

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1887

A DECISION.

JUDGE DEADY has made a decision in the interstate commerce law, the first judicial decision under that act.

R. Koehler, receiver of the O. & C. Railroad company, made petition in the U. S. district court for instructions how to act under the law.

Judge Deady decided: "The transportation of property from one state to another is interstate commerce, whether the carriers engaged in moving it or the vehicles on which it is borne cross the line of the state or not."

"This act does not include or apply to all carriers engaged in interstate commerce, but only such as use a railway, or a railway and water craft, under common control, management or arrangement for a continuous carriage or shipment of property from one state to another; nor does it apply to the carriage of property by rail wholly within the state, although shipped from or destined to a place without the state, so that such place is not in a foreign country."

"The O. R. & N. Company carries certain kinds of goods on its steamers forth and back between Portland and San Francisco at special and reduced rates; the O. C. railway, under the management of the petitioner, carries the same kinds of goods forth and back between Portland and Astoria and way stations, in Oregon, at special and reduced rates; the O. P. Railway company carries the same kind of goods forth and back between certain points on the line of the O. & C. road and San Francisco via its railway from Albany to Yaquina bay and thence by steamer, at reduced rates and thereby competes with the O. & C. and the O. R. & N. for business between said points and San Francisco. The O. R. & N. and the receiver of the O. & C. act independently, though concurrently in making these reduced rates, but no through bill of lading or freight receipt is given, nor is either interested in or liable for the carriage of the goods beyond its own line of transportation. Held, that the O. & C. road and the steamers of the O. R. & N. company in the carriage of goods in question are not 'used under any common control, management or arrangement for a continuous carriage or shipment' thereof, to, and from San Francisco, within the intent and meaning of the act, and that the carriage and handling of said goods so far as the receiver is concerned is performed wholly within the state and therefore specially exempted by the terms of the act from its operation; provided the same are not directly shipped to or from a foreign country."

"The receiver, is therefore instructed, that he is at liberty, so far as the act is concerned, to make special rates for the carriage of goods from or to points on the line of his road for the purpose of obtaining or retaining business therefor, against other carriers competing for the same. But this direction does not apply to goods shipped directly to or from a foreign country over the line of the O. & C. road."

THERE is a likelihood that the state debt of Virginia will be repudiated. Senator Rhea has introduced a resolution for the submission to the people of a constitutional amendment providing that if the foreign bondholders do not exchange their holdings for Riddleberger three within a given date, then the principal of the debt shall be repudiated. A majority of both branches of the legislature favor the proposition, and it is considered doubtful if Gov. Lee will veto it. The foreign bondholders are alarmed at the situation.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND was asked on the 18th of March, his birthday, by Mr. Soteldo, the minister from Venezuela, why he was not celebrating his natal day, and said: "Vanity, vanity, it is all vanity. If a man really feels that his birth was a stroke of luck to him, let him rejoice by all means; but I don't think he has any right to disturb the town about it, and I don't think it would be modest to ask all the rest of the world to rejoice in an event which had so little interest for them."

In order to enforce the retaliation bill against Canada, says the Washington Post, we must "wipe out a trade worth $72,000,000 a year, lose $5,000,000 in duties and pay $3,000,000 more for the fish we eat in order to guarantee the Gloucester fishermen the right to get bait in the maritime provinces and fish along the Canadian shore, when our whole catch is worth only $2,500,000." Yes; but then think of the satisfaction of getting even.
