THE GREAT REGULATOR

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR
PURELY VEGETABLE.

Are You Bilious?
The Regulator never fails to cure. I most cheerfully recommend it to all who suffer from Bilious Attacks or any Disease caused by a disordered state of the Liver.

Do You Want Good Digestion?
I suffered intensely with Full Stomach, Headache, etc. A neighbor, who had taken Simmons' Liver Regulator, told me it was a sure cure for my trouble. The first dose I took relieved me very much, and in one week's time I was as strong and healthy as ever. It is the best medicine I ever took for Dyspepsia.

Do You Suffer from Constipation?
Testimony of HIRSH WARRNER, Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals, New York, N. Y.: "I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator for Constipation of my Bowels, caused by a temporary Derangement of the Liver, for the last three or four years, and always with decided benefit."

Have You Malaria?
I have had experience with Simmons' Liver Regulator since 1865, and regard it as the greatest medicine of the times for diseases peculiar to malarial regions. So good a medicine deserves universal notice.

Safer and Better than Calomel!
I have been subject to severe spells of Congestion of the Liver, and have been in the habit of taking from 15 to 20 grains of calomel, which generally laid me up for three or four days. Lately I have been taking Simmons' Liver Regulator, which gave me relief, without any interruption to business.

AN INSTANCE.

The best answer that can be made to inquiries about the country and the opportunities which it now offers to newcomers is to show what has been and is being done here by people of the immigrant class. We have in particular view the case of a family from Ohio, father, mother and three children, among the arrivals in 1881. The father was from a forest country, familiar with work in the woods, and quite naturally he sought a location in the timber.

He settled upon a home-stand claim of 160 acres in Columbia county, five miles from the river, and adjacent to a creek of considerable size.

The cost of finding the location, making entry in the land office, getting the family on the place, etc., was nearly $100, or about half of his whole capital. At a cost of less than $20 for hired help a log house of three rooms and a rough shed were built and the rest of the little hoard was spent for a cooking stove, domestic tools, provisions, etc. Bedding was part of the baggage brought from the old home, and there was no need to buy. The settlement was made in August, and as soon as the wife and children were comfortably housed the father sought work and found it in a logging camp at $35 per month and board. During September and October he worked steadily, and upon the $70 thus earned himself and family lived through the winter. During this time the father was not idle. By the middle of April he had cleared and fenced an acre of bottom land where the work was easy.

Again he went to work with the loggers, this time for $40 per month. The first month's pay bought a cow and a calf and by fall he had $200 in cash. In the meantime the wife had raised a fine garden, including a supply of potatoes for the winter.

The outcome of this sort of diligence steadily pursued through six years is a property free from debt, a frame house of six rooms comfortably furnished, a meadow of ten acres cleared and under fence, a two-acre garden tract, a good barn with out sheds, ten cows and a small herd of young stock, three horses, a wagon, plows, etc. The improvements and stock on the place are certainly worth $1,800, and the land itself (with $1,000 worth of timber standing) is worth at least as much more. How many men have done better in six years? In the meantime the children have been at work five or six months of each year, and the oldest, now a man of twenty, has earned $40 per month during the current summer in a logging camp.

There are opportunities of this kind for as many as can possibly come. The case in point, while one of exceptional thrift, was not one of exceptional opportunity. The work was hard and the living not luxurious. For the first two years the family lived in the cheapest way possible consistent with common comfort. There were no luxuries of table, furniture or dress, nothing for the sake of appearance, nothing was spent in pleasuring, not a cent was wasted on liquor or tobacco.

To the business of making a home was devoted good health, the industry of a man and woman both trained to labor, diligence and close economy. With these virtues any family may succeed in Oregon or elsewhere; without them any family will fail.—Oregonian.

What They Say at Seattle.

Wishing to find out something about the status of the salmon business on the sound since the organization of the fishermen's union, which at once raised the price of fish to 10 cents, a reporter called upon a number of persons conversant with the matter, and asked for some light on the subject.

George T. Myers—Skip me this time, please, and talk to the others. You have had so much to say about my cannery of late that people are getting tired of it. I have put up some fresh in cans and some in barrels, but have so far been disappointed in the run.

Mr. Tuttle, manager of the cannery at Mukilteo—We have not packed any fish yet, as we were not ready when the run commenced. What fish our men have caught we have sent to Mr. Myers, and he will return them when we are ready for them. We fitted out a lot of Indians with seines and put them to work. They were contented and satisfied, until a lot of Greeks, who had nothing to do, came and intimidated them. Several of them have told me they would like to work, but are afraid. We have not decided yet what course we will pursue, but if the canneries will stand in together, they can get fish at a reasonable figure.

H. E. Levy, who for some years past has been engaged in packing salmon, but who is not engaged in the business this year, said: "The action of the union in raising the price of fish 100 per cent. over the highest price ever before paid by packers for them is ridiculous and I will show you why. They now ask ten cents for salmon. It takes sixty to fill a barrel, thus making the first cost of the fish in a barrel $6. To this you must add the cost of cleaning, salting and packing, and of the barrel, and you have a total cost of about $8, and the barrel of fish, when ready for the market, will not bring over $7 in Seattle. The proportion is about the same in canning. If I was in the business this year I would hire independent Indians or Chinamen to catch my fish, and would not touch one caught by any member of the union until that organization show a disposition to do what is fair in the matter.—Post-Intelligencer, 28.

A Chinese Complexion.
When observed in one of the Caucasian race, is indicative of bile in the blood. Who would be yellow when he or she can exhibit the hue of health on cheek and brow through the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an antagonist at whose onset liver complaint takes refuge in flight. Fur upon the tongue, nausea, sick headache, pains under the right ribs and shoulder blade, an unpleasantly odorous breath, are remediable with this benign alterative, which does not, like a potent cathartic, drench the intestines, or like the mercurial preparations, contaminate the blood. Not only the liver, but the stomach and bowels are aroused, toned and regulated by this fine family medicine, which has won the confidence of the respectable classes, not by startling assertions on its behalf, but by the consistency of the claims made for it with its performance in every instance when tested.

It is said to cost about $8,000 for a family to spend the season at Newport—$3,000 for a cottage, $1,500 for horses, $1,500 for servants and marketing and $2,000 for clothes.

When baby was sick, we gave her Cactoria, when she was a child she cried for Cactoria, when she became Miss, she clung to Cactoria, when she had children, she gave them Cactoria.

Nebraska is said to have sustained a loss of $2,000,000 from Texas cattle fever last year.

Indemnity Lands.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Acting land commissioner Stockslager has issued instructions to carry into effect the order restoring to settlement and entry certain railroad indemnity lands as follows: South Pacific railway of California, about 4,000,000 acres; Dalles Military wagon road of Oregon, 1,000,000 acres.

TRULY A HOUSEHOLD REMEDY.
240 BEDFORD AV., BROOKLYN, N. Y., Mar. 12, 1884.
I have used ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER for the last twenty years. They are truly a household remedy. If one of my children has a cold and wheezes, I put an ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER on the chest and one between the shoulder blades. If any of the children have croupy coughs, or coughs of any kind, I place the Plaster close up around the throat; the soothing effect is apparent almost always in two hours. If they have a disordered stomach, a Plaster placed just below the chest bones makes digestion perfect in half a day. If there is any looseness of the bowels, accompanied by coldness of the skin, two ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS applied over the stomach cure in from two to five hours. I notice particularly that these Plasters never abrade the skin or cause the slightest irritation. From my own experience I know they never fail for rheumatism, pains in the back or lumbago.
