The name of the man who died suddenly at Ilwaco last Tuesday morning was Brown; he was from Portland, whither the body has been taken.

Painters and carpenters are all busy, and the only reason lots of folks don't point up and build new houses and beautify and adorn is because they can't get the material on the ground.

The county court met on the 18th inst., and received and approved the reports of the sheriff and county clerk, and instructed the county clerk to make out a statement of the financial condition of the county.

Samuel P. Putnam, the celebrated liberal lecturer, and secretary of the American secular union, will deliver a free lecture at Liberty Hall to-morrow evening, on "Universal Mental Liberty." Admission free and every-body invited.

"Joe, the clam peddler," was in the city last Monday, from Clatsop, tickled greatly at the convenience afforded by the ferry. He brought over a cartload of clams, sold them here for big money, got gloriously home-comely and went back proclaiming his prosperity to the heavens.

Poor old Professor Garragns—everybody knew Garragns—died at Independence last Friday. He got a crazy notion in his head a long time ago that he was a United States senator, or ought to be, and made considerable fun for the boys at the capital on various occasions. We could have better spared a better man.

The outside salmon canneries are beginning to crowd each other. The Coast Mail says: "The machinery, brick, etc., for the cannery across the bay came up on the last steamer, and a force of men are busily at work putting up buildings and placing things in position so as to be ready to commence canning as soon as the fall fishing begins. Mr. Marshal, the owner of the cannery, came up from San Francisco on the last steamer.

Justice Cleveland's court was busy yesterday dispensing even-handed justice at market rates, the occasion being the complaint of a lady residing in the extreme western part of the city, who claimed to have been shaken by an irate Chinaman because she drove her unoffending mule cow out of his yard. The Chinaman's defense vanished like the mists of the morning before the mandate of the court that he pay $20 including costs.

Ever since the Carrier Dote dragged her anchor on the Columbia cable it has been useless. Three unsuccessful attempts have been made to place the break and repair the line, and now a fourth will be made by the government which, like Providence, moves in a mysterious way its wonders to perform. If on this occasion it will enable the telegraph to plant its footsteps in the sea and ride the raging storm, all same Providence again, it will be a convenience to all concerned.

A number of changes have been made in the commanders of coasting vessels. Captain Martenden has relieved captain Kale of the bark D. C. Murray; captain Schwartzing, of the bark Samoset, has been displaced by captain Monroe, late mate of the bark Alden Besse; captain Sawyer, late of the burned ship Ocean King, takes the ship Erickson, relieving captain Johnson, and captain Ross, of the schooner Maria E. Smith, has been succeeded by captain Youn-green, formerly of the Del Norte.

A good house greeted Dan'l Sully and his company last night in the play of "Daddy Nolan," a play full of sunshine and shadow, of mirth and pathos, of smiles and tears, of scenes that provoke the broadest laughter and call tears to the eyes of the audience. It was well put on the stage and well acted, the Brooklyn bridge lit up in the third act being particularly well received. Sully is a good actor, and "Jimmy" is worthy special mention: the rest are fully up to the average and present many pleasing specialties.

There are a good many funny things, and some are funnier than others. One of the funniest is the recent visit of a Chinese gardener to the Seaside house. Everyone knows the care and diligence bestowed by these Chinamen on their vegetable gardens towards Smith's Point. One of the "houses" went over last Saturday to the Seaside, and contracted with the manager to supply him with vegetables from Astoria for the season. He rode on horseback, all same Mexican man, and on his return was quite proud of his successful negotiations.

Postal inspector George Mason has received orders from Washington, says the News, to immediately inspect all the fourth class postoffices in the district under his charge. The magnitude of this order will be appreciated when it is learned that there are 514 fourth class offices in Oregon, 413 in Washington territory, 250 in Montana and 8 in Alaska. This makes a total of 1,185. These are all in the district under Mr. Mason's care, and he and the inspectors under him have a herculean task to perform. Following are the total number of postoffices above mentioned: Oregon, 528; Washington, 426; Montana, 262; and Alaska, 8. Total, 1,224.

MINCHESTER, England, July 20.—The Guardian's commercial article says: "The tone of the market is a trifle quiet, moderate, and general buying for early delivery, which was a prominent feature in the cloth sections last week, has somewhat lessened. There is a change in prices except in a few instances, where producers who have been desirous to sell or where the market is full rates. Business for early deliveries is mostly in abeyance, and sellers are apart, and merchants as a rule have bought up as except in a few cases where the demand is chiefly for plain staples."

LONDON, July 20.—The Times, referring to the opinions made by the conservative and liberal unionists, says: "The lord chamberlain was the principal agent in concluding negotiations between the government and the unionists. The report of this morning reiterates its cry for unity among the unionists. It says his source of weakness will be apparent so long as lord Salisbury is allowed to declare himself in the minority. New appeals should be made to the unionists to take their places in the ministerial ranks."

The News says lord Salisbury has capitulated on terms, and do honor to his cynical frankness. The government has been betrayed to the Irish landlords for the sake of union and office. The power of the Irish commissioners to receive judicial rents will be valid for 30 years, at the end of which time is expected the purchaser's bill will be in operation.

HOWELL NOT A MEMBER. Howell has notified Edward that he will call the attention of the house of commons to Ford's conduct in calling Howell "a damned liar."

DAMAGED THE VESSEL. NEW YORK, July 20.—The Sun says: "Private letters from officers and machinists on board the new steel cruiser Atlanta say that during the target practice in Gardner's bay the day before yesterday the eight-inch bow and stern Barbettes pivot guns recoiled with such force as to tear loose the trucks on which they turn and also to rip up a portion of the heavy gun deck. These guns are the heaviest afloat in the service, and were tested on board the ship by our naval officers. Just how severe the damage is could not be learned."

A HEAVY LOSS. BERGEN POINT, N. J., July 20.—The Standard Oil company's fire at Constable Hook is now under control. The loss is estimated at about $500,000.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT. NEW YORK, July 20.—By six o'clock this morning the great fire at the Standard Oil company's works at Constable Hook, New Jersey, was under control. Two large warehouses and three tanks, four big docks, and over ten thousand barrels of oil have been destroyed. At the docks there had been a large number of vessels; these had, however, been towed out into the stream, but none too soon. First one of the piers took fire, and then another and another till every one of the large piers were on fire, casting a lurid glare on New York bay. By this time the fire tugs had arrived and fought the fire from the water; each threw several streams upon the piers and it was only by the united efforts of men and tugs that they checked the flames.

LET US HAVE PEACE. NEW YORK, July 20.—The World notes the fact that governor Hill, ex-secretary Manning, Conrad Jordan and Dan Lamont have been spending the past few days at Long Beach together. It asks, "Does this mean peace?"

WANT THE OLD RATE. NEW YORK, July 20.—The union longshoremen have given notice that they want the old rate of wages, sixty cents an hour for night work and for work done on Sundays and other holidays.

CLEVE BACK AGAIN. WASHINGTON, July 20.—President Cleveland and party arrived in Washington this morning at ten o'clock.

GOT OUT OF THE ASYLUM. PARIS, July 20.—Baron Seilleceere, a rich Frenchman, who was placed in the lunatic asylum by his relatives who charged that he was insane over an imaginary fortune which he had made in America, has been released from the asylum.

GLAD TO HAVE HIM COME. VIENNA, July 20.—The press welcomes emperor William to Austria in an unusually warm manner.

IN A GOLD BOX. DUBLIN, July 20.—In compliance with a request made by the Farnell members of the house of commons, lord mayor Sullivan has called a meeting of the municipal council for Friday when the freedom of the city will be conferred on Wm. O'Brien, the city editor of United Ireland, and Hon. P. Collins, of Boston.

TWO PRIZES WON. LONDON, July 20.—The rifle contest for the Kolapore cup took place at Wimbledon to-day. The English team won with an aggregate score of 710; the Canadian team second, 663. The second prize which the Canadian team were awarded, was eighty pounds sterling.

WASHINGTON IRVING'S GREATEST WORK.

Life of George Washington, by Washington Irving. In four volumes, with over 100 illustrations; cloth, $3.95; half Morocco, $1.00. Postage, 50c.

It goes without saying, that every American should be familiar with the life of Washington. The nobility of his character, as displayed in the most trying circumstances, especially his unselfish devotion to his country, has endeared his name to countless human hearts throughout the world. He is admired as a great, and revered as a good man. Men will ever thank Irving, because he, with much enthusiasm, devoted the last years of his honorable literary career, to writing the life of this illustrious patriot, soldier, and statesman. Washington could have no better biography. Of American men of letters, Irving was the first to win recognition in European circles. His poetic refinement, his genial humor, his pure moral tone, and the almost faultless finish of his style give an abiding value to his writings. And his best qualities come to view in his Life of Washington. There is no need that we should enter into a detailed notice of a book which is so well known, and which, by reason of its excellence, has become an English classic. We simply wish to call the attention of our readers to this new and beautiful edition which Alden is now issuing. The excellence of Irving's text is universally conceded, and the form in which that text is now given to the public is, as regards beauty and accuracy, all that could be desired. These volumes will prove an ornament to any library, and their extremely low price brings them within the reach of all. For, incredible as it may seem, they can be had bound in fine cloth, gilt tops, for $3.00, and bound in half red Morocco with marbled edges for $4.00. Postage 50 cents, if by mail. This edition is finely illustrated with over 100 portraits, battle-plans, historic scenes, etc. A cheaper edition, in two volumes without illustrations, sells at $1.50 in cloth, $2.00 in half Morocco binding. Postage 28 cents. The publisher's 64 page descriptive catalogue of new and standard publications is sent free to any applicant. JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, 393 Pearl St., New York; or Lakeside Building, Chicago, Ill.

Give Them a Chance! That is to say, your lungs. Also your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Complimentary Mention. John H. Smith, who, it will be remembered, attended school at the college in this city for several years, has recently graduated from the Washington-Lee university, Virginia, and settled in Astoria for the practice of law. May success attend him.—West Side Telephone.

Two Fine Buildings to Be Erected. Capt. Flavel returned from San Francisco last Tuesday and has begun preparations for the immediate erection of two fine buildings, a three-story brick, 50x100, on the southwest corner Chenamus and Main streets, and a building 50x100 on the southwest corner Cass and Chenamus streets. The occupants of the buildings now on that property opposite the Occident, have been notified to vacate on August 1st, and on that date piles will be begun to be driven for the foundations of both buildings. They are both desirable locations, and the erection of large buildings on these prominent corners will be of advantage to all. The buildings, when ready for occupancy, will cost in the aggregate, about $60,000.

New Gas Works. Increasing business and the necessity of a larger and more permanent plant impels the Astoria Gaslight Co. to put up new gas works. A contract has been made with Langford & Bridges, and under the superintendence of J. E. Mayo, for the company, the work will immediately begin. The location is lots 3 and 4, McClure's Astoria, on the beach near the Astoria Iron Works. The buildings will be a return house, 28x56 feet and 21 feet high, and a brick tank 50 feet in diameter and 20 feet high for the holder. The intention is to have the entire plant ready for use by December 1st. The new works will cost between $10,000 and $12,000 and will be more convenient and commodious in every respect than the old.

A Little Below Regular Rates. The German bark F. H. Drexel, 624, which sailed from Hongkong May 25th, for this port, is outside. The usual legend, "with a pilot on board," doesn't apply in her case. When in the offing last Sunday she was boarded by a pilot, but the captain didn't seem to have any idea of the requirements of the situation as far as tariff was concerned, and so it is reported, wouldn't pay more than $2 a foot pilotage, which is slightly below current rates. When approached the next day by another pilot he said to have ordered the boat to sheer off, and stated his intention to remain outside until he was piloted in at those figures. At last accounts he was still outside with a very good prospect of staying there.

Robert Winters, of the firm of Hapgood & Co., is lying ill at St. Vincent's hospital, Portland.

Samuel P. Putnam. Of this exponent of liberal principles, who will speak at Liberty Hall to-morrow night, Col. Robt. G. Ingersoll says: "Mr. Putnam is one of the most thorough believers in intellectual liberty in the world. He has written some of the most stirring appeals to the liberals of this country I have ever read. He believes that the time is coming when the superstitions of this world will be forgotten—or remembered—some of them with smiles, most of them with tears. Mr. Putnam, although endowed with a poetic nature, with poetic insight, clings to the known, builds upon the experience of man and believes in fancies only when they are used as the wings of fact. His abilities are of the highest order. He compels the admiration of everyone who really loves the just and true."

Read me for my cause, and be patient that ye may read.—SHAKESPEARE.

The Greatest Study of Mankind is Man. The greatest study of mankind is man, and who ere his wondrous fame doth scan, Ponder and devise to cure an ill, Whether by device, fruit or pill, An equal benefactor is he; and we haste, The inventor of a cathartic of delicious taste, To do him honor.

Who remembers not how the distressed mother, Her child's entreaties tries to smother, That she insist not the horrid dose be taken, The remembrance e'en now does nausea awaken, And fond father, To be witness of his child's torture, Would rather pay high price, If money could purchase Cathartic nice.

We have it now! and great DE PRATT'S name, Appears upon the scroll of Esculapian fame, For after long study what would suit, Has hit upon DELICIOUS FRUIT To cure our ill.

Away at once with draughts and pills; For whether it be indigestion, liver complaint or constipation, Or any disease to which flesh is heir, Lie here with pride does boldly declare, And on the assertion will wager big, That it can be cured by a HAMBURG FIG!
