THIS IS A BIG COUNTRY.

Some of the prominent eastern papers take the position that the Cascade locks and the ship railway or canal around The Dalles should be built by the state of Oregon. They seem to have an idea that the scope of country to be benefited by opening the Columbia is about the size of Rhode Island and comprises a country or two of Oregon. The area opened up by this improvement is larger than the whole New England states, and over half of this is Uncle Sam's land. As for the Columbia, the rivers of all New England run into one and then turned into the Columbia would not make four inches difference in the depth of the stream. With equal justice they should demand that the state of Mississippi keep the mouth of that river open, or that San Francisco open the Sacramento. The trouble with the good citizens "down east" is that they want the world, they ask $100,000 to dredge Passamaquady creek, and $40,000 for improving the navigable rivers of Rhode Island. They want raw material admitted free of duty so they will have to pay less to the west for it; and they want the duty kept on manufactured goods so the west will have to pay them more for them. They want all the appropriations kept east of the Alleghenies, (and they kept them there until the Mississippi valley out numbered them) and they want all the balance of the country to put up the money. We heard of a Rhode Islander once whose wife asked him to buy her a darning needle. He went out to the barn and hunted up an egg and took it down to the store. There he said to the merchant, "Will you give me a darning needle for an egg?" "Yes," said the merchant handing it to him. Well, said he, "That's trade; can't you treat?" "Yes," said the merchant, "what will you have." "Well, a glass of sherry will do." This was drawn and he was about to drink when his eye fell on the egg which the merchant still held in his hand, and he paused and said:

"Say, can't you give a fellow an egg in it?" The egg was broken in the glass and happened to be a double yolk; It was downed, however, and as they started to ward the front of the store this noble representative of little Rhodey whined out, "say, that was a double egg; you owe me another darning needle." It is exactly the way the N. E. 1/4 of the N. E. 1/4 of this great country gives it to the balance of it, and the worst of it is, it gets away with the whole business.

Bavaria has had luck with her kings. The late king Ludwig became insane and committed suicide, and his successor, king Otto, is so dangerously demented that four physicians take turn in constantly guarding him. His favorite amusement is shooting peasant boys! To humor this hobby he is kept supplied with rifles loaded with powder only. Presently a boy crosses the road, the king shoots, the boy drops, and is carried away by excited individuals who have "accidentally" witnessed the scene. Needless to say the boy is unhurt, and gets five cents for his trouble.

Heroes and Heroines.
There are a few who endure bodily troubles without complaint. Did you ever meet among the heroes or heroines of your acquaintance—if any such there have been—one with a yellowish cast of countenance and that jaundiced aspect generally, which the most unskilled eye recognizes as the product of a disordered liver, who did not complain, and peevishly too, of the soreness of the recalcitrant organ, of pains beneath the right shoulder blade, of dyspeptic symptoms, constipation and headache? Of course you never did, and of course the individual was not using Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, or he would not so have looked—so have complained. To purify the blood when contaminated with bile, and conduct the secretion into its proper channel, to re-establish regularity of the bowels, banish bilious headache and remove impediments to complete digestion, nothing can approach in efficacy this peerless alternative and tonic. Malarial complaints, always involving the liver and kidney and bladder inactivity, are remedied by it. It is a capital appetizer.

Among the impossibilities may be mentioned an ugly baby.—Providence Sunday Telegram.

Praying For Rain.

CAMBRIDGE, Ill., June 30.—The country is burning up under a blazing sun. No such drouth as this now prevails has existed in this section of the country for many years. The roads are ankle-deep with dust, the pastures are brown, the leaves on forest and shade trees shriveled up, and each hot breath of air from the cloudless horizon drives them away in showers. Creeks have run dry and the water in the larger streams is at a lower stage than was ever known before. Many wells have been pumped dry, and in cases water for family use has to be carried one or two miles. There has not been a soaking rain in this part of the country since March. Two showers in April and one each in May and June had but a temporary effect on crops. Unless a heavy rain comes speedily all kinds of grain will be well nigh destroyed. Stunted yellow spears bending disconsolately over immense beds of dust are the only evidence that the farmers sowed any corn this year. The leaves of the fruit trees are falling off, and the fruit which promised to be plenty is wrinkled and dried to the stem. Raspberries look as though they were producing a crop of shot, so infinitesimal and hard are the berries.

The drought has become so terrible that public prayers are being offered for rain. The fences along the country roads and the dead walls of villages are plastered with huge yellow and red bills calling for special service at the district school houses and churches. The following poster attracts particular attention:

PRAYER FOR RAIN.
SPECIAL SERVICE WILL BE HELD IN THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, TUESDAY, JUNE 28, AT 10 A. M. IT IS HOPED THAT THE MEMBERS OF THE DIFFERENT CHURCHES, THE FARMERS OF THE DISTRICT AND THE BUSINESS MEN OF OUR TOWN WILL DEVOTE THE ABOVE HOUR TO PLEADING WITH HEAVEN FOR RAIN TO SAVE OUR CROPS FROM RUIN.
CAMBRIDGE, ILL., JUNE 28, 1887.

A book on etiquette informs you "how to tell a man larger than yourself that he is a liar." But the best way is to tell him through the telephone, and then go out into the country for a few days.

Scarlet Fever.
Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is unequalled in the treatment of Scarlet Fever. Used as a gargle it prevents the throat from becoming diphtheritic, allays inflammation and subdues the pain. Used to sponge the body it allays the itching inflammation of the skin and destroys infection.

Exposed in the sick-room it will prevent the spread of contagion, and keep the atmosphere wholesome.

London Times' editorials are so heavy that boys can't fly kites made out of that paper.—Philadelphia North American.
