

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1887

According to the Union, the future of Walla depends upon its ability to raise an immediate $75,000 subsidy for the Northern Pacific railroad to build a branch to Wallula.

There are only eight hundred Japanese in San Francisco; and, of these, forty are women. The children attend the public schools. The adults are mainly house servants, and their proficiency is much commended.

A sack of flour in a German mill, falling downstairs, opened and scattered the contents in a cloud through the lower room, where a burning gas flame set fire to the dust, causing an explosion which lifted a part of the roof of the mill and broke almost all the windows.

An unsinkable life boat, recently patented by a gentleman in Buffalo, N. Y., possesses some novel features. The entire lower part of the boat is filled with sheets or slabs of cork, set up edgewise and fastened together. Above this is a filling of rushes, set up vertically and having their ends rendered water-proof. Above the cork and rushes is a water-tight deck, which separates the lower half of the boat from the upper half, where seats are provided for crew and passengers.

The strange and beautiful custom prevailed among the ancients of using flowers and fruits to denote each hour of the day: the first hour, a bouquet of full-blown roses; the second hour, heliotrope; the third, white roses; the fourth, hyacinth; the fifth, some lemons; the sixth, a bouquet of lotos; the seventh, lupins; the eighth, some oranges; the ninth, olive leaves; the tenth, poplar leaves; the eleventh, a bouquet of marigolds; the twelfth, heartsease and violets. And if they wished to appoint an hour to meet any one, they would send the emblem of that hour.

In the matter of interstate commerce, the United States are but one country, and are and must be subject to one system of regulations, and not to a multitude of systems; the doctrine of the freedom of commerce, except as regulated by congress, is so firmly established, that it is unnecessary to enlarge further upon the subject. And the law of Tennessee requiring a drummer, before he can sell goods by sample in that state, to pay a tax and take out a license, is unconstitutional and void. Sabine Robbins vs. the Taxing District of Shelby County, Tennessee.

SAN FRANCISCO furnishes something new in the matter of press notices. Generally, when a negro minstrel or a tragedienne or a tenor shows up in a city he, she or it is on trial, and the question is one of personal ability. Sara Bernhardt, who has twice achieved maternity while still rightfully retaining her maiden name, is now in San Francisco, and the papers of that pleasant city calmly assure their readers that her histrionic ability is so great that the question is not will she suit San Francisco theater goers, but will San Francisco theater goers suit her. As the Post deliciously puts it: "It is not Bernhardt, but San Francisco that is on trial." Let us hope in common defense of the coast that San Francisco will be found satisfactory to the Bernhardt woman. It is safe to presume that if the audiences are large enough it will.

Greatly Relieved.
Not a few of the citizens of Astoria have recently become greatly excited over the astounding facts, that several of their friends who had been pronounced by their physicians as incurable and beyond all hope—suffering with that dreaded monster Consumption—have been completely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the only remedy that does positively cure all throat and lung diseases, Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Bronchitis. Trial bottles free at W. E. Dement & Co.'s Drug Store, large bottles $1

MEMORIAL DAY.

It will be observed by Cashing Post No. 14, G. A. R., of this City.

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS
GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC,
MADISON, Wis., April 15, '87
GENERAL ORDERS,
No. 11.

Nineteen years ago the then commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, in general orders, set apart the 30th day of May and suggested that it be consecrated to the memory of the fallen soldiers of the Nation. This being the first Memorial day occurring since his death, the commander-in-chief asks that the eloquent and appropriate words of General Orders No. 11, 1868, uttered by that illustrious soldier and beloved comrade, John A. Logan, be again taken as inspiration and guidance for the 30th day of May, 1887.

HEADQUARTERS
GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6th, 1868.
GENERAL ORDERS,
No. 11.

I. The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city and village churchyard in the land. In this observance no form of ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their own way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit. We are organized comrades, as our Regulations tell us, "of preserving and strengthening those kind and fraternal feelings which have bound together the soldiers, sailors and marines, who united to suppress the late rebellion." What can aid more to assure this result than cherishing tenderly the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between this country and its foes? Their soldier lives were the reveille of freedom to a race in chains, and their death the tattoo of rebellious tyranny in arms. We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed grounds. Let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic.

If other eyes grow dull, and other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it as long as the light and warmth of life remain to us. Let us then, at the time appointed, gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with the choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude—the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan.

II. It is the purpose of the commander-in-chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades. He earnestly desires the public press to call attention to this order, and lend its friendly aid in bringing it to the notice of comrades in all parts of the country in time for simultaneous compliance therewith.

III. Department commanders will use every effort to make this order effective. By command of John A. Logan, commander-in-chief.
N. P. CHITMAN, Adjutant General.
By command of Lucius Fairchild, commander-in-chief.
E. B. GRAY, Adjutant General.

Wonderful Cures.
W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggists of Rome, Ga., say: we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have always handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced Consumption have been entirely cured by using a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by W. E. Dement & Co.

The last day of the term in district No. One, was one of pleasant memories to all who participated in the picnic yesterday at Smith's point. Though the morning was lowering it gave evidence of a fine day and the children and teachers started from the school house shortly after nine o'clock to the picnic grounds selected at Smith's point, where they were visited during the day by a large number of citizens. There was no set programme, everyone enjoying himself or herself in their own way. Swings, football, games, etc., while the morning away and lunch time found everyone with a hearty appetite. In the afternoon, with the forest for a background, by the shining waters of Young's bay, there was a photograph taken of almost the entire party. Old and young enjoyed the day, which passed off without the slightest untoward incident to mar its pleasures.

Indigestion or Constipation.
