

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1887

The school in district No. One is expected to close May 29th.

The Oregon arrived yesterday from San Francisco: the State sailed.

There will be target practice at Fort Canby in April, May and June.

Considerable in the way of building is blocked out for this season.

In the justice court yesterday the case of Ah Koon, arrested charged with selling opium, ended by the defendant being discharged.

Praise and Promise meeting at the Methodist church to-night at seven o'clock. There will be a class organized at the close of the service for a spare minute reading course.

Joggles read yesterday of a wash out caused by the rain. But he says there was a wash out yesterday caused by there being no rain that day. It was the wash out on the clothes line in the back yard, which the week before had to be hung in the wood shed.

J. G. Stutz' New York Theatrical Company will begin a week's engagement at Ross' opera house on next Monday, the 14th inst., opening in "The Pearl of Savoy." The eastern Washington newspapers speak in high praise of the company. Reserved seats for sale at the New York Novelty store.

Yesterday's bright sunlight brought out a good many people. Into each town some rain must fall, some days be dark and dreary, but this particular section of the American continent has had a little more than its share this trip; During the ten days of March ending at noon yesterday, 9.65 inches rain fell.

A handsome badge is on exhibition in G. Hansen's window. It is a representation of a net knitting needle in gold, and to it is suspended a large gold medalion, having on one side the inscription, "Champion knitter of the Columbia river, 1887," and on the other, "Presented by the fishermen of the Columbia river."

Since the arrival of the Lungren incandescent gas lamps Mr. Moen has been busy putting them up, and every one who sees them is loud in their praise. They are a novelty, those in Astoria, it is believed, are the only ones in the state, and are worthy of favorable mention by reason of the admirable light they furnish.

Regarding an article in yesterday's ASTORIAN about "some successful swindlers," information comes to the effect that parties in Astoria and vicinity who make contracts with traveling agents for musical instruments would do well to scrutinize the agreement before they sign it and thus avoid possible trouble.

Dr. O. E. Estes, health officer of the port, yesterday notified the captains of the two San Francisco steamers in port, that in future they would be "required to get a bill of health from the San Francisco health officer before leaving that port for the Columbia river. The prevalence of small pox in California makes such precaution necessary.

The annual business meeting of the members of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. The annual reports will be presented, and officers elected for the year. On Sunday evening the seventh anniversary services will be held in the Presbyterian church, when the Rev. C. H. Oliphant, of Massachusetts, will deliver an address.

The Telegram says that Chinook salmon is selling in Portland at fifteen cents a pound and asks how about that law that forbids the sale of the salmon earlier than April 1st. For the information of our contemporary it may be said that the axiom that self-defense is the first law of nature, is fully recognized and practiced on the lower Columbia, and when a large albe-bodied salmon attacks a man in an open boat, his life pays the forfeit of his temerity.

The Stutz Theatrical company have volunteered to give half the receipts of the opening night of their theatrical engagement, being next Monday evening, to the Astoria Fire Department, to be applied to the fund for attendance at the next state fireman's tournament at Vancouver in June. The offer has been accepted. It goes without saying that they will have an evening's house. Every fireman and every friend of the department will of course aid in making the evening remembered as one in which the theater had the largest attendance in the history of the city to that date.

The Face.

The care of the complexion has become an accomplishment that no lady of refined tastes can afford to ignore, and in leading society circles it claims as much thought as do the fashions. It is an acknowledged fact that the variations of our climate are very severe on the complexion, noticeable by a roughness and dryness of the skin, and to counteract this effect it becomes necessary to call in the aid of art. In the selection of this agent too much care cannot be exercised. It is well known to the chemist that many of the so-called "blooms," "balms," "creams," etc., contain lead and other poisonous substances, the long-continued use of which is dangerous. Wisdom's Robertine is guaranteed under a forfeiture of $1,000, to be absolutely free from poisonous substances. If you have not yet tried it, do so at once, and be one of the hundreds who pronounce it the most delightful toilet article ever produced. Wisdom's Robertine is sold at fifty cents per bottle.
