A FATAL DELUSION.
The Eminent Scientist and Author, Dr. Joseph F. Edwards of Philadelphia, relates the following wonderful experiences:
"During my term as resident physician in the medical ward of the Philadelphia Hospital, it was a common occurrence for an ambulance call to be received from one of the downtown station houses. Upon reaching the place designated, we would be shown a man or woman who has been found unconscious on the street and supposed to be intoxicated. He would be removed to the hospital, where he would linger unconscious for twenty-four or twenty-six hours, and then die. In a majority of these cases a post-mortem examination would reveal a most horrible state of affairs which I will explain hereafter."
"A lady in apparently good health, who rarely complained, and then only occasionally, of some slight and transient ill-feeling, as nearly every one does at some time or other, took a long walk with her husband, and upon returning home, feeling particularly well, went to her room to remove her bonnet, and while standing in front of the mirror, fell to the floor in a convulsion, followed by twenty-four hours of unconsciousness and death without a return to consciousness. A post-mortem examination revealed the true cause in a most horrible form."
"A young married man for years suffered from dyspepsia, for which he consulted many physicians. After suffering in this way, and having no other symptoms of disease, he awoke one morning to find a very slight swelling, scarcely more than a puffiness under one eye. In less than a month he was dead."
Now the real and terrible cause of all these deaths was Bright's disease of the kidneys, and they might all have been avoided had the unfortunate victims known what a horrible malady was fastened upon them. But Bright's disease has no symptoms of its own. It steals into the system like a thief, and deceives its victim by showing the symptoms of nearly every other disease.
But what can be done?
If you feel unaccountably tired; if you have peculiar pressing pains; if your appetite is uncertain; if your head aches occasionally; if your sleep is irregular; if the fluids passed are profuse or scanty, do not delay, but use the best known means for escaping agony and death before it is too late.
For this purpose there is a remedy, and the only one that has ever proven absolutely certain. Hunt's Kidney has never been equalled, and it is the only absolute cure known to the medical profession. There are thousands of men and women to-day who enjoy perfect health who would be in their graves had it not been for this wonderful remedy, and there are thousands of others who require it without an hour's delay. This is no idle statement, but truth drawn from cases which are beyond question.

Guiteau's Curse Not Prophetic.
John P. Hamlin, of Washington, the foreman of the Guiteau jury, says the assassin's curse has not cursed the twelve men who had the most to do with his punishment. Not long ago George Scoville, Guiteau's brother-in-law and principal attorney, said "that the wealthy foreman of the jury became penniless and four other members of the jury died and one was sent to the insane asylum." Mr. Hamlin says "this is a lie. I am not penniless. On the contrary, my business is in a better condition than ever it was before; my health, as you can see, is just perfect, and I am a very happy and contented person. Only one member of the jury has died, and that was poor Tom Hinline, who was half dead with consumption when he went on the jury."
ALWAYS SAFE AND SURE.
It is safe to take BRANDRETH'S PILLS any time, but to get the best results they should be taken on an empty stomach before going to bed. For Constipation or Dyspepsia one or two taken every night will, in a short time, perform an absolute cure. It is well to take a purgative at least once or twice a month as a preventive of disease. BRANDRETH'S PILLS are entirely vegetable, and the safest and most effective purgative ever introduced to the public. They have been used in this country for over fifty years.

The objection to the amendment allowing the legislature to regulate salaries is that such matters should be fixed by the constitution. This is an erroneous doctrine, as it would require an amendment to the constitution every time there was to be a change in salary. Such matters should not be in the organic law; they are mere matters of detail and subject to change.

The Shoalwater Bay Regatta.
OYSTERVILLE, W. T., Sept. 2.
The annual regatta of the Shoalwater Bay Yacht Club came off to-day, having been postponed from yesterday owing to the lack of sufficient breeze. Nothing could have been more favorable for the race to-day than the weather, however, and the sailing qualities of the various yachts which were entered evenly and fairly tested. There were six entries, as follows: Uncle Ed, J. A. Clark, master; Queen of the Bay, Chas. Fisher; Sophia, Horace Clark; John Daniels, Henry Clark; Lib Smith, Joseph Johnson, and War Eagle, J. C. Johnson, master. The course sailed was to a point about two miles south of here, rounding a stake boat, thence down the bay to a point nearly eight miles north from the place of starting, and from thence home, making a distance of twenty miles. A start was made at 12:53, all contestants passing the home stake boat very close together, and maintaining the close proximity to one another over the entire course. The wind was from the northwest at the start, and about the time of making the stake boat at the south veered around to the west, thus saving the necessity of making a single tack on the course. The first boat to pass the home stake boat was the Uncle Ed, at 2:52:28, making the extraordinary time of 1 hour, 58 minutes and 38 seconds. The Queen of the Bay, making the time of 1:59:22; Lib Smith, 2:00:05; John Daniels, 2:03:21; Sophia, 2:04:49, and War Eagle, 2:07:15. Five prizes were awarded. First, $50; second, $35; third, $20; fourth, $10, and fifth, $5. The race was a very pretty one, and as they rounded the stake to the north of here on the home stretch, almost together, and began to career over under all the sail that could be crowded on, it called forth many outbursts of admiration. The time was the best ever made on the bay in the history of yacht racing. A large crowd from the surrounding points on the bay and many from abroad were here to witness the regatta.
OUR ILWACO LETTER.
ILWACO, Sept. 8th.
EDITOR DAILY ASTORIAN:
C. Stuart, of the life crew is laid up at the cape with the smallpox. Our citizens are somewhat alarmed about it and there families have removed to the Chinook country for a while.
The Canby Minstrels were billed to appear this evening at Ilwaco Hall, but owing to the indications that they would have no audience they did not attempt to have any entertainment. Some of our people do not care to be very intimate with anyone from the cape until the small pox has died out.
In spite of the cold weather the hotels on the weather bench have done a good business this summer. All the cottages have been occupied and more new ones built than at any previous season.
Considerable business has been done in real estate, and more lots sold and more contracts made for buildings to be constructed next spring.
There has also been much house painting done, and all colors were popular except white. Red roofs are fashionable.
There has been fewer campers than usual this season. The town is quiet, but will wake up when the fishermen come home this fall.
Much interest is manifested in creating a fire department, but the efforts of some parties to form a water company, a stock company, to work in conjunction with a hook and ladder company does not meet with much encouragement.
Next Saturday we have a vote for or against an 8-mill school tax. This will afford an opportunity for the kickers to vote for the public good, or save a very few cents by voting that other way.
Wild geese and ducks have put in an appearance. Hogs are permitted to run at large once more, and our streets are common pasture for the cows. A man can live here without owning any land while he can pasture cows most anywhere about the town and surrounding country free of charge. More than that, every cow can wear a bell to agitate every night. This is a free country. When we get our city charter we will try to run our little government in city style, don'tcherknow.
