CURRENT PRESS COMMENT.

The interstate commission will be short of funds for expenses before the year is out, and will ask congress for an increased appropriation. A long haul and a strong haul at the surplus is what the commission wants.—Philadelphia Press.

More able-bodied men attended base ball games in the United States on the Fourth than the armies of the nation numbered at any one time during the revolutionary war. That is the way we have grown.—Cleveland Leader.

Jachne is one more man who objects to the "infamous injustice and socialism" of the press. A bribe taker hates nothing as badly as daylight, and a good newspaper is organized daylight.—Philadelphia Press.

Anarchist Most severely condemns the stripes in the American flag. This is presumably because they remind him unpleasantly of the pattern of the clothes he wore on Blackwell's island.—Philadelphia Press.

The New York Evening Post displays rare accuracy in classifying the melancholy mugwumps as "odds and ends of politics." That is what they are—very odd and almost ended.—Philadelphia Press.

Our neighboring states are boring holes in the ground after natural gas. The crying need in this state is a hole bored deep enough to strike natural applejack.—Rahway, N. J., Advocate.

You can send a letter to Mexico for two cents now, provided the border bandits don't rob the mail and try to find out what you have been writing about.—Philadelphia Press.

The new president of the building trades unions of Chicago is John Brick. Let us hope he will come down on all strikes like a thousand of himself.—Philadelphia Press.

A novel business is that which some men have gone into up in Crawford county, Pennsylvania—the raising of pole cats. They have started two ranches for the purpose, one at Little's Corner's and another at Miller's Corners. The object is to secure the fur of the cats. It is not generally known that this fur forms the trimming of costly cloaks for women. It is obtained now from the animals caught in their wild state, but a finer quality can be obtained by shutting the animals up and improving them by care. They are extremely prolific, and as the pelts are worth a dollar apiece as they come from the animals, it is believed that the business can be made to pay well.

A physician says: "Within the last five years, in a district embracing sixty square miles or so by the sea, I have noted the hour and the minute of no less than ninety-three demises in my own immediate practice, and every soul of them has gone out with the tide, save four who died suddenly by fatal accident."

The Old Folks at Home, Or elsewhere, need a tonic now and then to sustain them under growing infirmities. No safer or more thorough invigorant for age and the delicate can be found than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a reasonable medicine in those ailments of common occurrence—liver complaint, indigestion and bowel disorders; a pure botanic safeguard against malaria, and a reliable means of counteracting rheumatism. To the convalescent, it is a valuable aid in the recovery of strength, and to the debilitated, nervous invalid it yields tranquil slumber and renewed appetite—two prime factors in the restoration of vigor. Being of purely botanic origin, it is free from those objections urged against mineral remedies difficult or impossible of assimilation by the system, and which impair the tone of the stomach, which the Bitters, on the contrary, strengthens and regulates. It is endorsed and prescribed by the medical fraternity.

The interior department has decided that married women may purchase timber land.

We Tell You Positively
That Simmons' Liver Regulator will rid you of dyspepsia, purify your system, enable you to sleep well, prevent malarial diseases and give you a brisk and vigorous feeling. It acts directly on the liver and kidneys, cleansing, purifying, invigorating and fortifying the system against disease. It will break up chills and fever and prevent their return—yet entirely free from calomel or quinine.

A Great Invention.

CINCINNATI, July 25.—At Fernbank, seven miles from this city, are the workshop and laboratory of Harvey B. Cox, a young electrician who, though known to but few here, is attracting the attention of scientists and electricians in this country and Europe by his inventions, in which he is as prolific and ingenious as Edison. His latest device is a trumpet, to be used for telephoning at sea, on which he has been working for some months. The invention is the outgrowth of his discovery of the great distance an echo or reverberation will carry, and the discovery that speaking trumpets, if made to give the same fundamental note, could vibrate and produce the same phenomena known in acoustics as sympathy. With this trumpet a conversation in an ordinary tone of voice was carried on between persons four and one-fourth miles apart. People sitting in their windows, or on their porches, a mile away, could be distinctly heard, and in a couple of instances they were told the nature of their conversation, and admitted that such had taken place.

By listening to the whistle of a train, and tracing it beyond Fernbank to Lawrenceburg, Ind., it was found that the instrument has a well defined range of twenty-six miles. That is, a loud sound like a locomotive whistle, or the rumbly of a train, can be distinctly heard at a distance of fifteen miles in every direction.

Conversation was readily carried on between two gentlemen on high hills on opposite sides of the Ohio river, about four and one-half miles apart. Tests made on the water showed that the trumpet was even more available than on land. The instrument will be patented as soon as it is perfected.

A Spokane paper says farmers are beginning to realize that it pays better to raise a horse worth $100 to $150 at maturity, than to raise the cayuse stock and sell them from $10 to $50 at the same age.

No One Need Remain A Dyspeptic.

"I have been suffering for over two years with Dyspepsia. For the last year I could not take a drink of cold water nor eat any meat without vomiting it up. My life was a misery. I had had recommended Simmons' Liver Regulator, of which I am now taking the second bottle, and the fact is that words cannot express the relief I feel. My appetite is very good, and I digest everything thoroughly. I sleep well now, and I used to be very restless. I am fleshing up fast; good strong food and Simmons' Liver Regulator have done it all. I write this in hopes of benefiting some one who has suffered as I did, and would take oath to these statements if desired."
