

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1887

Liberty hall has been repainted and looks fine.

The county clerk's office will be closed to day.

The county board of equalization will resume its sessions this morning.

Read I. L. Osgood's advt. He sells for cash and invites a share of the public patronage.

The Y. M. C. A. picnic advertised for to-day has been postponed to Saturday, the 3rd prox.

Barrett's circus is swinging through the Willamette valley. The circus will hardly visit Astoria this season.

The Dalles Times-Mountaineer, a good newspaper and a staunch advocate of a free river, has entered upon the 20th year of its publication.

The examination for teachers' certificates begins in the principal's room in the Court street school at nine o'clock to-morrow morning.

Loads of loose hay are no longer an uncommon sight on the streets. They were awaiting their turn yesterday to be weighed on the scales on Flavel's wharf.

Beginning next Monday the Lyceum Theater Co. will appear for three nights at Ross' opera house. The sale of reserved seats will begin at the New York Novelty Store at 10 o'clock next Saturday morning.

The Portland Journal of Commerce devotes over a column of its issue of the 27th inst. to a labored and unsuccessful effort to wriggle out of its contemptible obligation in its issue of the 20th. Another case of "didn't know it was loaded."

A mission is now in progress at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church. There will be mass and sermon at nine o'clock every morning this week and sermon and benediction at 7:30. The services are conducted by two Redemptionist fathers from St. Louis, Mo.

One of Fred Sherman's teams hauling earth from the Benton street hill, started to slide on Court street yesterday and toppled over near Sam'l Elmore's residence. The dirt fell out, the wagon broke in two, the hind wheels fell over on the fore wheels, the tongue snapped off and the horses piled up against the fence. The driver was thrown, too, but fortunately neither driver nor horses were hurt.

Lieut. McClellan and Mr. Von Beyer are inspected on this coast before long to inspect the condition of the life saving service. General superintendent Kimball is quoted as saying that while the service on this coast is fair, it is not what it ought to be. He is right. It certainly is not. It has taken unremitting effort on the part of Major Blakeney to get it in even as good condition as it is. If he was aided and sustained by authorities at headquarters as he should be he could do still more. When the visiting inspectors get this far THE ASTORIAN will point out to them several requirements for increased efficiency. A new lifeboat at the cape, a station at Gray's Harbor and another at Fort Stevens, and the remodeling of the station at Neah bay are among the pressing necessities.

PERSONAL MENTION. J. C. Ross returns on to-day's steamer. Col. Mendell went to San Francisco on yesterday's steamer. M. Herrick is managing W. T. Coleman & Co.'s cannery at Tacoma. Mr. J. Gilliam, representing Kittle & Co., of San Francisco, is in the city. Col. Jas. Taylor, who has been indisposed, is again able to be on the street. Leon Fabre has gone to Arlington to take charge of the telegraph office there. Henry Binder take his place with Mr. Henderson in the telegraph office here.

No Salmon. The steamer Munroe failed to bring up any salmon from Mukilleo yesterday. When Capt. Munroe was questioned as to the cause, he said that the cannerymen had notified the fishermen that they would not pay the price demanded by the fishermen's union for salmon, and consequently no fish were being taken from the water. The Indians stated that they would knock off in a day or so, and await developments.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer, 26.

To Whom It May Concern. We are about to remove from the city, and all accounts not settled by September 5th will be placed in the hands of our attorney. Please call and settle. CRYSTAL PALACE. C. ADLER, Manager.

Now is the time to save money; go to the closing out sale at the Crystal Palace.

Why shouldn't they slaughter goods at the Crystal Palace, as they are going to leave the city.

Do you need any counters, show cases or store fixtures? If you do, go to once to the Crystal Palace and you can buy them at one-half what they are worth.

Meals Cooked to Order. Private rooms for ladies and families: at Central Restaurant, next to Foard & Stokes.

Try Fabre's celebrated pan roast. Lemon Ice Cream at Fabre's to-day.

SOME INTERRUPTED DISPATCHES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Justice Field, of the United States supreme court, this morning delivered an opinion in the application of the Pacific railroad commission to compel senator Stanford and other officials of the Central Pacific to answer to certain questions in regard to expenditure of funds for the purpose of influencing legislation. The opinion of the court is that that part of the act of congress creating the commission which invites the co-operation of the court in assisting the commission to carry on the investigation is unconstitutional. The court therefore declines to make an order compelling the officers to answer the questions, and also declines to make an order giving the commission access to the books of the various construction companies.

DEBILING WHEAT MARKET. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—There was a large and excited crowd at the call board room at eleven o'clock this morning, the official hour for the beginning of trading. One sale of one hundred tons was made at $1.24, a decline of eleven cents from the latest official sale of Friday.

BARTLETT BETTER. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Governor Bartlett awoke at 7:30 after a quiet sleep of four hours. He is better and his mind is clear.

A FRAGMENT. SHOSHONE, Idaho, Aug. 29.—Senator Hearst of California, with Governor Stevenson and delegate DuBois— (Here the line went down.)

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE HATCHERY FUND. THE ASTORIAN is requested by Mr. E. P. Thompson, of the state board of fish commissioners to say that all the canners who are willing to contribute pro rata to the expenses of the salmon hatchery one cent a case on their season's pack are asked to make payment at the bank of I. W. Case.

During the months of June and July Messrs. Reed and Campbell circulated among the canners a subscription paper, the signers agreeing to pay one cent a case on their respective packs, provided twenty signatures could be obtained.

This list is now at I. W. Case's. The following names constitute the list: M. J. Kinney, Sam'l Elmore, Jno. A. Devlin & Co., George & Barker, J. O. Hanthorn & Co., Anglo-American Packing Co., Wm. D. Smith, A. Booth & Sons, Joseph Hanna, E. J. Beck, Packing Co., Columbia River Packing Co., Columbia Canning Co., Thistle Packing Co., Coleman Flag, Jas. Williams Packing Co., F. M. Warren, Ocean Canning Co., P. J. McGowan & Sons, Fishermen's Packing Co., Geo. T. Myers, Aberdeen Packing Co.

The above packed 209,975 cases during the past season. Some others whose names are not on the list have agreed to pay a cent a case toward the fund, and it is expected that in the neighborhood of $2,500 will in this manner be realized.

The N. E. L. C. Sewing Society. UPPER ASTORIA, Aug. 27, 1887. EDITOR ASTORIAN:

The receipts of the fair of the ladies' sewing society of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran church in April last was $3 dollars. The receipts of the fair held August 22d was $72.50, making a total of $105.50. The ladies have, so far, contributed toward purchasing lot and building of a church thereon. When pressing times are considered and the limited attendance of the last fair, the organization has reason to be thankful, next to God, to the ladies who so willingly aid with their handiwork the cherished desire of having, in the near future, a house of their own wherein to worship the Giver of all good.

The receipts of the last fair were greatly augmented by Mrs. F. W. Johnson, of Alderbrook, who donated to the church a fine quilt of her own make, which brought the handsome amount of $24.25.

On behalf of the church I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to all who have so kindly extended an aiding hand. Respectfully, O. J. SUTTER, Secretary.

Going to Alaska. The local inspectors of hulls and boilers, Messrs. Bullene and Bryant will put in the remainder of the present week swinging around the circle of a portion of their district, in order to get matters in shape to enable them to leave for Alaska on the steamer Ancon, next Sunday. Every year the inspectors visit the far north, to examine and inspect the steamers plying on American waters in that region. They will be absent several weeks on this mission. During their stay, Capt. Bullene will institute a post of the Grand Army of the Republic at Sitka.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer, 25.

Another explosion in prices in Dry Goods and Clothing this week. Twenty different shades of plush at cost at Low Price Store.

Lost. Two return tickets over Northern Pacific to St. Paul, endorsed, Mrs. R. J. Person and R. J. Person, Jr. The finder will be rewarded by leaving them with Magnus C. Crosby.

Don't buy your stationery or inks until you see our prices. It will pay you to call and see. CRYSTAL PALACE.

Hot Cakes. The season for them is at hand; and we have just received a large consignment of New Orleans Molasses, which we will sell by the case or can at very low figures. D. L. BECK & SONS.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

Curtis Perrie Loses His Life on Young's River.

There was a sad accident on Young's river last Sunday morning, resulting in the death of Curtis T. A. Perrie, a young man of extraordinary promise and a general favorite. In company with Otto Prael and Wilbur Babbage, all three being about the same age, they started to go fishing up the Klaskanine early Sunday morning. They were in a small dingy, none too large for one but altogether too small for three occupants. When about a mile above the mouth of the Walluski one of the boys' feet slipped and he lurched against the side of the boat, which tipped over and sent all three into the water. They were cool and realized their position. Curtis Perrie drew Otto Prael from under the boat and put him on his upturned keel and also aided his other companion to get hold of the boat. They were then in the water about six minutes, and he was about to take hold of the boat and attempt to guide it and them to toward the shore, when the horrified pair saw him grow purplish black in the face and with one hand and arm curved in the air and the other pressed close to his breast the poor boy sank beneath the bubbling water which closed over his fair young life forever.

Prael and Babbage screamed for help. Their cries at length were heard by A. H. Sale at his place, and Jehu Sale and A. E. Turley came as quickly as possible to their rescue. It was then about half past nine; they had been in the water about an hour and a half and were almost dead from exhaustion. It is extremely probable that had aid been delayed a few moments longer there would have been mourning in three Astoria families instead of one.

They were brought to town as quickly as possible and when they told of the sinking of their unfortunate comrade the Lillian was procured and a host of willing workers went to the spot to recover the body. Several boats were engaged in grappling for the body, but not till a quarter to five yesterday morning was it recovered. It was in the same posture as when last seen in life. It was evident from his features and the entire absence of water in his body that he had not been drowned. The most probable theory is that in the excitement of the moment he had burst one of the large blood vessels of the brain. His throat was also gorged with blood, and he must have suffocated before he reached the bottom of the river.

Seldom has this community experienced more genuine regret than that evinced when it was learned that Curtis Perrie was dead. From every lip flowed expressions of sympathy for his mother and grandmother, whose idol he was. Brave, gentle and affectionate, a handsome, well-formed boy, with every promise of an honorable and useful manhood, it seems hard to realize that his young life has ended, and that nothing is left of him but an aching void in the hearts of those that knew and loved him. Truly may it be said of him: "None knew him but to love him; none named him but to praise."

On his mother, Mrs. Annie M. Perrie, and his grandmother, Mrs. Dr. Trenchard, the blow falls with crushing force. Both ladies are completely prostrated. The plain recital of the facts is a painful duty and if any word could lighten the grief of those to whom in life he was dear, how gladly would it be written.

Curtis T. A. Perrie was born May 19th, 1870. He was a general favorite in this city, his honest face, industrious habits and manly bearing endearing him alike to old and young.

The funeral will be at 10:30 this morning from the residence of Mrs. Dr. Trenchard. Services will be held at Grace Episcopal church, and the interment will be in the family lot in the cemetery on the hill.

Unnecessary Misery. Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. HAMBURG FIGS were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents. At all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co., proprietors, S. F.

The San Jose Boom. David Goodsell, who is visiting in San Francisco, wrote to a friend here about the boom in San Jose. He writes that the sales in San Jose aggregate daily from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. He saw three hundred lots sold at auction for $107,000; the owner had ten days before paid for them $50,000, and only $5,000 cash. The boom draws largely from San Francisco for the reason that everyone in Frisco has heard of the Los Angeles boom and they don't want to get left on this one. He reports that there is nothing to warrant the excitement unless it is the climate and the fruit, as these are the only resources of the place. The country surrounding will not support a town of the capacity now laid out in town lots. It is only a question of time before the plow will bury the corner stakes and the "new addition" will exist only on paper.—News, 27.

For a Fine Dish of Ice Cream. Go to the Central Restaurant, next to Foard & Stokes.

Oysters in Every Style. At the Central Restaurant, next to Foard & Stokes.

Gambinus Beer. And Free Lunch at the Telephone Saloon, 5 cents.

What is better than a glass of liquor? A cup of delicious coffee at Fabre's.

Lebert & Starks' Piano Method, used by the best music teachers, only $1.50 per copy, at the Crystal Palace; regular price, $3.00.

THE ANCIENT ORDER OF FORESTERS.

ASTORIA, OR., Aug. 29, 1887. EDITOR ASTORIAN:

In reading a paragraph in the editorial columns of Sunday's ASTORIAN, that the high court of that august body, the Ancient Order of Foresters, has resolved that it will submit to no dictation from the British body, even if we surrender ourselves from such supreme court, as our fathers did from the all-claiming England. And whereas this resolution has attracted the attention of the associated press, and that most of your readers undoubtedly know very little about this body, or upon what point nor the cause of such action, I will undertake to impart a little more information on this subject.

This resolution on the part of the subsidiary high court of the United States was not a hasty one; for, while attending as a delegate from California to the tenth subsidiary high court meeting, held in Philadelphia four years ago, (August, 1883,) the question upon which all this action hangs was discussed between sessions by the delegates from all parts of the United States, as it was already a burning question between the high court in England and S. H. C. of the United States (although it was not then before that session for action).

The Ancient Order of Foresters is the outcome of the institution which was founded at Knaresborough Castle in England on the 29th day of October, 1745, under the title of "Royal Foresters," by which name it continued until, at a grand convention of delegates held in Rochdale in August, 1834, when it was changed, and it is now known as the Ancient Order of Foresters, and has a membership organized well on toward 1,000,000 able-bodied men above the age of 18 years, and with a reserve fund of $20,000,000. To become a member one has to be between the ages of 18 and 45 years, and no person can become a member of the order who is either deaf or dumb, partially paralyzed, of unsound constitution, in ill health, or minus a foot or hand, or sight of an eye, etc., etc., (as it is strictly a beneficial organization).

The S. H. C. of the U. S. which was organized less than 20 years ago, inserted in its general laws upon the admission of membership the word "white," (respectable white person,) and it is around that point which all this action revolves. To be more explicit, prior to the organization of the S. H. C. of the U. S., the H. C. in England granted a charter, and thereupon a subordinate court organized in the southern states consisting of negroes, and upon their application to the S. H. C. of the U. S., after its organization, they were refused admission to become a part or parcel of such body, or come under the jurisdiction of the S. H. C. of the U. S., when upon their appeal to the H. C. in England, that body finally ordered the S. H. C. of the U. S. to admit such courts; hence the final resolution of that august body, the S. H. C. of the U. S., in session.

Although I have been out of the order since coming to Astoria over 3 1/2 years ago, I merely write this to give these few facts, as it is strictly a fight on the color line, and between an American organization and its English parent, which has its offsprings in all the colonies, and most of the foreign countries. I. L. OSGOOD.

Give Them a Chance! That is to say, your lungs. Also your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

A Peculiarity of the Boom. One peculiarity of the boom is the fact that in many places the owners have been compelled to nail up a sign reading, "This Place Not for Sale." This is done to keep out the agent who is looking for pieces of property for his firm to offer the gambler.—San Jose Correspondence East Portland Vindicator.

Rapid Beating of the Heart. Whenever you feel an uneasiness in the region of the heart, a slight pain in the shoulder, arm, or under the shoulder-blade, or when you find yourself short of breath when exercising, or your heart has periods of beating fast, you have heart disease, and should take Dr. Ely's Heart Remedy. At druggists, $1.50. Descriptive treatises with each bottle; or address J. J. Mack & Co., S. F.

We understand the run of salmon on the lower Siuslaw has been quite light. The only cannery that has started up is that of Bergman & Kyle, who are paying 75 cents per fish.—Eugene Guard.

Their Business Booming. Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at W. E. Dement & Co.'s Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Ah There!! Ice cream, fine quality supplied at short notice by Frank Fabre, any part of the city: $2.50 a gallon.
