We hail the good man with effusion, he may shake our hand as long as he likes, and it is no trouble to show goods. If he sees anything he cannot reach let him ask for it. Possibly the prices of some of our choice lands may be of that order of things—inaccessible to his means.

Sudden Death. DR. FLINT'S HEART REMEDY will prolong life by preventing those sudden deaths from heart disease which bring untold grief to families, often plunging them into poverty, because of the untimely disease of bread-winner. At druggists, $1.50; Descriptive treatise with each bottle, or address J. J. Mack & Co., S. F.

That Terrible North Coast. SAN FRANCISCO, April 15.—The agent of the ship St. Stephen has given up all hope of seeing the vessel again. They feel convinced she foundered off Cape Flattery on April 1st.

Their Business Booming. Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at W. E. Dement & Co.'s Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Alert for the affirmative! That is a good position for any one to take in these questioning times. A conscientious person inquiring to be assured with reference to the character of an acquaintance of whom evil rumor had said unkind things, on being assured that the accusations were false, the reply came with positiveness as from the conveniently deaf business man: "I always listen to good about people, but I turn a deaf ear to things said against them." How soon "strife would cease," if the world were made up of such people! for those who heed no tales carry none. "Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: so where there is no tale-bearer the strife ceaseth."

We all have frequent need of well-timed deafness. But, though one may be oblivious to trifles that deserve reprimand, the ear cannot be too alert for the first sign of repentance, the faintest breath pleading for forgiveness. "When he was yet a great way off," the father of the prodigal son heard the returning footsteps of his wayward boy, and "had compassion, and ran and fell on his neck, and kissed him."

A horse pricks forward first one ear, then the other, gathering sounds from all directions, unbiased, unprejudiced in his impartial judgment. But men are not all so alert for truth whencesoever it may come. They are too apt to listen in one special direction. There are ears quick for negatives, others which hear only the gloomy, unpromising side of society, of men, of women. If we must hear unequally, let it be the other way. Like the advertising agent, we should then hear more to our advantage.

THE Examiner has the following regarding the present influx of eastern people into California: "The eastern visitor is among us in such profusion that we no longer count him—he is best measurable in bulk. When crowded into our hotels he can most easily be estimated by the cubic yard; seeing him on the ground, we calculate him also by the acre. At no previous time in the history of California has he been with us in so abounding quantity and never before did he manifest so tranquil an indifference to his line of retreat. He will, in many instances, be found to have burned his boats, or as the less classical but happier metaphor hath it, to have brought his knitting.
