

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1888

The Rosie Olsen arrived in from Tillamook yesterday.

The Idaho, which was detained by an accident to her machinery left yesterday morning for Alaska.

"Who struck Billy Patterson?" used to be the question, but now and here it is, "Who struck Mitchell?"

At Ford & Stokes yesterday ticket No. 99, held by Thomas Bidwell, of Young's river, drew the silver set.

At the election of officers of the Ilwaco Steam Navigation Co., last Monday, A. J. Mezger was elected one of the board of directors.

The new boat for the Washington territory pilots is 85 feet over all, 22 1/2 feet beam and 9 feet hold. She is named the C. G. White in honor of her designer and builder.

About 200 went on the Presbyterian Sunday school picnic on the Goos. Neneill to Knappa yesterday morning, and had an enjoyable day, returning about seven in the evening.

In no previous year has there been so much projected in the way of building and improvements in Astoria as this year. In all parts of the city buildings are going up, and private residences and business houses are being improved.

At the special auction sale to-day, at 2 o'clock, p. m., at the residence on Cedar street, near O'Brien's hotel, B. S. Worsley will dispose of the entire household furniture, consisting of bedroom sets, parlor, dining room and kitchen furniture.

In the police court yesterday Nick Davich was fined $5 for striking Long Gut. Then Nick Davich had Long Gut arrested for alleged abusive language. The defendant, who labors for Boo Wow, had Yon Nom as interpreter. He was discharged.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church has been moved eastward about 150 feet, and the grounds around it are being improved. The sacred edifice still occupies about as lofty and commanding a site as it did for the first fourteen years of its existence on the corner on which it has so long been a prominent landmark.

The average weight of 8-inch cast iron pipe, such as the committee on fire and water is authorized to buy, is 46 lbs to the foot. The 1,000 feet would thus weigh 46,000 lbs or 23 tons, which at $53 a ton, would be $12,190. The expense of putting it in place added to that amount (providing the 1,000 feet were bought) would give the cost of the proposed pipe line.

A Balmanno yesterday sold his entire stock of books, stationery, etc., to Griffin & Reed, and as soon as he can adjust his business here will remove with his family to Portland, where he has a position as solicitor for the Travelers' Insurance company. Everybody is sorry to see him go, for he is a general favorite, but business inducements suggest the change. The Astorian will be glad to note his continued prosperity.

The British bark Glenavon has finished loading and is in the stream, ready to clear. She has salmon aboard as follows: Geo. Hume, 7,980 cases; Anglo-American Packing Co., 3,935 ca.; George & Barker, 5,000; Eureka, 2,000; J. W. & V. Cook, 1,734; West Coast, 3,689; J. O. Hanthorn & Co., 1,000; Badollet & Co., 2,500; total, 27,538 cases. She has also 5,223 centals of flour, 4,007 centals of wheat, and 986 bbls. fish oil from Killisnoo.

In Brief, And to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy. Remember—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Of this number 24 were from Pennsylvania, 22 from New York, 21 from Illinois, 19 from Indiana, 17 from Ohio, 11 from Tennessee, 10 from Maryland and 10 from the District of Columbia; Massachusetts, 8; Kentucky, Iowa, Arkansas, Missouri, Virginia and Wisconsin, 7 each; Michigan, Alabama and Texas, 6 each.

SHOT BY A DISCARDED LOVER.

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va., Aug. 16.—For several months past Amos and Bradley Townsend, cousins, have both been paying attentions to Miss Eunice Laidley, all living in the western part of this county. Each lover had begged her to accept him and to discard the other. Last Sunday evening both were at Miss Laidley's home, and finally she declared that they should "draw straws" to decide who should become her husband. This was agreed to, and Bradley Townsend won the lady's hand. Amos at once withdrew and started for home. A few minutes after Amos' departure the report of a gun struck out, and Bradley was horrified to find that his sweetheart had fallen dead with a bullet through her heart. Amos, who is undoubtedly the assassin, has not since been seen. The community is greatly excited over the tragedy.

THE PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION.

Cathlamet was the scene of an interesting examination last Monday, the first charge of having violated the territorial fishing law being before a court.

Hugh Murray, manager of the Bay View cannery, had been arrested last week charged with canning salmon taken from the river in August, and on the day mentioned had a preliminary examination before justice of the peace Graham at his office in Cathlamet.

Governor Sempie was present and gave the court his views of the law generally governing justices of the peace in examinations. It appeared that the sheriff had visited the cannery and stated that he would not object to the fish then in sight being canned. Before the fish were put away, however, he arrested Mr. Murray and filed a complaint against him. The court held that neither the sheriff of the county nor the governor of the territory had any authority to suspend the laws and that cannerymen were liable under the law for packing salmon with the consent of those officers as without.

In the evening the governor addressed the fishermen of Cathlamet on the fishing question advising them to send to him, or their representatives, all ideas they had concerning fish laws, that the fullest information might be laid before the legislative session to be held this fall.

He argued that a hard or poor season in the fishing business was no excuse for destroying the enterprise; that the miners on the Sacramento claimed they could get out more money than would be sufficient to buy the farming lands and that the lands should be bought for dumping purposes. But the plan was not accepted because when the money was taken out of the mines only a barren waste would be left, but the farming lands could be cultivated and made to yield harvests annually to the end of time.

So the Columbia river under proper regulations would afford fish to a value of two and one-half to three million dollars annually, but if exceptions were to be made for light runs, poor luck, etc., the whole would be destroyed for temporary gain.

The defendant gave bonds to appear before the Kalama grand jury at the coming session of court.

Shark vs. Sea Lion.

Yesterday, as a number of fishermen were engaged in netting for salmon and bass on the bay between Alcatraz and Sausalito, their attention was directed to a terrible commotion under the surface, in close proximity to their nets. The occupants of one of the boats immediately pulled up alongside of the naval combatants. It was found that the battle centered between a 12-foot man-eating shark and one of the valiant sea lions of the Cliff. The water around was stained with the sea lion's blood. The fishermen state that the lion would on every occasion sink its teeth deep into the back of the shark; the latter would then execute a rotary movement which would release him from the lion's hold. The monarch of the Cliff, finally detecting that it was a useless attempt on his part to conquer the hyena of the ocean, made a rather feeble effort to escape. The shark, true to his voracious nature, would not relinquish the attack, and making a final dash at his adversary, the two monsters struggled until they got entangled in the nets. It was with much difficulty that they landed their big game. When on land the shark was full of life, and the boatmen found it no small matter to dispatch it. The sea lion was dead when taken from the net. The shark, a genuine man-eater, was 12 feet long and weighs about 1,200 pounds.—San Francisco Call.

BABY HUMORS

And all Skin and Scalp Diseases Speedily Cured by Cuticura.

Our little son will be four years of age on the 25th inst. In May, 1885, he was attacked with a very painful breaking out of the skin. We called in a physician who treated him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the treatment, as the breaking out, supposed by the physician to be hives in an aggravated form, became larger in blotches, and more and more distressing. We were frequently obliged to get up in the night and rub him with soda in water, strong liniments, etc. Finally, we called other physicians, until no less than six had attempted to cure him, all alike failing, and the child steadily getting worse and worse, until about the 25th of last July, when we began to give him CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and by the last of August he was nearly well that we gave him only one dose of the RESOLVENT about every second day for about ten days longer, and he has never been troubled since with the horrible malady. In all we used less than one half a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a little less than one box of CUTICURA, and only one box of CUTICURA SOAP.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, transmitting the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviations are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has reached its most advanced and delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out.
