THE CONFEDERATE FLAGS.
On the occasion of the reception tendered Commander-in-Chief Fairchild by Alexander Hamilton Post, 182, G. A. R., in New York on the 15th inst., it became known before the meeting opened that Gen. Ross, of Austin, Texas, had received a letter from the adjutant-general of the United States army, stating that the president approved the recommendation, and the writer had been instructed by the secretary of war to return all confederate flags in the care of the department to the southern states, from whose regiments the flags had been captured during the war of rebellion.
Gen. Fairchild entered the hall with stern, set features. Hardly waiting for the usual courtesies, the one-armed leader burst forth with: "May God palsy the hand that wrote the order; may God palsy the brain that conceived it, and may God palsy the tongue that dictated it!" The general told of the news received by telegraph, that the president had approved of the return of the rebel flags, and how those flags had been won by veterans of the G. A. R. in open conflict with the enemies of the nation. The veterans had placed their trophies in the care of the war department. They were intended, he said, to be kept in the archives of the nation as mementos of hard-won fields of battle. He continued:

"How can the present loyal governors of the southern states accept the emblems of treason after their professions of loyalty to the union? Must they not return them to the secretary and say that they will have nothing to do with the flags, as the rebel organizations are extinct and their governors are dead?"
After further remarks, Gen. Sickles offered the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, The president of the United States, having approved a recommendation that all battle-flags in the custody of the war department, belonging to southern states in rebellion during the late civil war, be returned to the respective states which bore them, for such final disposition as they may determine; be it
Resolved, That this post views with surprise the action of the president, and records its protest thereto.
Resolved, That the sacrifice of blood which captured the emblems was a sacrifice of liberty, to national union and to God.
Resolved, That no sentiment of generosity and no expression of magnanimity are involved in the surrender of these emblems of national honor; and
Resolved, That it now only remains to direct that the battle flags of the Union be distributed among the representatives of the so-called confederacy, and as a fitting acknowledgment of the righteousness of the "lost cause."
Resolved, That this post expresses its disapprobation of this act of the first president of the United States who has held office, disassociated from the memories of the war for the Union.

The resolutions were carried with a shout. Arrangements will be made to have a mass meeting of veterans next week to protest against the action of the president.

COLUMBUS, O., June 15.—Gov. Foraker received a telegram today from D. C. Putnam, of Springfield, department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic of Ohio, urging him, on behalf of the 29,000 comrades of this department, to protest to the authorities at Washington against the return of rebel flags captured by the soldiers of Ohio. The governor forwarded a telegram to the president, and in the same connection said: "In transmitting this message, I desire to comply with the request, and do most earnestly protest against the action to which it relates. The patriotic people of this state are shocked and indignant beyond anything I can express. I earnestly request you to revoke the order that has given such unqualified offense." The governor also sent a telegram to Gen. Boynton at Washington, asking him to take legal advice and institute proceedings to enjoin the return of rebel flags which were captured by these troops.

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 15.—Gen. Tuttle, commander of the Grand Army of the Republic for Iowa, to-day asked Gov. Larrabee to protest to President Cleveland against any rebel flags captured by Iowa troops, being surrendered to the south, and to take legal steps to enjoin any such surrender if it is contemplated. Gov. Larrabee has telegraphed the president an emphatic protest, and will take legal steps, if necessary, to make the protest effective. The following was sent to-night by Gov. Larrabee:

DES MOINES, June 15.—To the President of the United States, Washington, D. C.:—I send herewith a request made upon me as governor of Iowa by the commander of the Grand Army of the Republic in this state against the proposed return to the south of war flags captured by the Union Army during the rebellion. I add to this request and protest of the surviving soldiers in Iowa the respectful but equally urgent protest of the people of the state, and shall deem it my duty to use all proper endeavor to prevent any such return of battle flags captured by Iowa troops.
WM. LARRABEE.

Though Shaken Life a Leaf
By the most trivial causes, weak nerves are easily susceptible of invigoration, a term which also imports, in this instance, quietude. The nervous have but to use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters systematically to overcome that super-sensitiveness of the human sensorium, which is subversive of all bodily comfort and mental tranquility, and which reacts most hurtfully upon the system. The difficulty underlying this, as well as many other ailments, is imperfect assimilation, no less than incomplete digestion of the food. In the discharge of both the digestive and assimilative functions, the Bitters are the most potent, the most reliable auxiliary. As the body regains vigor and regularity by its aid, the brain and nervous system are also benefited. Persons subject to the influence of malaria, dyspeptic and rheumatic invalids, and persons whose kidneys are inactive, should, also, use the Bitters.

Biliousness.
We have tested its virtues personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throbbing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. We tried forty other remedies before Simmons' Liver Regulator, but none of them gave us more than temporary relief; the Regulator not only relieved us, but cured us. H. H. JONES, Ed.
