

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 1887

Linn Engine Co. No. 2 of Albany, will send a team to the firemen's tournament.

Beautiful roses are blossoming everywhere and the gardens are brilliant with summer flowers.

The committee on programme of the Fourth of July celebration consists of Messrs. Trenchard, Bergman, Fulton, Welch and Dealy.

The A. B. Field and Queen of the Bay left yesterday morning for Nesquehanna, where W. B. Headington is building a cannery for Leinenweber & Co.

The record of target practice in this department for April puts the artillery men at Fort Canby at the head of the list, with an average of 85.54.

The late month of May was the driest known to the records of the signal service. The drought throughout the country has been unprecedented.

It is rumored that the Pacific Coast Steamship company has been put under the control of the Union Pacific to operate in conjunction with the Oregon Short Line.

The closing exercises of the school in district No. 18 will take place this afternoon commencing at half past one o'clock p. m. The parents and friends of the school are invited to be present.

S. Amundsen, the nine year old son of A. J. Amundsen, who fell from the roadway last Monday, striking on his head and sustaining fatal injuries, died yesterday morning. The funeral will be from the parents' residence at one o'clock this afternoon.

Peter Norburg was yesterday arraigned in the justice court on a charge of having resisted an officer in the discharge of his duty. The offense is alleged to have been committed in the vicinity of the Colorado saloon last Wednesday evening. The case was continued till to-day.

This evening at the Scandinavian church in upper Astoria, the pupils of the public school will give an entertainment which deserves a large audience, no less for the merit of the entertainment, which will be well worth seeing and hearing, than for the purpose to which the receipts of the evening will be devoted—the relief of the orphan children of the Nansimo sufferers.

The Contra Costa, Cal., Gazette of the 4th says: A couple of catfish recently caught by Charles Perry, superintendent of Mr. Black's salmon cannery at Martinez, were full of salmon spawn and minnows. This ought to settle the question of whether or not the introduction of catfish into our rivers was a serious blow at the salmon industry. The bay, rivers and sloughs are now filled with catfish, and they undoubtedly feed upon salmon spawn and newly-hatched salmon.

Sherman Curran, a young man employed at Trullinger's mill, met with a singular accident last Tuesday, which might have ended far more disastrously than it did. While under the building his clothes came in contact with a revolving shaft and were torn off of him, while he was picked up, swung around and hurled about twenty feet into deep water. The horrified employes who expected to find his mangled remains, were greatly surprised to see him clinging to a pile of lumber with the exception of a score, a hasty bath, and a badly chewed up suit of clothes, in otherwise good condition.

The stingiest man in the United States, until recently, was supposed to be located in Missouri, and he was so penurious that he would stop the clock at night to keep it from wearing out. He was the second cousin to the man at Oshkosh, Michigan, who was a church member. He would hold on to his pennies until the last possible moment when the contribution box came around, for the interest to accrue on them. But the stingiest man in the world, so far discovered up to the time of going to press, is the man in Albany, Oregon, who uses a wart on the back of his neck for a collar button.

The scheme of changing ships into barks is at present prevalent in this port, says the Tacoma News. The Canada is now being remodeled. The ship Shirley will be made into a bark on her arrival there, and the spars are being gotten out by Tacoma mill carpenters to remodel the ship Melrose, making a bark of her. It is expected, however, that the change will not be made until after the arrival of the vessel at her destination in San Pedro. Ship captains say that they prefer barks in the coasting trade on account of the greater facility with which they can be handled in "beating" in inside waters; they are less top heavy, and can also be worked considerably cheaper than ships, as they take less running gear, sails and spars, and also two less men.

Special meeting of members of the Y. M. C. A., at 8:30 this evening.

There will be a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Rescue Temperance Club at their hall to-night to arrange for a grand temperance festival some time next week.

The Salvation Army meeting will be held to-morrow night at Liberty Hall. Major Fielding of Ohio and divisional officer Stillwell will be present to conduct the meeting.

Have You Tried That delicious drink, Sarbarell, at Frank Fabre's? If not don't fail to call and sample it. You will like it. French Lemonade by the glass, cool and wholesome.

NO MORE "COPY." NEW YORK, June 9.—Charles A. Keop, editor of the Wall street News, died this morning.

BAR TOWAGE AND PILOTAGE.

Complete Divorce of the Service—The New Regime.

Through a variety of causes the towage and pilotage business on the Columbia bar has been unprofitable the past season. Competition, low prices and a decrease in shipping are among the main causes. The wheat that under ordinary conditions would have gone to England from the Columbia direct, has been going to San Francisco in the holds of the O. R. & N. Co.'s steamers, and the incoming and outgoing vessels have, in consequence, been few and far between.

Preparation is being made to begin the fall business with a new system of towage and pilotage that, it is thought, will work satisfactorily. The pilotage and towage is to be entirely distinct and separate, the pilotage being left entirely to the pilots and the towage to the tugs.

At present there are bar pilots as follows: Tom Johnson, Chas. Johnson, Dan McVicar, M. D. Staples, A. Malcolm, Jos. Harriman, L. Staples, C. S. Gunderson, Geo. Wood, Thos. Doig, H. A. Matthews, J. E. Campbell, Cy. Harriman, Chas. Olsen, Thos. Latham, T. J. Powers, Thos. Neill and Joe Ritcher.

These comprise all that have branches from either Oregon or Washington territory. The Oregon pilots, who have the pilot schooner Gov. Moody are putting her in trim for the coming season's work. Eight of the Washington territory pilots are having a schooner of about the same dimensions as the Gov. Moody built in San Francisco. They expect to have her ready about August 1st. She is to cost about $9,000.

These two pilot schooners will carry all the pilots except Latham, who is connected with the Gen. Miles, and Olsen, who is fishing at present, and will cruise outside.

The towing will be done by the tugs Astoria, Wizard, Donald, Gen. Miles, the Columbia and Essex; possibly will be put on late in the season.

Pleasant Surprise Party. There was a surprise party at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hall last evening, which was an occasion of pleasure to those who surprised and were surprised. A most enjoyable evening was spent, not the least among the enjoyments being the discussion of the good things to eat that the surprisers brought with them.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Conn, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Siskles, Mr. and Mrs. Z. Anstensen, Mr. and Mrs. Humphreys, Mr. and Mrs. Langley, Mrs. Alson Fox, Mrs. A. Montgomery, Mrs. E. M. Davis, Mrs. Goodell, Mrs. I. Stevens, Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Brown, Miss Joelyn, Dr. Page, B. H. Coleman, G. A. Charneck, E. B. Cushman, Mr. Wood.

Famous Women. Madame Trebelli, the greatest of living contraltos who has traveled extensively, in fact visited every county and city of note in the world, has just departed from the slope of the Pacific, and often expressing the greatest admiration for the beauty and grandeur of our scenery and the delightful mildness of our climate, left the following written note as a living expression of her opinion in the hands of a Portland druggist, the original of which can be seen on demand.

PORTLAND, Or., April 6, 1887. Dear Mr. Wisdom:—I have tried your "Robertine," and it gives me much pleasure to say that it is excellent for the complexion, being one of the best articles of the kind I have ever used. Believe me, yours sincerely, Z. TREBELL.

If any further proof of the excellence of this article is required call on Messrs. W. E. Dement & Co. of Astoria, Or., who, for the small sum of fifty cents, will produce evidence that will satisfy the most skeptical and fastidious and give you a beautiful picture card for the trouble of enquiring.

PERSONAL.

N. H. Webber, of Knappton, is in the city.

E. M. Philebaum was in the city yesterday. E. B. Wood came over from Oysterville yesterday.

Rev. M. L. Rugg, and family arrived yesterday afternoon, and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Higgins.

C. Lieneveber is so far convalescent as to be able to appear on the street. His oldest son, Tru, has recovered sufficiently to be out; his oldest daughter, May, is still confined to her bed with little change in her condition.

Bullying the Waiter. People who are condemned to eat their meals in restaurants have doubtless become familiar with the pompous, self-important, touchy, imperious personage who loves to lord it over the humble waiter who takes his order and does his level best to execute the same. I refer to the person who is always found bullying the poor waiter on the slightest provocation, because he did or did not put ice in the water, or misplaced the salt-cellar, or put the table napkin at the wrong side of the plate, or inadvertently joined in a laugh at a joke delivered to a companion. He is, as the late Artemus Ward would have called him, "an amosin' kuss." Well, I met him yesterday afternoon in a West Side restaurant, and had quite a matinee seeing him go through his performance, the outcome of which was worth to me a good many meals. He ordered. The waiter brought. He rapped angrily with his knuckles on the table-cloth till the trembling slave came back. "What do you mean by bringing this to me?" "You ordered boiled eggs, sir," said the humble waiter. "I said broiled eggs," shouted the customer. Waiter grew pale. "Broiled eggs, sir?" he repeated, hesitating queerly on the r. "Yes, man," cried the other growing fiercer, "broiled eggs—don't you understand? b-r-o-i-l-e-d—broiled eggs!" The waiter ran along with the rejected dish to the cook's place, from which a gruff voice was heard saying: "Never heard of such a thing." By this time the waiter began to feel like one who would take desperate chances and assert his watershed. He approached his customer with a firm step and with a heightened color in his pale cheek said: "Sir, I have been a waiter in restaurants for fifteen years, and I never heard of broiled eggs before." I had the infinite pleasure of overhearing the hero of my paragraph interview himself on the sidewalk a moment afterward. He said: "Aw, confound it, by Jove—it was poached eggs that I wanted."—Chicago Journal.

Astonishing Success. It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let his friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada.

An Increasing Demand. The people are eating salmon. The purchasing power of the laboring classes is fully double that of two years ago, and they are very large consumers of salmon. Cities like Pittsburg, Cleveland and Milwaukee, where the iron interests are large, are very heavy buyers of salmon, and the increased consumption of the United States for 1886, in spite of the heavy advance in price, was over 70,000 cases, and if the salmon is packed this year the increase will probably be fully as much more.—Chicago Circular.

Unnecessary Misery. Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. HAMBURG FIGS were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents. At all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co., proprietors, S. F.
