LATEST TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

PORTLAND, Mar. 4.—This morning Judge Stearns sentenced Charlie Ross, convicted of incest, to the penitentiary. At noon he asked jailer Lounsbury to let him into the hall as he could get Fay, another convict, to tell where the knife and scissors were concealed that they used lately in attempting to make their escape. The jailer permitted Ross to go, who immediately walked out, unlocked the door, mounted a wall six feet from Sheriff Jordan, and started to run. As soon as he was at large a crowd followed him. He ran like a deer and soon left all his pursuers behind him. He is still at large.

It is understood that the railway bridge and depots will be built whether congress permits the U. P. lease or not.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 4, 4:30 P. M.—The house has been at work all night and is now on miscellaneous business. The conference report legislative bills, naval bill, as agreed on at conference, passed the house. The senate is still engaged on the deficiency bill. When that passes the conference report on the legislative bill will be called and an effort made to pass some house railroad bridge bills.

Family Silver Melted in the Mint

"In the spring of '73," said Col. A. London Snowden, ex-Superintendent of the Mint, "I received a collection of the most exquisite silversmith work with instructions to melt it down. It had been the property of Joseph Bonaparte and was presented to him by his brother, the Emperor. Joseph left it to his private secretary, and it was the latter who, previous to his going away, desired it melted down. Much of the plate was mounted with gold and so skillfully that you might have supposed that the precious metal would weigh pounds, though, when it was all reduced, there was hardly any gold to speak of. The regret of my life is that I was not rich enough to buy the plate, though not unlikely the secretary would have been too proud to sell it.

"In the old days," continued Col. Snowden, "heaps of family silver used to come to the mint to be melted down from people who had met with financial reverses. During the last days of my incumbency of the office of superintendent much less used to come than formerly, because plated ware had come into general use. I remember once that a gentleman very well known in Philadelphia society brought me a splendid design in silver that he desired to have reduced. It was a gift to his wife on their wedding, and the thought of parting with it was very painful to him. It had cost probably $2,000, but there was not more than $200 worth of bullion. Instead of melting it once I advanced him the money for six months, and allowed the design to remain in the vaults. At the end of that time I agreed to keep it intact for six months more. At the consummation of the second period he saw me and said he could not see daylight yet, and the bridal gift went into the melting pot. Three weeks after that he dropped in on me to say that fortune had smiled on him again, and that he had made $50,000. He said he would have given half of it to get his silver back in its old form. Vain regrets, of course. The man is now wealthy.—[Philadelphia Press.

NOT ONLY THE NATIONAL DISEASE BUT MANY OTHERS.

It is said that dyspepsia is our national malady. Well, BRANDRETH'S PILLS will cure the national malady. It is said that constipation is the curse of a sedentary life. Well, BRANDRETH'S PILLS certainly cure constipation.

It is generally conceded that rheumatism comes from acid stomach and sudden changes of temperature. BRANDRETH'S PILLS have corrected all this and will do it again.

Chronic diseases are cured by taking two to four of BRANDRETH'S PILLS every night for a month.

Rough Handling of Children.

The causes of joint diseases in childhood are frequently obscure, but this much is certain, that the rough handling which children receive at the hands of ignorant parents or careless nurses has much to do with the matter. Stand on any street corner and notice how children are handled. Here comes a lady with a three-year-old girl; she is walking twice as fast as she should, and the child is over-exerting itself to keep pace; every time the child lags the mother gives it a sudden and unexpected lurch which is enough to throw its shoulders out, to say nothing of bruising the delicate structures of the joints; a gutter is reached; instead of giving the little toddler time to get over its own way, or properly lifting it, the mother raises it from the ground by one hand, its whole weight depending from one upper extremity, and with a swing which twists the child's body as far around as the joints will permit, it is landed, after a course of four or five feet through the air, on the other side.

Here is a girl 12 years old with a baby of a year in her arms. The babe sits on the girl's arm without support to its back. This would be a hard enough position to maintain were the girl standing still, but she is walking rapidly, and the little one has to gather the entire strength of its muscular system to adopt itself to its changing bases of support, to say nothing of adjusting its little body to sudden leaps and starts on the part of its wayward nurse. Sometimes during a sudden advance you will see a part of the babe's foot in advance of its head and trunk, which have to be brought up by a powerful and sudden action of the muscles of trunk and neck. Probably not one child in a hundred is properly handled.

It is a painful fact that the half-baked man is not rare.—[Puck

A Good Nurse.

Should not hesitate to walk upon those ill with such diseases as Small-pox, Cholera or Scarlet Fever. There is little to be feared by persons visiting on the sick if they will use Darby's Prophylactic Fluid freely. In sick rooms it should be exposed on a plate or saucer, and the patient sponged off with the Fluid diluted. For safety, cleanliness and comfort in the sick-room the Fluid is indispensable.

A $5 greenback appeared in the till of a Newaygo, Mich., bank the other day, bearing the following inscription: "Here she goes—never play faro bank—the last of a fortune of $10,000."
