

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: THURSDAY, JUNE 29, 1887.

Girls wanted. Fourteen girls. For the Liberty Car. From 8 to 12 years (or 13). Call at Mrs. Eaton's & Miss Carahan's.

About 35 men are at work at Fort Stevens finishing the new government wharf there.

The Willamette crossed over yesterday morning; the bark Julia Ford came in; she will load lumber; the Rosie Olsen came down, en route to Tillamook.

Next Monday, July 4th, the steamer Gen. Canby will make two round trips to the forts and Ilwaco, and during the summer months Monday will be especially fort day.

It looks as though it would be a pious idea to put the streets in some kind of shape for the parade. The process will have to go single file and look out for its individual shins unless slabs and stringers and lumber and cordwood and bricks and derricks and frames and joists and sicks are called in.

In justice Cleveland's court yesterday a Chinaman named Fen Fang had a jury trial on the charge of selling opium without having first obtained a license therefor. They found him guilty. The justice fined him $75 and costs. It is understood the case will be appealed on the ruling of the court that it was not requisite that the prosecution should prove that the defendant had no license, but that the defense should prove if possible that he had.

The Scott-Ward Fight.

About fifty men went on the Clara Parker at 5:15 yesterday morning to Harrington's Point to witness a fight between Thos. Ward and Bill Scott, for $250 a side. Tickets were $5. Arrived on the ground, a twenty-four ring was made and the men stripped for the fray. Ward was the heavier of the two, and from his previous record as a stayer bet was in his favor, though many maintained that Scott could outwind him. Johnson was referee, Alex. Gilbert and Alex. Grant timekeepers. Dave Campbell of Portland and Dick McCarron were Ward's seconds, and Joe Baker and Ed. Smith performed similar offices for Ward's light-weight antagonist. For the first twelve rounds Ward forced the fighting, and it looked as if his backers would win. After that the contest grew tame and uninteresting. As far as time is concerned the fight lasted four hours and thirty-six minutes. They fought six-tyne rounds, three minutes to a round, one minute rest. At the close of the sixty-eighth round the referee said that if no one was knocked out in the next round he would declare the fight a draw. No one being knocked out, the fight was decided to be nobody's, all bets were declared off, and the crowd returned to Astoria at half-past two yesterday afternoon. Both men were disfigured slightly, each of the principals saying that the only reason he didn't win the fight was because the other fellow wouldn't let him.

LATEST TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Dispatches From Europe and the East.

AUGUSTA, Me., June 29.—Governor Bodwell has sent a communication to the attorney general of the state and every county attorney in the state calling their attention to the fact that a conspiracy exists to evade the prohibition law by an unjustifiable interpretation of the state revenue regulations regarding the sale of liquors in imported packages and calling upon them to enforce the law to its fullest extent.

YELLOW JACK IN FLORIDA. CHICAGO, June 29.—Information has been received of eight additional cases of yellow fever developed during the last few days at Key West, Florida, evidencing rapid spread of the disease. It is now beyond the control of the health authorities. The character of the disease is very fatal. Out of forty-six cases to-day nineteen have died.

A PECULIAR MARKET. NEW YORK, June 29.—The wheat market at present is in a very peculiar condition due wholly to manipulations both here and in the west. The strangest part of the situation was that there was no excitement. June delivery advanced fully 2 cents per bushel based on covering by "shorts." Last evening the ruling price was 92 1/2 cents per bushel and up to noon to-day 99 cents reached with very little trading. July sold off a trifle while late months show a slight gain. Speculation, generally speaking, is very moderate.

DEATH OF A RAILROAD MAN. PERT, Ind., June 29.—A. A. Talmage, vice-president and general manager Wabash railroad died here this morning of Bright's disease of the kidneys coupled with dysentery. He had been suffering sometime and was on his way to Lake Erie for a yachting cruise and hoping to gain relief. His wife and two physicians were with him.

A STRICKEN CITY. MARSHFIELD, Wis., June 29.—The total loss from the recent conflagration will foot up $150,000 with an insurance of about one-fourth. Aid in the shape of money, food and clothing is pouring into the stricken city on every train.

A NEW REGISTER. WASHINGTON, June 29.—The president to-day appointed Francis F. Patterson of Salem, N. C., register of the land office at Lewiston, Idaho, vice Patrick Winston, Jr., resigned. LAID THE CORNER STONE. DUBLIN, June 29.—Prince Albert Victor of Wales to-day laid the foundation stone of the new wing of the hospital for incurables at Donnebrogue. He was fairly well received and but few hostile cheers greeted him.

NECESSARY PRECAUTIONS. SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Since the Chinese leper was discovered at San Diego the steamship companies have become very cautious and keep a close watch on the movements of the Chinese about their vessels. It has not been customary to examine individuals of any race moving from one coast point to another; but now medical men of the steamer station themselves by the gang-plank and make observations of those who go on board. It is thought that the San Diego leper was probably smuggled on board the Queen of the Pacific and brought to this city, but he was not.

A GREAT SOCIAL EVENT. LONDON, June 29.—The queen's garden party at Buckingham palace this afternoon was a great social event. Several thousand invitations were issued and all the royal visitors who came to attend the jubilee were present.

A PORTLAND SUICIDE. PORTLAND, June 29.—Last night John Rattner, a bankrupt saloon keeper whose place of business had been on the corner of Fifth and B streets, committed suicide by drowning. He was seen at the corner of Sherman and Water streets to throw off his hat and coat and with the rest of his clothes on plunge into the Willamette river, never rising again. Acquaintances of the deceased attribute the act to domestic and financial troubles. At noon to-day the remains were recovered by means of grappling-irons in twelve feet of water and removed to the morgue.

BEN HOLLADAY ILL. Ben Holladay is lying quite ill at St. Vincent hospital.

GONE TO KANSAS CITY. More than three months ago Geo. W. Percy, head bookkeeper for Frank Bros. Improvement company, started a large number of friends and his family in this city by suddenly disappearing. The Masonic fraternity, of which he was a prominent member, instituted a rigid search for him, dead or alive. The mystery attached to his whereabouts has intensified by the fact that his accounts are all straight and his domestic relations reported to be of a pleasant nature. Up to within a few days ago it was generally believed that the missing man had grown insane and wandered off to some unfrequented spot and died of exposure. Recent developments have put a new phase on Percy's disappearance. Only a few days ago he was seen in Kansas City and in good physical and mental health. He was sane enough to draw upon a certain bank in this city, for funds he had deposited there, through the Commercial National bank of Kansas City. His family still reside in Portland.

Whiskeyn Wants to Stop and Think. Did you ever see them "milk" the eggs from the fish? It is so curious and yet so simple that I will tell you briefly how it is done. A large female salmon, conspicuously large from the great abundance of eggs she contains, is taken from the river with a net, then a man takes her by the tail and lays her back up his bare arm and with his right hand milks stream after stream of bright golden eggs into a wooden tub. After taking many pounds of eggs in this way the fish is dropped back into the river, and she swims away good naturedly, as if rather glad of what had happened. Then a male fish is taken up with the net out of the river where where fish are so thick that you can literally "stir them with a stick." And the same process is gone through with the father of fishes. Only instead of eggs there is merely a milky fluid called "milk." Then he is flopped back into the river also and goes his way. Then the man reaches his broad hand and big arm down into the wooden tub and stirs the eggs and milk about; and that is all. They are "impregnated" now and ready to be put up in layers of moss and sent thus all over the world. The man in charge of the "hatchery" told me that not one egg in 100 thus prepared and sent abroad would fail to hatch; while in truth, by the natural process in the streams where fish are left to themselves, not one egg in 1,000 ever comes to anything. It makes one want to stop and think!

JOAQUIN MILLER.

AN OLD TIMER. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 25, 1887. Editor ASTORIAN: Colonel Geo. Hunter, a distinguished pioneer of the northwest, takes his departure from our city to-morrow by steamer State of California for your city, visiting relatives there and thence proceeding to his home in eastern Washington. It will be interesting to your patrons, many of whom are well acquainted with the publication of his reminiscences, the supervision of which brought him hither about two months ago. We are convinced after a careful review of the work, consisting of 450 pages of closely condensed reading matter, that its advent will create surprise to many; that one who never attended school a day in his life should produce a work of such literary merit—such fascinating interest, is conclusive evidence of the possession of a genius of no ordinary character. Coming to the Pacific coast in the early fifties, when but a lad of—annoyed, left alone by accident on the Oregon trail over a thousand miles from western civilization to make his way thither, with threatened starvation on one hand, and relentless hostilities on the other, the hero of these pages, like the dauntless Joe Meek, his cousin, who had preceded him but a few years, early learned the noble lesson of self-reliance, which so well bore him triumphantly through the conflicts that were in store for him. For the service he was deemed to render his country in some of her sorest trials of Indian warfare, the task he so early learned was of greater utility than years of training at the best eastern college in our land. The Colonel's health has been much improved of late but if sufficiently recuperated, he will forthwith proceed on a lecturing tour through the east, commencing at your city. We feel warranted in predicting for the Colonel a warm reception in his travels and a wide sale of his "Reminiscences of an Old Timer." BANCROFT HISTORY COMPANY. F. B. LOGAN.

Greatly Excited.

Not a few of the citizens of Astoria have recently become greatly excited over the astounding facts, that several of their friends who had been proffered by their physicians as incurable and beyond all hope—suffering with that dreaded monster Consumption—have been completely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the only remedy that does positively cure all throat and lung diseases, Croup, Colds, Asthma and Bronchitis. Trial bottles free at W. E. DeWent & Co.'s Drug Store, large bottles $1.

WILL THE SHIP BE REPAIRED?

Restrictions Upon Foreign Residents.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The second survey of the Hartford at San Francisco has resulted in the discovery that the vessel is much more rotten than at first supposed, and her repairs will cost $75,000 more than the amount estimated by the first board of inspectors. This brings the estimated cost of her repairs up to 32 per cent. of her original cost, or 12 per cent. more than the limit prescribed by law. There is a great deal of love for the old flagship of Farragut, and naval officers generally, especially those engaged in the late war, hope that the point will be stretched to keep her afloat as long as her beams will hold together. There is a special appropriation for repairs of certain war vessels, the Hartford being among them, and it is thought that the repairs, though costing more than the limit, can be made out of this special fund. The secretary, however, in approving the recommendation of the first board of survey, expressly stated that the repairs should not be allowed to go beyond the limit of cost fixed by law. He has now under consideration the question whether the appropriation mentioned, and if he concludes that it can, he will make a concession to the sentiment entering into the case, and order the repairs to be made.

BERLIN, June 28.—The latest anti-German project to which the attention of Berlin officials has been directed is the proposal before the chamber of deputies making foreign residents in France who may be members of associations hostile to French interests, liable to fine and imprisonment and expulsion. The proposal is capable of such elastic interpretation as to cover all Germans so joining in France. The measure, if supported by the government, will be assumed here to be directly hostile to Germans, and lead to an energetic remonstrance as a breach of the Frankfurt treaty. The official gazette for the reichstag, in contradicting French fables about the suppression of foreign traders and French manufacturers in Alsace-Lorraine, defines clearly what the German government aims to accomplish. It declares that the government's desire is to foster all commercial activities and to take only such measures as may be necessary to maintain public peace.

The government has now decided not to delay further the trial of Klein and his colleagues for high treason, committed at the instigation of Schneibels.

Give Them a Chance! That is to say, your lungs. Also your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

A Behring Sea Decision.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Advice received here from Sitka, Alaska, state that the trial of Captain Morrison, master of the schooner Laura, for killing five fur seals in Alaskan waters within the three-league limit of the shore, was held in the United States district court, on June 11th. After the testimony of a number of witnesses, Judge Dawson addressed the jury. His honor said that the preponderance of evidence was unquestionably in favor of the defendant, who could not be held liable for acts committed outside of the three marine league limit, with the exception of the waters of Behring sea, which was still an open question. His honor therefore directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, and the defendant was liberated. The decision rendered is regarded as an important one. Advice further states that three English schooners, seized for violation of laws against the killing of fur-bearing animals within the territory of Alaska, will soon be sold by the marshal.

Unnecessary Misery. Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. HAMBURG FIGS were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents. At all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co., proprietors, S. F.

What! Do You Think. Jeff of the U. S. gives you a meal for nothing and a glass of something to drink? Not much; but he gives the best meal and more of it than any other restaurant in town. 25 cents.

The finest and nicest steak to be had in town at Fabre's.

What is better than a glass of liquor? A cup of delicious coffee at Fabre's. Try Fabre's celebrated pan roast. Ten cents for a cup of Fabre's nice coffee.
