

The Daily Astorian.
 ASTORIA, OREGON:
 TUESDAY, JUNE 23, 1887

KEELY, the motor man, seems to have really discovered a perpetual motion engine. The engine he has been at work on is always going—to go very soon!

SAYS the Philadelphia Times: The time has come when the American people should exercise the right to discriminate in regard to those who seek homes on American soil. We still have room for industrious, law-abiding, liberty-loving, self-sustaining foreigners. We have none for paupers, criminals, revolutionists and anarchists. And all true lovers of the republic and institutions concur.

THE Apaches of Arizona, now on a rampage, are among the most savage and cruel Indians on the continent. They are by nature mean, and treachery is marked in their faces. Those who have looked upon them in their native wilds know this. They prejudice the interests of all peaceable Indians in the west, and have always given trouble. They should now be permanently settled; they never will become civilized or peaceable.

IN 1884 the plurality of Mr. Cleveland in New York was 1,047 in a vote of 1,171,312. The whole Butler vote in that state was 17,002, and the prohibition vote was 25,001. Last year, when there was no special interest in the election, the prohibition vote was 36,414. At the same election the labor vote for mayor of New York was about 68,000. It is such figures as these that make it so hard for the politicians to figure how the Empire state will go in the presidential election of '88.

JABEZ HALL, an aged and reputable painter, living near Marianna, Ark., advertised for a wife, and the answers were so numerous that he was at a loss how to choose. His gigantic intellect came to his rescue, however. He gave each applicant a number, and writing the number on separate cards, put them in a box and shook them up well. Then he blindfolded his little grandchild, and had her draw a card from the box. He is now corresponding with the lady to whom the card had been allotted, and it is probable that a wedding will result.

JOHN P. RITTER, the assistant manager of the New York clearing house, has probably seen and handled more money than any other man in the world. He has been more than twenty-two years in the institution. All the money received and paid out in balances passes through his hands. The daily balances run from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000, and in one instance as high as $15,000,000. Mr. Ritter has handled these vast sums day after day for years without making an error of a penny. A rough estimate of the total amount that has passed through his hands at the clearing would be between $30,000,000,000 and $31,000,000,000. This amount has not been handled in the form of notes, bonds or other negotiable securities, but in actual cash. The largest legal tender issued by the government is for $10,000. These bills are plentiful enough in clearing houses, where they greatly facilitate business, making it quite easy to handle the enormous sums necessary from bank to bank each day.

CALIFORNIA has 9,069,698 sheep; Oregon, 2,593,029; Washington, 555,439, and Nevada, 674,486—7,892,652 in all, over one-sixth of the sheep in the entire country. The wools from these sections have heretofore been sent to the eastern markets at 65 cents per 100 pounds freight. Under the action of the inter-state commerce law the freight has been raised to $3.70 per 100 pounds. This is equivalent to a tax of 3 1-20 cents per pound of Pacific wools. This is no light thrust at the vitals of a large and desirable industry. This increase will amount to about $150,000 on each year's clip. The coast country is full of sharp business men. They will scarcely fail to see and seize the opportunity. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars has not to be multiplied many times to become large enough to erect mills of capacity sufficient to work up the entire wool product of the country west of the Rockies.

STATE AND TERRITORIAL NEWS.

An exchange says that Arlington is the largest wool-producing section in the United States.

About 76,000 sheep are being driven from various points in Oregon to Nebraska this year.

Soundings on the bar last week showed twenty-two feet of water at about half-tide, says the Coast Mail.

A militia company has been organized at Corvallis with A. W. Smith as Captain, Jos. H. Wilson, 1st Lieut., A. W. Rose, 2d Lieut.

Ashtland has a canned cook venison establishment, which did a profitable business last year, and will continue operations this season.

The line of the Oregon Pacific railroad is located forty-five miles east of Albany. Surveys will continue this season to the Malheur country, Eastern Oregon.

A company has been formed to start a salmon cannery at Yaquina Bay. John Priest and Allen Parker, of Newport, and McCracken, of Portland, constitute the firm.

The Malheur and Harney lakes were formerly separated by a large sand reef, but it is now said that, owing to a break made in the reef, they are united and should be denominated as one lake.

Losses by fire on the Pacific coast during the month of May, says the Pacific Underwriter, were $239,129, divided as follows: California, $218,800; Oregon, $2,362; Washington, $6,330; Montana, $11,637.

Elvin Miller killed a white deer on Brushy Hill, says a Curry county paper. The hoofs are also white. Mr. Miller has an offer of $10 for the skin. These skins are very rare and pass among the Indians for big money.

Walter Keyes has leased seventy-five feet water frontage of his place at Mukilteo, says the Seattle Times, with wharf and water privileges, to W. T. Coleman, of Astoria, for the purpose of erecting a cannery. The machinery and apparatus will be moved immediately, so as to be ready for this season's catch.

Joy killed Mrs. Margaret Powell, of Samaria, Idaho. She was the widow of a soldier, and received notice that a pension of $12 per month, including $5.415 of back pay, would be sent her on her forwarding the proper vouchers. The news so overcame her that she dropped dead as she was preparing for church.

Nelson Bennett, the Cascade division contractor, says that the big bore in the Cascade mountains is now in 2,462 1/2 feet at the east end, and 2,536 1/2 at the west end. There remains to be bored 4,850 feet. Progress is being made at the rate of fifteen feet per day. It will take about a year to complete it.

D. S. K. Buick, president of the state agricultural society, writes the state board of immigration at Portland, that he has engaged a gentleman to travel throughout the state and make a collection of grains and grasses for exhibition at the forthcoming state fair. As a footnote he says: "A good many people are coming in here now. Californians are the best. They take hold promptly and don't wait to see if it will snow or rain the coming winter."

Yesterday morning, for the first time in the history of Clifton, Oregon, says the Oregonian of the 27th, religious services were held there. Dr. T. L. Elliot, pastor of the Unitarian church, was visiting Messrs. J. W. & V. Cook, and they hastily built a "meetin' house." It was in the cannery warehouse. A lot of empty salmon boxes were used to make four walls, openings being left for a door in the rear and windows at the side. In the front the boxes were piled so as to form a semi-circle, and directly in front of this the pulpit was erected, also of salmon boxes. Boxes likewise served as seats. The congregation numbered sixty-three men, women and children, who listened with perfect attention to the scholarly, earnest, thoroughly Christian gentleman, and he appeared as much at home in novel surroundings as in his own comfortable church in Portland. The religious service was complete with one exception. No collection was made. Mr. Elliot, who is accompanied by his son Willis, will leave Clifton in a few days for Clatsop beach.

BILIOUSNESS

"I unhesitatingly add my testimony to the great benefits to be derived from Simmons Liver Regulator. I was afflicted for several years with disordered Liver, which resulted in a severe attack of Jaundice. I had good medical attendance, but it failed to restore me to the enjoyment of my former health. I then tried the most renowned physicians of Louisville, Ky., but all to no purpose, whereupon I was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I found immediate benefit from its use, and it ultimately restored me to the full enjoyment of health."—A. H. SHIRLEY, Richmond, Ky. "I most cheerfully recommend it to all who suffer from Bilious Attacks or any disease caused by a disarranged state of the Liver."—W. R. BERNARD, Kansas City, Mo.

A PLUCKY WOMAN.

Deputy constable George H. Ward returned last evening from Astoria, bringing Mrs. Ella Turner and her three children. Mrs. Turner was arrested on a warrant charging her with assault and battery, sworn to by Mrs. Colvin, who lives on Eleventh street in this city.

Mrs. Turner, who has always borne the reputation both in this city and in Astoria of an honest, hard-working woman trying to bring up her children to be good citizens, was basely deserted by her husband, Frank Turner, captain of the steamboat Wanderer, about two years ago. For some reason he took from her the youngest child and has ever since kept it away from his mother.

A few days ago the yearnings of a mother's heart prompted Mrs. Turner to come to Portland to see her child. Upon making inquiries she learned that the little one was in the care of Mrs. Colvin. Going to the latter's house she made known her wish, but she was refused admittance her wish. She was not more surprised when her husband appeared upon the scene and said to the other woman: "Throw her out, — her!"

Mrs. Turner expostulated at such treatment, and getting angry accused her husband and Mrs. Colvin of living together in criminal intimacy. Thereupon Mrs. Colvin flew at Mrs. Turner, but the latter was as plucky as she was bold, and stopped her antagonist's rush by a well aimed blow, planted with considerable force directly between the eyes. She immediately followed up her advantage, and Mrs. Colvin got decidedly the worst of the encounter. Hence the cause of Mrs. Turner's arrest.

The case is on trial this afternoon before Justice Bushwiler, and is likely to take up the rest of the day. —Telegram, 23.

Famous Women.

Madame Trebelli, the greatest of living contraltos who has traveled extensively, in fact visited every county and city of note in the world, has just departed from the slope of the Pacific, and often expressing the greatest admiration for the beauty and grandeur of our scenery and the delightful mildness of our climate, left the following written note as a living expression of her opinion in the hands of a Portland druggist, the original of which can be seen on demand.

PORTLAND, OR., April 6, 1887.
 Dear Mr. Wislizen:—I have tried your "Robertine" and it gives me much pleasure to say that it is excellent for the complexion, being one of the best articles of the kind I have ever used. Believe me, yours sincerely,
 Z. TREBELLI.

If any further proof of the excellence of this article is required call on Messrs. W. E. Dement & Co. of Astoria, Or., who, for the small sum of fifty cents, will produce evidence that will satisfy the most skeptical and fastidious and give you a beautiful picture card for the trouble of enquiring.

That is Really All the Difference.

A tourist without money is a tramp. A tramp who has money is a tourist. —Siftings.

Unnecessary Misery.

Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. HAMBURG FIGS were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents. At all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co., proprietors, S. F.

Cynical Experience of a New Yorker.

It pays to be honest in the long run, but in the short run there isn't much money in it. —Life.
