

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:
SUNDAY, AUGUST 28, 1887

Miss Emma C. Warren's private school will open September 5th.

The Alaskan makes her last Sunday trip for the season to-day.

E. C. Jeffers has let a contract to dike a tract of his tide land at $2.50 a rod.

The county board of equalization will meet at the assessor's office to-morrow.

The Y. M. C. A. picnic will be on the Gov. Newell to Young's River falls next Tuesday.

The Empire Store has an inviting display of goods, and guarantees satisfaction in styles and prices to its customers.

The Telephone arrived down at noon yesterday, left for Portland at two o'clock, will be down again this afternoon, and leaves at six o'clock to-morrow morning.

Preaching at 11 A. M. at the Methodist church. At the close of the sermon a report will be made, showing what the church has accomplished this conference year.

Mrs. Eaton and Miss Carnahan have sold their millinery establishment to Mrs. W. J. Barry, and leave next Tuesday for Portland, where they intend going into business.

The members of the Baptist church contemplate an elaborate social and literary entertainment about September 15th, of which further and more extended notice will be given.

What to buy for fall and winter wear, in an important question with all. For news and variety C. H. Cooper's store affords local answer. The ladies are particularly interested in this morning's advertisement.

The H. S. Harmon Lumber company of San Francisco, are about to build a new steamer for the coasting trade. She will carry from 450,000 to 500,000 feet of lumber, and will be fitted with powerful triple compound engines to enable her to tow schooners or barges if necessary. Her cost will be about $50,000.

Before a commission in January composed of Judge C. H. Page, Dr. Alfred Kinney and Dr. A. L. Fulton, yesterday appeared P. M. Swanson, a resident of the Klaskanine, who was by them adjudged insane and will be sent to the asylum to-morrow. He is suffering from melancholia, and his case is by no means a hopeless one.

Next Thursday the O. R. & N. company will begin running two daily passenger trains between Huntington and Portland, one to be an express train, with a running time of seven-and-a-half hours between those points, and the other a local train making the same time as the present passenger train. A dining car will be run on the express.

The remains of the lost schooner See Bird have been found at a creek in Blenkinsop bay, just above Seymour narrows. Some of the Indians there confessed to the finders that Captain Harry Moore and his crew were murdered and their bodies buried. The schooner had been run up to the creek and a fire started under her to destroy traces of the crime.

Articles of incorporation of the Wallack, Best, Clark Railway company were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday. The incorporators are John C. Trullinger, Perry A. Trullinger and Thos. O. Trullinger. The object and purpose is to own and operate a railway from Blake's landing to tide water. The capital stock of the company is $50,000, divided in to 500 shares of $100 each.

Two Redemptionist fathers from St. Louis, Mo., arrived in this city yesterday, and will conduct a mission here in the Catholic church during the present week. The mission will be solemnly opened this morning at 10:30. Every morning the services, consisting of mass and sermon, will commence at 9 o'clock, and every evening there will be a sermon and benediction at 7:30. All are invited to attend.

The Northern Pacific has made arrangements with the Pacific Coast Steamship company, whereby its freight and passengers will be carried from San Francisco to Tacoma on the latter's steamers. This will enable the Northern Pacific to enter into more active competition with the Canadian Pacific. The Telegram says that the Northern Pacific does not want to bring freight bound for points on the line from San Francisco to Portland, for in that event, the O. R. & N. Co. would get a big share of the freight charges.

A Pike county, Ill. paper has the following to say of "Dick Harcator": "Sheriff Windmiller made a very quick trip to Baker City, Or., to bring back Andrew Hamilton, being absent eight days and ten nights. Hamilton was ready to come immediately with him. Those who knew Hamilton before he left recognized him readily. He has been visited by a great many people since his return. He feels confident of proving a clear case of self defense, and expresses himself glad of a chance to get the unfortunate business off from his mind."

Now is the time to save money; go to the closing out sale at the Crystal Palace.

Why shouldn't they slaughter goods at the Crystal Palace, as they are going to leave the city.

Do you need any counters, show cases or store fixtures? If you do, go at once to the Crystal Palace and you can buy them at one-half what they are worth.

A FIGHT WITH THE INDIANS.

Special Dispatches From the East.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Col., Aug. 25.—The arrival of the courier at this hour with a report of a desperate fight with the Utes, in which one white man was killed and several scouts wounded, has created a profound impression here. The fight occurred at a place six miles west of Rangely, in a little canyon between the mountains. The Indians had planned an ambush, but the scouts discovered it and retreated in time. The Indians then opened fire, and Major Leslie, who commanded the scouts, augmented by Major Hooper's Aspen volunteers, returned the fire from behind the rocks. The Indians showed themselves and fought desperately. Upon the first concentrated fire of the troops two Indians fell and one white man. Dr. Demont, of Meeker, with Kendall's band, was wounded. For three hours the battle raged incessantly. Then the Utes retreated to the timber, and only skirmish shots were fired during the day. It continued until one o'clock last night, but no one was injured. Jack Ward, one of Kendall's men, was shot down during the first part of the fight. The whites saw eight Indians dragged behind the line, and dead Indians. Five whites were wounded.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.
LONDON, Aug. 27.—In the vote on Gladstone's motion in reference to the government proclamation of the national league in the house of commons last evening, nine liberal unionists supported Gladstone and seventeen other members were absent and unpaired.

INDIGNANT CUBANS.
MADRID, Aug. 27.—Dispatches from Cuba say that a popular demonstration is being held to express indignation at the government's action in dismissing Gen. Salamanca from the captain generalcy. Riots are feared.

A PAPAL NUNCIO.
ROME, Aug. 27.—Monsignor Ipoliverno has been appointed as Papal nuncio to Brazil.

WILL APPOINT A COMMISSION.
ROME, Aug. 27.—The Pope has resolved to appoint a special commission to consider the reports made by Monsignor Persico of his mission in Ireland.

A SOUTH CAROLINA SHAKK.
COLUMBUS, S. C., Aug. 27.—A little after midnight an earthquake shock occurred here, accompanied by the customary rumbling and lasting some seconds. About five o'clock a second and heavier shock was felt, the motion being undulating.

WON'T RUN.
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Sylvanus H. West, the united labor candidate for state engineer and surveyor, has declined. He says he knows nothing about the labor party.

In Brief, And to the Point.
Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this bad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

The Manzanita came in from Alaska waters yesterday, all well and in good condition after a trip combining business and pleasure in an eminent degree. She goes to Portland to-morrow.

Hot Cakes.
The season for them is at hand; and we have just received a large consignment of New Orleans Molasses, which we will sell by the case or can at very low figures. D. L. Beck & Sons.

Vanilla Ice Cream at Fabre's to-day.

What is better than a glass of liquor? A cup of delicious coffee at Fabre's.

Meals Cooked to Order.
Private rooms for ladies and families; at Central Restaurant, next to Ford & Stokes.

CRUISE OF THE "MANZANITA."

From Astoria to the Arctic Circle.

The U. S. steamer Manzanita arrived in yesterday from the far north, in charge of first officer Richardson, and docked at the Main street wharf. Lieut. Sebree and party left the vessel at Seattle and proceeded overland to Portland. She was visited yesterday afternoon by a large number of people. The stem of the vessel shows the effect of chance encounters with the ice in Glacier bay.

The Manzanita left here on her Alaskan cruise on July 13th, and did considerable work on this trip. The officers report a splendid time, chief engineer Peak saying that this, his sixth voyage to those waters, was the most enjoyable and successful of any.

The vessel has many curios and mementos of the trip in the shape of Alaskan native handwork, including kayaks, canoes, totems, bracelets made from silver dollar pieces, moosehorns, baskets, bows, arrows, paddles, knives, forks, spoons, pipe dills, mats, etc. The trip was made under the most favorable auspices; starting from Victoria under the guidance of pilot Francis the vessel steamed northward through Seymour Narrows, a rightly dreaded passage where the huge volume of the north Pacific tide rushes at a ten-knot rate through the narrow pass, and on to Hope Island, where a great poltch and powder was in progress. From there to Swanson bay, the buoys and beacons along the route being carefully noted. At Carter's bay, in north lat. 53, west lon. 130, a halt was made. Here lies buried Carter, Admiral Vancouver's carpenter, and every visiting vessel's crew decorates his grave. From there through Greenville Channel and Chatham Sound, where the Manzanita fell in with the English man-of-war Cerberus, with Admiral Seymour on board, through Tongas Narrows, where A. W. Berry has a cannery, and after placing a buoy on California rock, continuing northward, dropping over to Hassau village, where stand 52 great totems, some of them 75 and 80 feet high, the largest collection of the kind in Alaska; from there to Pt. Stanhope, and the mouth of the Stickin river, where there is another cannery, very near which is an immense reef of micaceous slate.

STUDDIED WITH GARNETS.
Presenting a very singular appearance. The Manzanita brought back several fine specimens of this curious formation. Through Wrangel Narrows, full of buoys and beacons, where the Caroline stood off towards Juneau, and up through Peril Straits, where the Manzanita put down several beacons and spindles.

These spindles are used to locate rocks that are covered at high water, and, undesignated, give no token of their dangerous presence. At low tide, when the rock is entirely bare, a landing is made, a large hole drilled in the rock two feet in depth in which is set and secured clamped an iron rod or bar 20 feet high and 2 1/2 inches in diameter, to the top of which is swung a sheet-iron cage painted white, thus denoting the presence of a sunken rock.

Thence the cruise extended to Killisnook, full of quaint specimens of Indian life, and after placing a spindle on Hannas reef, the Manzanita dropped anchor in lonely Hoonah harbor. Still northward through Glacier bay, full of ice, placing a spindle in Vanderbilt rock, and halting at William Henry Harbor, the southernmost limit of the arctic circle and the farthest north reached by the vessel on this trip. The return was devoid of incident.

At Juneau a black bear of the male persuasion, was obtained. He is about eight months old, and anchors to the name of Willie. He is what Artemas Ward would call "an amoo-in' little cuss," and is great sport to everyone on board the Manzanita. It is a funny sight to see "Willie" help himself to a drink from the water keg, then capering up the rigging sniff the wind and look wise.

OF ALL THE CURIOSITIES
Brought back, the most singular is the micaceous slate, studded with deep red garnets.

"Not that they are so very rich or rare. The wonder's how the d-! they got there."

They are octagonal and are as thick in the glistening gray shale as raisins in a rice pudding.

The officers say that Alaska is alive with tourists. Every nook and corner traversed by the passenger steamers are eagerly bought at any price the native manufacturers see fit to ask for them. A carved stick is one dollar or five dollars, just as the notion takes the native artist in wood, and no matter what it is, the money is promptly handed over. The natural result is a "boom" in antiquities and Alaskan bijouterie. The photographers have also a bonanza in the matter of views. Every crag and crevasse, every point, headland, glacier, inlet and island that could be visited from Victoria to Pyramid harbor is photographed and the photographers can't keep up with the demand. First officer Richardson has some very fine views that he purchased on this trip. To him and to officer Gregory and chief engineer Peake the writer is indebted for many curiosities on the occasion of his visit yesterday afternoon.

To Whom It May Concern.
We are about to remove from the city, and all accounts not settled by September 5th will be placed in the hands of our attorney. Please call and settle. CRYSTAL PALACE.

SAN FRANCISCO LETTER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—People returning to their city homes, after spending their summer vacations under the trees, excite the envy and longing of their less fortunate acquaintances, who have been obliged by the force of circumstances to pass their holidays amid the stir and bustle of town life, only pulling down their window blinds to impress passers-by with the belief that there is nobody behind them, by the fervor of their descriptions of the "booms" that struck the sections of the country in which they have been enjoying themselves, enriching everybody around them without adding materially to their own wealth. They have brought much of the fever of these booms back with them, and, apparently from sheer force of sympathy, there has been a sudden awakening among real estate speculators in what have been called "San Francisco sleeping places" across the bay, and a great number of land and house sales have been made. In Alameda three new real estate offices were opened on one day last week. How soon they will be closed again is a matter that chiefly interests their owners, who sold out their stores to engage in the business of buying and selling lots. San Francisco, however, pursues pretty evenly the tenor of her way. A novel and very desirable boom, indeed, seems to have struck the city, but it is a boom of morality only, does not affect the value of property. The police justices watch it with amazement, not unmingled with awe. They say that for two days this week not a single offense more heinous than a simple "drunk" was reported to the police. They are afraid to predict the result of a continuance of such a state of affairs; the entire police force may want to go fishing.

There is a boom, too, of a suicidal tendency sweeping over us. Men finding themselves unable to pay old debts, or to contract new ones, are evincing an extraordinary readiness to settle the great debt of nature even before it is due. Hotel landlords complain that they are favored far too frequently by the patronage of guests in this frame of mind, and the letter which the suicide generally leaves on the bureau in his bedroom, courteously apologizing for the trouble he has left behind him, and requesting his host to notify the coroner, rather augments than lessens the grievance. Two residents of San Francisco chose last Sunday as a fitting time for saying adieu to the world. Patrick Dugan was unable to obtain tennis for either of his two dwellings on First street; so, like Lieut. Luff, "His own execution he put into his own house." He went into one of them, and blew his brains out. It will, perhaps, be easier for his widow to let the property now. William A. Harding, at about the same hour, went in search of two drinks to be debited to his account. Singularly enough his mission was successful, but his own spirits were not raised by those in which the bartender's confidence in him was shown. Perhaps he was despondent at being unable to pay for his two fortifiers; or it may be, he despaired of getting a third on the same terms. At all events he went back to his room, in a Sutter street hotel, and ended his life with a pistol.

Rapid Beating of the Heart.
Whenever you feel an uneasiness in the region of the heart, a slight pain in the shoulder, arm, or under the shoulder-blade, or when you find yourself short of breath when exercising, or your heart has periods of beating fast, you have heart disease, and should take DR. FLINT'S HEART REMEDY. At druggists, $1.50. Descriptive treatises with each bottle; or address J. J. Mack & Co., S. F.

Salmon Fishing on the Sound.
It is reported from the sound that the price of salmon has been established at five cents for the small salmon, the silversides, and ten cents for the large or jack salmon. Salmon fishing on the sound is carried on on totally different principles from those in vogue on the Columbia river. There the salmon come and swim around the sound in schools for several weeks. During this time they can be caught, and while at one time a seine will get nothing but a "water haul," the next hour, if a school happens to be struck, the seines, like their ancient prototypes on the sea of Galilee, will be filled to bursting. It is no uncommon thing to catch several thousand fish in a lucky haul of the seine. Once the salmon leave the sound and go up any of the four rivers emptying into the sound, they cannot be caught; the streams are too full of snags to admit of nets or seines, and the logs that are sent down those streams by the loggers would sweep out any trap that might be placed there.

Their Business Booming.
Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at W. E. Dement & Co.'s Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Ah There!!
Ice cream, fine quality supplied at short notice by Frank Fabre, any part of the city; $2.50 a gallon.

Ten cents for a cup of Fabre's nice coffee.

What! Do You Think
Jeff the U. S. gives you a meal for nothing and a glass of something to drink? Not much; but he gives the best meal and more of it than any other restaurant in town. 25 cents.

Try Fabre's celebrated pan roast.

Lebert & Starks' Piano Method, used by the best music teachers, only $1.50 per copy, at the Crystal Palace; regular price, $3.00.
