

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SUNDAY, JULY 21, 1887.

The Gen. Miles goes to Gray's harbor to-morrow.

The Queen of the Bay came in from Nestucca yesterday with wood and produce.

Preaching in the Baptist church this morning; in the evening a lecture to young men.

An extra edition of THE ASTORIAN was run off at nine o'clock yesterday morning to supply the demand.

At the Methodist church love feast at 10 a. m. and preaching at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. by Rev. W. S. Harrington.

Adjutant-general Shofner has issued all commissions of the officers of the companies of the Oregon National Guard.

In the police court yesterday John Matson, drunk, was fined $2, and T. Tretty and Charles Barr, charged with vagrancy, were assessed $20 each.

To-day the Clatsop ferry boat will leave Smith's Point at 8 and 11 a. m., and 3 and 6 p. m., and will leave Clatsop landing at 10 a. m., and 2 and 7 p. m.

The Telephone made a quick trip yesterday, getting down here about noon. She went through to Fort Clatsop, leaving on her return trip shortly after two o'clock.

There will be an excursion to-day to Young's River Falls on the new steamer Walluski, leaving Gray's dock at nine o'clock. The Western Amateur Brass Band will accompany the excursion.

Clearing for the foundation for Capt. Flavel's three-story brick goes on, and about Thursday next the work of driving piles for the foundation will begin. It will take about 800 piles for the foundations for the two buildings.

Several fishermen have hung up their nets and quit in despair of making anything at catching salmon on the Columbia this season. Yesterday came the same report as in the other twenty-two days of the month: "very few fish."

The twenty-five Chinamen on board the F. H. Dreas had return certificates from Port Townsend and San Francisco, which were examined by the customs inspectors here, canceled and returned to their owners, who will surrender them upon their arrival at Portland.

A poetical newspaper man puts it this way: "Tell me, ye angelic hosts, ye messengers of love, shall swindled printers here below have no redress above?" The angels flopped their wings and said: "To you a hope is given; delinquents on a printer's book can never enter heaven."

A short run of salmon, says the Benicia, Cala, Era, began on Thursday last, and for a couple of days fishermen were making good catches. The Carquinez cannery reopened its fish department on Monday, in hopes of getting a good share of fish, but the run has almost ceased, fishermen averaging about four to the boat.

Upon his return from a recent visit to the old home in Maine, Mr. E. L. Smith brought with him to his Astoria home some antique furniture that is valuable from the associations connected with it. One is a chair that dates back to 1637, and the other a bureau, the first one seen in western New York and in the family for nearly two hundred years.

Ralph Ingram, who secured the contract to furnish the rock for the government jetty at Yaquina, has skipped out for parts unknown, leaving Uncle Sam, his employes and bondsmen in the lurch. He took the contract for 45 cents per ton for 40,000 tons of rock loaded on the scows at his quarry. This was several cents under the next lowest bid; and very few at the time the contract was let to him had any confidence in his filling it.

FINE REVIEW AT PORTSMOUTH.

Many Distinguished Citizens in Europe.

News Notes From Various Eastern Points.

PORTSMOUTH, July 23.—Portsmouth and Southsea have been thronged for days in the anticipation of witnessing the spectacle of the jubilee naval review fixed for this afternoon at Spit Head. The already large crowds have been immensely augmented this morning by the arrival of innumerable visitors from all parts of the kingdom and the continent who came by special trains from London and other centers. Good positions for observing the display are well occupied, and the weather could not be more favorable. There is a bright sun and a light breeze blowing. Everybody is in holiday attire and gay dresses and splendid uniforms give the main thoroughfares a fine appearance. Special trains have brought from London the lords of the admiralty, members of the houses of lords and commons, and representatives for foreign legations. Minister Phelps, representing the United States, traveled in a special saloon coach, accompanied by his wife and Mrs. Loomis. In the same coach were Robert McLane, minister to France, and Jabez L. M. Curry, minister to Spain.

Henry White, second secretary of the American legation, is at London; and his wife, Lieut. Chadwick, naval attaché of the American legation, and Mrs. Chadwick and Lieut. Packham, naval attaché of the American legation, and Mrs. Buckingham, are at Paris. Thomas M. Waller, United States consul-general at London, Jos. R. Hawley and Senator Frye, of minister Phelps's party, appeared to thoroughly enjoy themselves, all being in the best of spirits. Levi P. Morton and family were aboard their private yacht, August Jay, second secretary of the American legation, is at Paris. Chester A. Arthur, Mrs. Frank Leslie and Mrs. Logan Root were also aboard the different crafts. Mr. Jay, accompanied by Mr. Kane, being aboard the Helicon, the rigging of which was hidden by flags. W. K. Vanderbilt's yacht Alca was conspicuous in the marine procession to Spit Head and was beautifully decorated with flags. The scene at Portsmouth was one of extreme animation. Hundreds of private crafts of all descriptions, all handsomely decorated and freighted with gaily dressed people, being anchored here. It looked like a gigantic marine picnic. The crowds afloat and ashore were enormous. The first ships to leave with the guests were two huge Indian liners from Southampton, which excited much admiration. They were quickly followed by others. Numerous large steamers afforded the general public an opportunity to witness a review from sea vessels. Those participating in the pageant as paraders numbered one hundred and twenty-eight pennants and included three squadrons.

The ironclads and cruisers aggregating thirty-four vessels; seventy-five torpedo boats, gun boats and iron defense ships were divided into five flotillas. There were six training brigs and thirteen troop ships. Besides these 128 ships under drill, there were the imperial and Indian troop ships appointed to carry distinguished visitors and small vessels and hook yard craft allotted to the corporation of Portsmouth.

PHILADELPHIA, Montana, July 23.—Early yesterday morning a band of thirty men awakened F. L. Currie, superintendent of the San Francisco mine, and Louis Demers and Sam Toleman, and told them they must leave town, accompanying them several miles out on the road. The men were subjected to very rough usage, ropes being put around their necks and, according to some statements, they being drawn up. When they were left it was with the warning not to return on peril of their lives. Not heeding the warning, Demers and Toleman returned to town and claiming protection of officials proceeded to swear out warrants for a number of their alleged assailants. The affair created the greatest excitement. The alleged cause of the outrage is that the men had jumped certain claims in the district.

THE TEXAS CATTLE TRAIL. St. Louis, July 23.—A telegram from Dallas and San Antonio discredits the report that the Texas cattle trail is to be abandoned, and that fifty thousand head of cattle on the way to Wyoming were yesterday turned back at the crossing of the Arkansas river. Col. Simpson, who was reported as being the agent at the cattle growers convention at Denver, says his company was not represented. Major Hillard thought the report was only intended to alarm Texas cattlemen. He said he thought that all trail cattle were finding slow sale, but that there was plenty of grass in the Indian territory and no necessity to bring any of the herds back from other quarters. It was generally recognized that the old days of the trail are over and the only salvation is to establish packing houses in Texas.

THE FACTS IN THE GARRETT SUIT. New York, July 23.—Hoadley Landerback and Johnson, counsel for Ives & Co., state that the papers in the Garrett suit will not be done until the twenty days allowed by law have expired. A friend of Garrett's, who was in his company during the most of the time in this city, said Ives & Co. would be treated by Garrett the same as any other contracting party. They had made a contract and failed to keep it. Garrett says he will not sell his stock to them now on any terms. Of the payments made, Garrett will keep all he is entitled to.

GOING TO YURRUP. NEW YORK, July 23.—Among the passengers on the Etruria which sailed for Liverpool to-day were Robt. Garrett, Chas. M. Depew and governor Alger, of Michigan. Depew said he had an invitation to visit Andrew Carnegie in Scotland, which he intended to accept, and he likely would see Blaine.

In Brief, And to the Point. Dyspepsia is dreadful. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics. But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy. Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

What the U. S. Commissioner Thinks. NEW YORK, July 22.—Fish commissioner E. G. Blackford said yesterday that the corner on this season's catch of Oregon salmon will have little effect on consumers in this market. He added: "Only an inconceivable portion of Oregon canned salmon is sold in English markets anyhow. It mostly goes to interior towns, where they can't get fresh fish, and to Europe and Australia. The salmon which we eat in the east is fresh, and is caught in Canadian and Maine rivers, from which New York gets about 250,000 pounds of salmon each season, beginning late in the spring and ending about the middle of August. Those people there are fishing their rivers out. They must have a closed season, in order to give the fish a chance to spawn, or there will soon be an end of that industry."

Paralysis of Capt. A. D. Wass. On Thursday Capt. A. D. Wass went to Grimes' hotel at the Seaside, and while eating supper that evening he felt a numbness in his left side and started from his chair. On his way to the door he fell and was picked up and was placed in a chair. He arose and again essayed to go out when he again fell to the ground. Medical aid was summoned yesterday morning from the city and yesterday he was brought over to his rooms. He is afflicted with paralysis of the left side; is conscious of all that is going on, and last evening was as easy as possible under the circumstances. A consultation of physicians was held yesterday evening and it was deemed advisable to telegraph for his son, Dyon D. Wass, of San Francisco. He is in no present immediate danger, but a third paralytic stroke, which is feared would prove fatal. There is universal expression of sympathy yesterday, for Capt. Wass is a man that everybody likes and all would rejoice to hear of his recovery.

Renews Her Youth. Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain."

An Editor Courting Death. Jud Lamorre said that he had "made up his mind to shoot our damned head off our shoulders if we dared to publish comments on his actions" at Neche, but the dignity of the profession demands that we give the plain truth without regard to personal consequences or forever be regarded as a coward, not fit to serve the people in the capacity of an honest news gatherer. His actions were cowardly, brutal and unbecoming the dignity of a man. If the columns of the Democrat are turned upside down next week the good readers may know he has kept his word.—Bathgate, Dakota, Democrat.

Indigestion or Constipation. A few HAMBURG FIGS are all that is necessary for the cure of the severest cases of indigestion or constipation, and one taken occasionally will prevent the development of these affections. 25 cents. At all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co., proprietors, S. F.
