather for use in case of need, were sent home yesterday morning. Fortunately their active services were not required.

From the last inst. to date, I. Shilerton, T. C. Robbins, Michael McCarron, D. Harnolic, N. Petersen, J. M. Samuel, Chas. A. Lindholm and Peter Sand had issued unto them first citizenship papers.

Governor Penoyer has vetoed two more bills, one making it compulsory on all children of school age in the state to attend school for twelve weeks in each year, and one creating the office of reporter of the supreme court.

Seattle wants the general government to pay $4,167, losses sustained by Chinese residents in the riot last spring. The congressional committee on claims recommends that the claim be allowed.

There is going to be a dance at Henderson's place on Young's river to-night and about forty of Astoria's dancers will be on hand, each with his best girl. The boat will leave Wilson & Fisher's dock at half past seven this evening.

Yesterday the county records were transferred to the new vault, a much needed improvement. Under the present arrangement the books of record are safe from fire. The new arrangement will give County Clerk Trenchard and Mr. Dickinson more room.

Three cases of what is said to be diphtheria is reported from upper town, though it is thought probable to be tonsillitis. Physicians report a good deal of sickness in the city, occasioned largely by the unusual snow fall and consequent slash throughout the month.

Now that the city assessor is about beginning the assessment of '87, would be a good time to begin talking about railroads again. A man whose lot is worth only $600—when assessed—will ask $2,500 for it with railroad probabilities. Thus, likelihood of a railroad would tend to lower the tax levy.

It transpires that the British bark Vallecio, hence for Hull, September 9th, and previously referred to, arrived off Dover this week, with her bows stove and her forward compartment full of water, having been in collision with the steamer Weatherall, which sank, carrying down one of the crew.

The ball given by the band last Tuesday evening was well attended, being socially and financially satisfactory. The members deserve unflinching success for their earnest efforts, and have attained a degree of proficiency that enables them to invite comparison with any similar organization in the state.

A band tournament is to be held at Pendleton on the 23d, 24th and 25th of June next, to be open for all amateur bands and band boys, whose average ages do not exceed 14 years and 6 months, in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Each band will play three selections. Prizes amounting to $1,200 will be given.

The repair force that went to Tillamook rock was to return on the 19th, but the water in that vicinity has been too rough during the week to take them off. When the Oregon was off the rock yesterday morning the water was breaking half way over. However Capt. Gregory will go out with the Manzanita this morning and try to effect a landing.

Alfred Zetterman, well known in these parts, is at present a door keeper in the house of the Lord, and sergeant-at-arms for the salvation army at Portland. Last Thursday he got into trouble with three passersby, and, drawing a revolver, fired, seriously searing those who were about to be converted and causing indefinite postponement of their conversion. Governor Penoyer has appointed H. B. Compton, of Huntington, to be major general of the state militia; J. M. Sighin, of Marshfield, brigadier general, first brigade; J. C. Shofner, of Portland, brigadier general second brigade; W. F. Matlock, brigadier general, third brigade; C. B. Golden, of Marshfield, health officer at Coos Bay; T. C. Macey, of Gardner, health officer at the mouth of the Umpqua river.

Indians who have arrived at Victoria from the west coast of Vancouver island report a large bark wrecked. Out of the crew of twenty were drowned. The remainder are among the Indians. The vessel's name is unknown. A steamer will likely be sent to their relief. The light-house keeper at Cape Beale reports large quantities of new planks floating in the straits, branded "P. L. Co."

The following New York special appears in the St. Paul Pioneer Press under the date of February 17th: "At a meeting of the directors of the Northern Pacific railroad company to-day, the establishment of a line of steamships between Tacoma and Alaska was confirmed. The line will be opened in April and continued through the season to October. The steamer Olympian has already been chartered for the service."

The Arlington Times is responsible for the following: "Rotten," said a gentleman who visited the Oregon legislature for the first time a few weeks ago. "Do you ask a man what his price is, or how do you approach a member?" "Generally," said a professional lobbyist, "we approach his legislative nibs by proposing a trade of some kind; offer him a little bit if required; and if he'll eat oysters with Joe Simon in the small hours of the next morning he's your meat."

There was a horse race at J. P. Austin's at the Seaside last Tuesday afternoon between C. A. McGuire's bald-faced horse Rock Creek Baldy, and N. A. Eberman's horse Clatsop Billy. The race was a distance of 430 yards, for $100 a side and was won by Baldy, by about a foot. Will Russell rode Baldy and Geo. Eberman rode Billy. There was some coin on the outside changed hands on the result. Clatsop Billy's owner announces that he can beat Baldy on the same track for coin.

The British ship Ballochyle cleared yesterday for Liverpool with a sample cargo of north Pacific products. She takes 16,491 barrels Oregon flour to feed the far off English artisans; 10,116 bush wheat, enough for a breakfast for London; 28 pigs, six horns to adorn the stately halls of England, and 5,499 cases Columbia river salmon for English lunch tables. If the Ballochyle had but a few 200 feet pieces of timber she would have a representative of each of our principal products. The cargo is valued at $97,643.

Ten days ago says the Yakima Signal, the snow on the summit of the Cascades was 21 feet in depth. It is now reduced to about 13 feet. Fears are expressed of a warm rain or chinook wind, and if either comes great damage will be done to the N. P. grade, especially on the west side. Not only the cuts and fills will suffer but the roadbed throughout will be injured to the extent of thousands of dollars. Necessarily with the rapid pushing of the work, frosted ground and bits of snow were heaped into the grade, and should a freshet come it would melt away.

The steamer Alki sank last Monday morning says the Puget Sound Mail, while moored to the dock at Utsalady. During the heavy west wind one of her water compartments gave way, allowing her to shift to one side, and in the lack of sufficient ballast she turned over. Capt. McCall with his wife and crew had a narrow escape from drowning. They were in bed when they received the first signal of danger, and rushing out they reached the deck just as the steamer sank. The captain lost a considerable amount of cash—gold pieces were afterwards picked up on the beach, having washed up from the wreck. The total loss is estimated at about $2,500. Some of the machinery can be recovered.

Expressions of dissatisfaction are already being heard everywhere in this city says the Portland Telegram, at the passage of the interstate commerce bill, which precludes railroad corporations from issuing passes to any persons not in the employ of said corporations. The number of passes of the city who have been accustomed to ride on railroads without "putting up" is not a small one, and from them comes the loudest clamor. However, there are others who also kick—it's the class that is always living in expectation of being favored by a railroad company with a gratuitous ride. While in the majority of such cases their great expectations are never realized, yet they kick at being deprived of their hopes. In the meanwhile the managers of railroads are laughing in their sleeves, and while they may not carry as many passengers in the course of a month, their cash receipts will be somewhat increased.

The Vancouver Independent is moved to remark as follows: "Many things happen here which this paper does not put before the public. 'Keep it out of the paper,' is the request the local newspaper man receives almost every day. To oblige often costs considerable, though the party making the request often thinks it hardly worth a 'thank you.' The subscribers always expect the news and always wonder when for sweet charity's sake, an item on the street and in everybody's mouth is not found in the next issue of the paper. The editor who honestly works for the good of his town will, as far as possible, suppress all items that will derogate from the interest and good will of his town; but he very rarely gets credit for this. A failure to note some scandal or row is often attributed to fear or favor rather than to true reason—a desire to protect and perpetuate the fair name of the town."

Free Trade. The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boschee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size.

And Now He Will Always Believe It. Broadway, in the vicinity of the Morton House, presents a strange appearance these days. Buffalo Bill's scouts and Indians, and the inhabitants of the Aztec village, all of whom are appearing in New York at present, flock down to the Morton House to meet their fellow professionals, and it is no uncommon thing to see a hundred and fifty or two hundred men clothed in buckskins, serapes and sombreros, and armed with everything from bows and arrows to Colt's .45-caliber revolvers, parading up and down the street over a distance of a mile or so. One night, a short time ago, Lord Kinwaddie, the eldest son of the Earl of Buelochell, arrived in New York, direct from England, and put up at the Union Square hotel. It was his intention to write a book on America, refuting all the errors which his countrymen, who had done likewise, had made, and which, he was told, did a rank injustice to the country. He had never been here before, and his time was limited, but he intended to correct the gross ignorance of his countrymen regarding the lawlessness of America. He awoke at ten the next morning, and, after partaking of breakfast, he strolled out on the street. The first sight that met his astonished British gaze was a strapping sunburned scout known as the "Bad Man from Bodie," who plays the light comedy roles in Buffalo Bill's play. The Bad Man had a Henry repeating rifle on his shoulder, and a huge bowie knife protruding from his boot. While his lordship was gazing with astonishment at the apparition, a troupe of half naked Aztec Indians in war paint came galloping down the street, whooping for all they were worth, looking still further, he beheld long ranks of armed men in all manner of barbaric costumes, and his brain reeled, and he staggered into a fainting condition. An hour later, his valet took the following telegram to the office: "To Buelochell, London: All that has been said about America is true. Will return at once. Kinwaddie."—New York Letter.

Hitting the Pipe. A procession filed down Chenamus, up Cass and down Squeemoqua to the bill, about half-past ten last night. In front was borne two opium lay-outs, four lighted lamps, trays, shells with cooked opium, tins with uncooked opium, needles, knives, pipes and all the paraphernalia. Officer Linville was chief marshal. Officer Corbett was a little in the rear. Between the two marched seven Chinamen arrested for smoking opium. Behind them came about forty lookers-on. The Chinamen were taken to jail, searched and locked up. One, an expert, was called upon to show how the opium was prepared, and willingly complied. He mixed up a pipe in short order and having cooked and placed the opium in the bowl, drew half a dozen whiffs through the big bamboo stem and retired to a dream of bliss.

THE INDIANA DEADLOCK. INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 25.—Colonel Robertson again appeared at the door of the state senate this morning, but was refused admittance by the assistant doorkeeper, by order of the Democratic majority, whereupon he retired. The Republican senators stated it to be their intention to take no part in the proceedings, and would rest content with simply ignoring the actions of the Democratic majority and president pro tem—Smith. A resolution was offered by Bailey this morning asking the state supreme court to act as arbitrator between the claims of Colonel Robertson and Green Smith, but the Republicans say they have nothing to submit to the supreme court, which will not be likely to take any official notice of the matter.

The fire is supposed to have originated from a gas jet in the cellar.

FROM THE DARK CONTINENT. LONDON, Feb. 25.—The African explorer Stanley telegraphs from Zanzibar by the steamer Kilia and the bombardment of Tunge by the Portuguese. It is the opinion of Stanley that the government of Portugal is acting high handed, relying on the probable interference of Germany and the passiveness of England. Stanley in reference to the expedition for the relief of Emin Bey says that the party which has embarked on the expedition consists of nine European officers and sixty-one Soudanese, thirty Somalis and six hundred and twenty natives. They were joined at Zanzibar by three interpreters, some Arab traders and forty of the followers.

A CHILD'S SKIN. Ears and Scalp Covered with Eczema Scabs and Sores Cured by Cuticura.

My little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the scalp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scabs and sores, and from which a sticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Undoubtedly these scabs the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed. It was a small patch, was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to tie his hands behind him, and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took him to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or a scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp is sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I will do all in my power to induce you to use them, and I am afflicted to know that my statement is true and without exaggeration. H. H. McKAY, Peabody, Mass. Oct. 6, 1885.

I have seen Mr. McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but availed himself of nothing. I know that the statements he has made you regarding the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular. WILLIAM J. MCCARTHY, 33 Foster St., Peabody, Mass.

I do not know of any instance in which the Cuticura Remedies have failed to produce satisfactory results. I believe I have sold more of them than of any other skin remedies I have ever sold. I can give you the thirty-three years of my experience as a druggist. A. D. TRYON, Batavia, N. Y. Sold everywhere. Price: CUTICURA, 25 cents; CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents; CUTICURA PREPARED BY POTTER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO., BOSTON. Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases." A Word About Catarrh. "It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, transmitting the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, taunting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, but very surely, it penetrates the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviations are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal Administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.
