

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1892.

To-night Wad-el-Ward At Liberty Hall. Tickets at Griffin & Reed's.

Few salmon in the river; too blamed cold. There will be a camping at Ocean Park next Thursday.

The Glenaron has 11,500 cases salmon aboard; the Yarkand, 2,972.

The Rosie Olsen is receiving some repairs and will shortly have her steam power in satisfactory shape.

J. L. Brown, late editor and proprietor of the Astorian, is in the city with a view to locating in this vicinity.

Frost is reported at various places through the Willamette Valley, ice forming on water troughs, etc., in some places this week.

Mrs. Boehau, the aged grandmother of Wm. Pohl, was seized with a paralytic stroke last Thursday, and it is feared she cannot recover.

These are the kind of mornings that the flies cling to the kitchen wall and wash to goodness some one would get up and start a fire.

The Warrick Castle sailed yesterday with an Astoria loaded cargo, the most valuable of any that has crossed the Columbia bar outward this year.

Sherman & Ward have a good outfit of double and single buggies, carts, phaetons, etc., for their new lively stable, and expect to be ready for business very shortly.

The professional card of Mr. John H. Smith, attorney-at-law, appears in another column. Mr. Smith has rented rooms 4 and 5 over the City Book Store, and will practice law.

Divers and sundry ordinances bearing on fire matters, are being compiled and the present ordinances in force are being put in shape for issuance in proper form codified and indexed.

Astoria No. One's engine house has been refitted and repainted and re-shingled and looks fine inside and out. About $150 repairs have been put on the building, greatly to its improvement.

Joe Leathers is building a steamer for I. N. Henness. It will be thirty-four feet long, eight foot beam and will be about four tons burthen. When completed, she will plow the raging main in the vicinity of Sunshine.

In San Francisco seamen are reported becoming more and more scarce, if that were possible, and while only four deepwater ships need a complement of men, none are to be had. Boarding masters want a bonus of $30 for every sailor.

Surrenant & Ferguson are building a city pest house, about a mile south of the Main street cut; it will cost $400 and will be finished by the 1st. In case of epidemic disease of any kind, small pox, etc., such a place would be a necessity.

The following postmasters have been appointed for Oregon: Amos D. Hiland, at Lowell, Lane county, and Oliver Baurrett, at Woodburn, Marion county. A new office has been established at Wimer, Jackson county, with Simon Simpson as postmaster.

Fires in parlor and sitting room stoves have been found to be a requisite of comfort this week. One recent arrival from way down upon the Swane river came in with his teeth chattering yesterday morning and wanted to know when we had our summer.

"Before being lynched Wednesday night," says one of the Bell's Dakota exchanges, "Col. Hossdealer handed us $2 and requested that the Hayrake be continued to his family for another year. The colonel is a gentleman and a public spirited citizen. Our best wishes accompany him."

In the justice court yesterday morning Mrs. M. Furney was sued by F. H. Page, of Portland, for $52.77, alleged to be due on account; judgment for plaintiff; the case will be appealed. In the afternoon the case of Mike Erickson, arrested on complaint of Sam Johnson for alleged assault and battery, was on trial.

There is a steamer war between the companies running between San Francisco and Humboldt. Two steamers, the Humboldt and Coos Bay, sailed from San Francisco yesterday; the Humboldt taking cabin passengers for $3, steerage for $1, and freight for $1 per ton, the Coos Bay charging $4, $2 and $1.

A steamship is reported building to run between Gray's harbor and San Francisco, to carry passengers and lumber. It will be able to take thirty of the former and 400,000 feet of the latter each trip, and will cost when completed $47,000 and will make her first trip on the 2nd of next month.

There was a pleasant excursion and basket picnic to Bear river yesterday on the steamer Electric, under the auspices of the ladies' guild of Grace Episcopal church. About one hundred ladies, gentlemen and children composed the party; and a good time was enjoyed by the party who arrived home shortly after seven o'clock in the evening.

A new kind of nail, for attaching mouldings and other light lumber, which leaves no nail holes, is made with a point at each end, and with an outwardly projecting head or shoulder midway between the points. The nail is first driven into the wood by means of a punch, which straddles the protruding point and bears on the head. When enough has been driven in, the moulding is placed over the nail and driven down.

The grand lodge A. O. U. W. at Portland last Thursday elected the following officers: Grand master workman, Geo. T. Russell, of Oakland; grand foreman, E. L. Smith, Hood river; overseer, Oliver Hall, Colfax; recorder, J. T. Brown, Olympia; receiver, R. L. Durham, Portland; representatives, W. D. Hare, Hillsboro; D. T. Wheeler, Seattle; D. L. Green, Salem; trustee, W. J. Plymale, Jacksonville.

A hundred and sixty acres of land on Bunker Hill was sold at public auction in St. Helens on Tuesday last for $250, and was purchased by the Ilwaco and Shoalwater Bay Transportation company, and was purchased on a trust deed held for the company by J. Q. A. Bowly. The land had been owned, says the Astorian, by Mrs. Marden, the wife of the defaulting treasurer, who placed it in trust for the company to cover her husband's default.

George F. Scott, of South Bend, Pacific county, was killed on the Willapa on the morning of Thursday, the 7th inst. He was barking a log before shooting it into the river, when the stake that was holding it slipped, and the log rolled down on him and crushed him to death. He was buried at Riverdale the following day. He was an old, experienced logger from New Brunswick, and leaves a wife and seven children, four of whom were his step children.

The upper Columbia is rapidly receding. It lacked several inches of reaching the high water mark of 1876. It was higher this season than it has been for ten years. It has furnished a good flow of drift timber along its banks, and the people living along the upper river have improved the opportunity to lay in supplies of timber for rails, posts, etc. It was a welcome treat to them, but disastrous to those who had farms along the Columbia and Willamette bottoms.

J. E. Sheppard, San Francisco manager of the Oregon immigration bureau, says he has never known immigration to Washington territory and Oregon to be as heavy as at the present time. The Pacific Coast boom that began in California is extending north to the international line. The class of people who have come north to take up land are better than the average of past seasons. Almost all have money; not fortunes, but sufficient to keep them independent of the farm for two years or more. There are few pauper foreigners among them to make themselves a burden.

Regarding the recent drowning of four men at Tillamook, a note received last Thursday by the Oregonian gives the names of the Pennsylvanians as Hoover, LeBaron and Johnson, and the Nestucca man as John Holbrook. On Tuesday, the 5th inst., these men applied at the board of immigration rooms for information in regard to timber land. They gave their names as W. W. Hepburn, L. LeBaron and Z. L. Hoover. They said they were from Pennsylvania and represented a syndicate of capitalists, who would furnish money to put up a large sawmill if sufficient good timber land could be secured. They were accompanied by a man named Cal Johnson, a resident of Portland, who appeared to be well acquainted with them. They were advised to visit Tillamook county, and on Thursday left for Oregon city to examine plots of land in the land office there. On Friday they went to North Yamhill where they took the stage for Tillamook, and were, in the natural order of things, arrive at Tillamook city, at the head of the bay, on Saturday, at which time the men drowned are reported to have arrived there. On the hotel register at North Yamhill appear the names of Z. L. Hoover, Lumber City, Pa., L. DeBaron and Cal Johnson. They are, without doubt, the parties who called at the rooms of the board of immigration, but W. W. Hepburn, if he belonged to the party, appears to have left it. LeBaron was probably from the same place as Hoover. The Nestucca man drowned was John Holbrook.

Give Them a Chance! That is to say, your lungs. Also your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boscbee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Real Estate Transfers. J. T. Mulkey to J. P. Austin, part lot 6, sec. 20, T. 6 N. R. 10 W.; $75. The finest and nicest steak to be had in town at Fabre's.

What! Do You Think? Jeff of the U. S. gives you a meal for nothing and a glass of something to drink? Not much; but he gives the best meal and more of it than any other restaurant in town. 25 cents.

For a Fine Dish of Ice Cream Go to the Central Restaurant, next to Ford & Stokes. Lemon Ice Cream at Fabre's to-day.

LATEST NEWS BY TELEGRAPH

New York, July 15.—At the usual meeting of the stock exchange to-day at noon vice-president A. B. Hill, apparently full of health, ascended the platform to announce the death of M. M. T. Derivas, and had hardly finished when he was taken with a sudden weakness. Friends assisted him to the entry, but he had just passed the flight of stairs leading to the door when he expired. Announcement of his death was immediately made, and a special meeting of the governing committee called to take appropriate action. The exchange immediately adjourned until to-morrow.

A NATIONAL TEACHER'S INSTITUTE. CHICAGO, July 15.—At the national educational convention held in this city to-day the following officers have thus far been elected: Aaron Gove, of Colorado, president; James H. Canfield, of Kansas, secretary; Edwin C. Hewitt, of Illinois, treasurer. Among the vice-presidents is Fred. M. Campbell, of California, formerly superintendent of public instruction in that state. Among the directors are Ira G. Host, of California, James H. Baker, of Colorado, T. B. McDonald, of Nevada, Charles L. Howard and William Stewart, of Utah, and J. O. Churchill, of Wyoming. Oregon, Washington territory, Idaho and New Mexico are yet to be filled. The following papers were read this morning: "What place manual training should occupy in the system of public schools, in urban communities and in large towns," by Francis A. Walker, president of the Massachusetts institute; "Technology in country districts," by superintendent M. A. Newell, of Baltimore; "The kinds of methods to be introduced, and practical methods of instruction," by Miss L. A. Fay, of Springfield, Massachusetts, with illustrations. The discussion was opened by C. W. Woodward, of St. Louis.

AT THE OLD HOME. FORESTPORT, N. Y., July 15.—Notwithstanding the sun arose gloriously over the eastern hills this morning there were no signs of life at the residence of "Dominie Cleveland," where president Cleveland's party are. Until nearly nine o'clock last evening Mrs. Cleveland played a number of selections on the piano and sang one of her favorite songs. The music, however, seemed to attract the villagers, and as soon as the fact was discovered she ceased, though the curtains were not drawn and the party could be seen chatting together. He is suffering from fatigue and a slight attack of cholera moriosa.

ALL QUIET AT HONOLULU. WASHINGTON, July 15.—Secretary of state Bayard to-day received a telegram from United States minister Carter at Honolulu, dated July 5th, saying that affairs were quiet in that country. Additional particulars by mail are expected in a few days.

FULLY INSURED. PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—A fire at the brewery of Louis Bergdel & Co., to-day, caused a loss of $115,000 on the buildings and contents; the insurance will cover the loss.

SOME SAVAGE FIGHTING. BOMBAY, July 15.—News from native sources has been received to the effect that a battle between the troops of the ameer of Afghanistan and the native insurgents had recently taken place at Mashai and that the ameer's forces had been victorious; they are said to have captured 160 Andars and Tarikis and have sent the heads of 200 of the slain to Cabul. A large force of Jaghuri Hazarahs subsequently defeated the troops of the ameer who is now sending reinforcements to his army.

WILL PRACTICE A LITTLE. LONDON, July 15.—The Thistle will make a voyage across the Atlantic under one lower mast and reefed top-sail, about the size of a sixty ton yacht mainsail. It is the intention of her master to practice cruising in American waters before the races for the American cup.

GIVING THE HORSES A SHOW. VIENNA, July 15.—The government has issued an order which again permits the exportation of horses.

SUGAR REFINERY BURNED. MONTREAL, July 15.—The St. Lawrence sugar refinery was entirely destroyed by fire this forenoon; one man was killed and two others injured by jumping from windows. The estimated loss is $50,000.

AN ORDERLY OBSERVANCE. PARIS, July 15.—The celebration which began yesterday in commemoration of the fall of the Bastille continued until this morning. The fête was observed in an orderly way. The newspapers are highly complimentary to the people for their good sense shown in refraining from everything of a disturbing nature. There were few isolated manifestations.

BOLD BURGLAR BURKE.

An Early Morning Chase and Capture.

When Dick Leathers opened his trunk to get some clothes at his room in the hotel last Thursday night he found that some one with vague ideas on the acquisition of property had been there ahead of him and purloined a suit of clothes, a scarf pin, etc., to the value of $97.50. Suspicion fell on Wm. Burke or Wm. Dolan, who had occupied the next room a night or two before but who that night was sleeping in another part of the house. Officer Linville awakened him and asked him where was that valise that he'd had. Burke said it was gone. Linville and Leathers then went to the docks and looked through both Portland boats but could find no trace of it. About three o'clock yesterday morning Burke owned up to it being on the boat at the O. R. & N. dock, but said it belonged to his chum, who had gone to Portland the day before. On opening it Leathers' clothes were found in it, whereas Burke expressed great surprise, which was increased when Linville went through his pockets and found a receipt for the valise, Leather's scarf pin in his pocket book, and a choice selection of false keys, a wrench, a pocket knife and other bijouterie in his pockets. Linville walked Burke toward the jail, Burke said he wouldn't go, he'd die first, and after considerable interchange of opinion about being locked up he broke away and ran, Linville in pursuit, that officer finally firing a shot across Burke's bow, causing him to heave to in front of Bain's mill. He was taken to jail and at seven o'clock yesterday evening he appeared before justice Cleveland, who, after listening to testimony and accompanying remarks, remanded Mr. Burke to the dungeon to await the action of the grand jury. It was one o'clock yesterday morning when officer Linville heard of the matter and at four o'clock he had his man in jail.

The New York Philharmonic Club.

The Philharmonic Club gave a delightful and dignified opening to its ninth annual series of concerts. The performance was marked by composition and symmetry in all its parts, and the interpretation of the beautiful work was as fine as any we can recall in New York City.—New York Tribune.

Catarrh to Consumption. Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of its deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all genuine remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful panaceas.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless. In the most advanced stages, the most inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough. SARGENT'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing. Economical and never-failing.
