What Ladies Might Wear.
The majority of black-haired women have black eyes and a sallow complexion. On the whole they look the best in black—say black lace, with soft white lace at the throat. The effect is then something like that of an etching. If a black-haired woman has a pale skin and blue eyes she can wear almost anything—that is, except yellow and green. Blues and reds are particularly becoming to her, and she even looks well in blue white, which is trying to most people and is only ventured on with absolute safety by rosy, blue-eyed, fair-haired blondes, who are known as "cool" blondes.

The "cool" blonde is a privileged person. She can wear all those pure cold colors in which other women dare not venture, and in which no other type can equal her. She looks well in pale green, cool gray, heliotrope purple, and cold blues. She ought never to wear red, brown, yellow, or cream-white.

Sometimes one sees brown-black hair with steel-gray eyes and a fair skin, with a brilliant, rosy complexion. A woman of this type can wear greens and blues of all shades and every sort of purple. They also look well in browns and reds, fawns and grays. They should avoid old gold and all too subtle tones, such as mauve. A woman with lighter brown hair and blue or gray eyes looks well in brown or fawn color, relieved by pink. Dark blue is also becoming to her. With brown hair, warm brown skin and brown eyes, almost barbaric contrasts are effective, such as blue and red and black and yellow, and all shades of yellow and red are becoming.

The shorter the woman the shorter should be her waist and longer her legs, to give her height. As to high heels, they do certainly give dignity as long as the wearer stands still, but let her walk, even across a room, and the effect is absolutely graceless.

Long lines from the shoulder to the foot give light; horizontal lines crossing the figure shorten the person. Short, stout women should never wear basques nor any other arrangement that makes a decided line about the hips, and they should never have their gowns made too tight. Draperies which are a little loose give an effect of slenderness by not defining the lines too clearly. Tall women who are too slender might use horizontal lines with advantage. A band surrounding the arm or waist makes it look much larger than it really is. A great mistake is to have a dress trimmed with lines of violently contrasting color.—Philadelphia News.

Extra Liability to Malarial Infection.
Persons whose blood is thin, digestion weak and liver sluggish, are extra liable to the attacks of malarial disease. The most trifling exposure may, under such conditions, infect a system which, if healthy, would resist the miasmatic taint. The only way to secure immunity from malaria in localities where it is prevalent, is to tone and regulate the system by improving weakened digestion, enriching the blood, and giving a wholesome impetus to biliary secretion. These results are accomplished by nothing so effectively as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which long experience has proved to be the most reliable safeguard against fever and ague and kindred disorders, as well as the best remedy for them. The Bitters are, moreover, an excellent invigorant of the organs of urination, and an active depurative eliminating from the blood those acid impurities which originate rheumatic ailments.

It is said that the new senator from Minnesota is so ugly that one look from him will stop a clock.

When Ishy was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child she cried for Castoria. When she became ill, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

He Was a Kicker.
From the Buckshot Soul (Ark.) Weekly Maul and Wedge.
Jim Beasley, the man who has for several years made the newspaper business uncomfortable, not to say dangerous, in this flourishing city, is dead. He was a man of peculiar disposition and was a sort of censor of the press. He never gave instructions beforehand as regards what would please or displease him, but shortly after the paper was published, should anything offend him, he would come around and make his presence exceedingly disagreeable. Jim was a very capricious man. Sometimes he would excuse the broadest sort of statement; frequently he would become enraged at the merest trifle. He didn't like humor, and was not an admirer of the pathetic. One time we wrote a joke about a fellow whose oxen ran away, having scented water while thirsty, and tumbled off a bluff. The item was very laughable, but Mr. Beasley did not laugh. He came to our office and told us that any man who would make fun of a poor, unfortunate oxen ought to be kicked. Then Mr. Beasley kicked us. We are not a man to take the halter off our own passions and let them gallop unrestrained, so we said nothing. We are not a fool. We know that it stood us well in hand to keep on the good side of Mr. Beasley, and looked out for an opportunity of attempting to please him. The opportunity came in the death of an old man. We wrote a pathetic article, and when the paper had been sent out we, in a satisfied condition of mind, sat down and waited for Mr. Beasley to come around and congratulate us. He came, but did not congratulate. He said that anybody that would slobber over the death of an old skinnif who ought to have died years ago needed kicking. Then Mr. Beasley kicked us. These incidents are given merely to show how difficult it has been to satisfactorily run a newspaper in this city and to illustrate what a relief it must be to us to announce that Mr. Beasley is dead. He died slowly and with marked reluctance, but he is no more, and it gives us pleasure to announce that the Maul and Wedge will hereafter be a fearless journal. Our letters are removed.

Erysipelas and Obstinate Ulcers.
Boils, Carbuncles and Running Sores of every kind are cleansed, the poisons germicidal and a speedy cure effected by using Darby's Prophylactic Fluid.
"I have been afflicted with the Erysipelas. Nothing would heal the sore or stop the running. I used Darby's Prophylactic Fluid and found a speedy cure. Have also tried it in several other cases and it proved effectual."—S. P. GREEN.

A Chicago photographer has been much interested in the subject of composite photography as illustrated in the March Century. A few days ago he took a negative of a Chinese idol by way of experiment and by successively superimposing thereupon the negatives of a rhinoceros, a donkey, a King Charles spaniel, a pelican, a gorilla, a Flathead Indian and a Limburger cheese, he has secured a pretty fair photograph of a mugwump.

SIMMONS
FAULTLESS FAMILY MEDICINE
"I have used Simmons Liver Regulator for many years, having made it my only Family Medicine. My mother before me was very partial to it. It is a safe, good and reliable medicine for any disorder of the system, and if used in time is a great preventive of sickness. I often recommend it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."

TIME AND DOCTORS' BILLS SAVED BY always keeping Simmons Liver Regulator in the house.
"I have found Simmons Liver Regulator the best family medicine I ever used, for anything that may happen, have used it in Indigestion, Colic, Diarrhea, Biliousness, and found it to relieve immediately. After eating a hearty supper, if on going to bed, I take about a teaspoonful, I never feel the effects of the supper eaten."
