

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1887

There will be services as usual in the Methodist church to-morrow, by the pastor, Rev. O. B. Whitmore.

There was another big temperance meeting at Liberty hall last night, and there will be another to-night.

The large bark Stanmore, now anchored in the stream, is on her first voyage, she being an entirely new vessel.

The largest salmon ever caught near Seattle was on exhibition in that city last Saturday. It weighed 54 pounds.

The Journal says: About sixty boats are employed by the Bay Center cannery in fishing, besides quite a number of traps.

J. C. Trullinger's mill is busy on a contract for 7,500,000 feet lumber for California parties; the Clatsop mill also has extensive orders.

The Olympian, Capt. Carroll in command, came in at 9:30 yesterday morning and proceeded to Portland, where she will remain till further orders.

The board of directors of the state firemen's association meet in Portland next Saturday. It is probable that Portland will be the scene of the tournament of '88.

A subscription paper has been left at THE ASTORIAN office where any one wishing to subscribe to the railroad subsidy fund will have a convenient opportunity to do so.

THE WEEKLY ASTORIAN, check full of local news, is published this morning. Send a copy to absent friends; it beats writing letters. This week's edition has a supplement.

The Seattle Canning and Packing company, whose cannery at Five Mile Point was recently burned down, have received new machinery from Astoria and are rebuilding.

The six-year-old son of M. Sullivan, residing near the Occident Packing Co., yesterday fell from the porch and sustained a severe fracture of the bones of the right fore arm.

People from Portland say the Astoria railroad is the chief topic of conversation there, and the general belief is that we will have a road inside of a year. Why, of course.

The Seamen's Coast union are going after Captain Davis of the bark California, whose sailors claim that they have been ill-treated and abused, besides being taken to sea in a rotten ship.

The shrill notes of a policeman's whistle at the salvation army's headquarters, at ten o'clock last night brought a crowd and policeman Linville, in whose charge the special policeman plumed Bristol Bill, who, he said, was disturbing the meeting.

Savage Bros. & Slater's sawmill, on the Tualatin river, in Washington county, was burned last Tuesday night. The fire originated in some sawdust near the furnace. Both the boiler and engine escaped without serious injury. Loss, $8,000; uninsured.

Workmen were busy yesterday corner Cass and Chenamus, cutting a channel to let the tide wash in and stir up the sawdust and muck that has thick on the site where the piles are to be driven for the three-story brick building that is to occupy that corner.

Several of the committee to secure subscriptions to the railroad subsidy were at work yesterday and report very favorable progress. Some more of the committee will start in to-day, and it is confidently believed that the ultimate amount will be subscribed.

For really fine job work at no higher prices than you would pay for inferior work, try THE ASTORIAN job office. Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases. We print and furnish you 1,000 envelopes for $2.50. Portland will charge you $3.50. This is offered as a sample of prices.

"Take your hair invigorator money and buy a town lot in a growing town that supports its home paper and advertises and goes ahead, and you will be well fixed, and a man who is well fixed don't care much whether he has any hair or not." Thus sensibly talks Bill Nye in advice to a baldheaded man.

Mrs. Mary Rohr, wife of Chas. Rohr, who has been seriously ill since the birth of her son, eight days ago, died yesterday morning. Deceased was in the 27th year of her age. The funeral will be from her late residence at two o'clock this afternoon. The interment will be at Ola teop.

The Stevedores' Longshoremen's and Riggers' union, of Portland, last Wednesday night elected the following officers: President, Dennis Crowley; vice-president, John Toby; F. S., D. L. Forbes; R. S., Chas. Brooks; treasurer, Thos. Williams; trustees, Owen Bridgman, Edward Perry, Matthew Camp.

The Alaska Packing Co.'s schooner Sadie F. Keller, which sailed from Nagahak river, Bristol bay, Alaska, on the 15th ult., with 7,000 cases salmon, arrived at San Francisco last Wednesday. The captain reports that fourteen or fifteen sealers are now held in the bay by a revenue cutter. Eight of these are British and six or seven American.

If you want your town to get up and climb towards the pinnacle of greatness and prosperity, says the Vancouver Independent, you ought to step forward and pull ahead instead of hanging on behind to be pulled along by others who are doing the progressive boosting. Little acts and words encourage; little words and acts discourage. Look on the sunny side and act accordingly.

John Peterson, a sailor on the schooner Claus Spreckles, was drowned at Sunshine, W. T. last Sunday. He was crossing a boom of logs with some of his comrades, when one of the logs rolled from under them, throwing them all in the water. Peterson sank, and in twenty-five minutes his body was recovered. He was a native of Denmark, 23 years old, and was buried at Oysterville last Tuesday.

Sometimes ago a foreign correspondent of the New York Sun asked that paper for a list of the hundred newspapers. The Sun prepared a list of ninety-nine, shrewdly allowing any newspaper proprietor whose paper didn't appear there to mentally add it on, but even that didn't prevent about 1,000 newspapers from saying that his list was no good, because they did not appear there. To select the hundred newspapers is not so easy a matter.

Under date of the 8th, fish commissioner E. P. Thompson writes to THE ASTORIAN that the regular meeting of the commission will be held at the hatchery on the 28th inst. Everything at the hatchery will be in working order as soon as the salmon are ready to spawn. There are plenty of salmon in the Clackamas for hatching purposes. A short haul was made with a seine on the 6th, and fifteen salmon were caught; but none of them will be ripe for at least two weeks.

In front of Capt. J. G. Hustler's residence, is a front moulding just taken down to make room for improvements, that is unique in construction. It is a solid piece of cedar, hollowed out on the top with an adze for a water trough and with a fine moulding on the front side, all of which was done by hand when the edifice was first put up, thirty-five years ago. The timber is sound as a nut, and good for thirty-five years more. It cost the captain about $50 when put up, but in those days lumber at Astoria was $150 a thousand.

Many people take newspapers, but few preserve them; yet the most interesting reading is to be found in a file of old newspapers. It brings us the very age, with all its bustle and every affair, and marks the spirit and the genius more than the laborious effort of the historian. We cannot read a paper dated half a century ago without knowing that almost every name then printed is cut on a tombstone at the head of an epitaph. The lawyer that offers his service to plead in the case of others in the lower court, is now pleading in the court above; the doctor that advertises his medicines and cures, has followed the sable train of his patients; the merchant who offered his wares cheaper than the cheapest has gone into everlasting liquidation; and the actor who made others laugh and weep, can now only furnish a skull for his successor in "Hamlet."

The Excursion of Co. "H."

Co. "H," O. N. G., usually make a success of what they undertake, and last Thursday evening's excursion was no exception. About 7:30 205 ladies and gentlemen left on the R. R. Thompson for Cathlamet, the Western Amateur band furnishing lively music. There was dancing on the lower deck and at 10:15 the boat arrived at Cathlamet. The Cathlamet people welcomed the Astorians, A. D. Birnie and others doing all possible to make things pleasant. Birnie's hall was opened and lit up, and there was a dance till about 1:30, Mr. Allen, of the Parker House, setting a fine supper on board the Thompson.

The party returned at 2:47 yesterday morning, everyone having had a good time. Company "H" desires to thank the good people of Cathlamet for their kindness and courtesy and all others who made the occasion one of such pleasant remembrance.

Items From Gray's Harbor.

The Gen. Miles arrived in from Gray's harbor yesterday afternoon. Times are lively on the harbor. The fishermen all struck Thursday afternoon and refuse to go to work unless all the canneries stop taking fish from the traps. The fish have begun to run well. Wooding's new bank at Aberdeen is about ready for the roof. Weatherwax's mill has just cleaned up a shipment of about two million feet. Wilson Bros. are building a mill at Aberdeen. The Cosmopolis mill is getting new machinery and will be able to turn out 100,000 feet a day. The Miles brought over 340 cases from Warren's cannery at Montezuma; there are about 250 cases at J. G. Megler's; about 250 at Seaborg's Aberdeen cannery; there are about 500 cases at Sam Benn's at Aberdeen to be shipped the 15th.

HOW DID HE DIE?

Further Regarding the Death of C. A. Reed. ILWACO, Sept. 9.

EDITOR ASTORIAN: Yesterday morning some friends of the late C. A. Reed became almost convinced that he and the drowned man found at the cape and buried at Pacific City was one and the same person. The collar button was recognized, and the key found in the pocket of the deceased was positively identified by C. C. Dalton, who occupied the rooms Reed rented for three years. In the afternoon the coroner impaneled a jury consisting of N. Howerton, A. E. King, H. S. Graham, F. S. Bates, C. D. Rodgers and A. E. Heath, and proceeded to the grave.

The body was soon recognized as that of C. A. Reed, dressed in ordinary clothes and no coat. Decomposition had set in but in order to determine whether the man died by his own hand or met with foul play, it was decided to have surgeon Mann, of Fort Canby, make a thorough examination and report on their return to town. The jury examined all the deceased's personal effects and found nothing to establish any clue to his death. There are several incidents that tend to show that he committed suicide. Why did he leave all his best clothing and valuables, and go away without a coat? He had no enemies, and was a quiet old gentleman of 62. His eyesight was failing. He had declared he had no kin to care for him and sooner than be a burden to anyone he would blow his brains out. He was financially embarrassed and despondent, and much discouraged by the result of last elections. He was always interested in politics. Mr. Reed was well and favorably known, at one time was our county auditor and has held other responsible offices. He has been secretary of the Washington territory pilot commissioners for some time and notary public. He was a native of New York state near Ticonderoga. X.

LATER. ILWACO, Sept. 9th. The surgeon has completed his post mortem examination of the body of C. A. Reed and finds no evidence that there has been any foul play nor any injuries that have been self-inflicted. It is presumed that the unfortunate gentleman walked out in the night smoking his pipe and fell from the dock in the darkness, or else, rendered temporarily insane by reverses, he intentionally drowned himself. The truth will never be known probably. He will be reburied at Pacific city.

At a meeting held last evening by the Ilwaco fire department, a committee of eight were appointed to conduct appropriate funeral services over the remains. X.

Still Remains Unchallenged. When the big tea ship was towed into Tacoma harbor a few days ago the officer of the deck, as is customary, took soundings. When the ship had nearly reached the dock, he sang out to the captain, "Forty-five fathoms and no bottom." "My God!" said the captain, "What a harbor." He did not dare let go the tug until he had his lines on the wharf. Still they talk about Tacoma's fine harbor. The story is told of the founder of Old Tacoma, Capt. M. M. McCarter, that while arguing with some one, probably a Seattle man, he was met with the statement that "Tacoma had no water in her harbor," meaning no good anchorage. To this he indignantly retorted, "Good Lord! there's ninety fathoms." His statement has remained unchallenged to this day, and knocked the doubting Thomas out in one round.—Seattle Press, 6.

VITIATED BLOOD

Scrofulous, Inherited and Contagious Humors Cured by Cuticura.

THROUGH the medium of one of your books received through Mr. Frank T. Wray, Druggist, Apollo, Pa., I became acquainted with your CUTICURA Remedies and take this opportunity to testify to you that their use has permanently cured me of one of the worst cases of blood poisoning in our county. I take great pleasure in forwarding to you this testimonial, unsolicited as it is by you, in order that others suffering from similar maladies may be encouraged to give your CUTICURA Remedies a trial. P. S. WHITTINGER, Leeburg, Pa. Reference: FRANK T. WRAY, Druggist, Apollo, Pa.

SCROFULOUS ULCERS. James E. Richardson, Custom House, New Orleans, on oath says: "In 1850 Scrofulous Ulcers broke out on my body until I was a mass of corruption. Everything known to the medical faculty was tried in vain. I became a mere wreck. At times could not turn in bed; was in constant pain, and looked upon who could be relieved or cured in ten years. In 1850 I heard of the CUTICURA Remedies, used them, and was perfectly cured." Sworn to before U. S. Com. J. D. CRAWFORD.

ONE OF THE WORST CASES. We have been selling your CUTICURA Remedies for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofulous I ever saw was cured by the use of five bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, CUTICURA, and CUTICURA SOAP. The soap takes the "cure" from a medicinal soap. TAYLOR & TAYLOR, Druggists, Frankfurt, Kan.

SCROFULOUS, INHERITED, AND Contagious Humors, with Loss of Hair, and Eruptions of the Skin, are positively cured by CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally. The demand for them grows as their merits become known. MACMILLAN & CO., Druggists, Latrobe, Pa.

DRUGGISTS USE THEM. We have obtained satisfactory results from the use of the Cuticura Remedies in our own family, and recommend them beyond any other remedies for diseases of the skin and blood. The demand for them grows as their merits become known. MACMILLAN & CO., Druggists, Latrobe, Pa.

Choking Catarrh. Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressing influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the lungs, throat, chest and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh; how difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure.

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of SASSOPARIL Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow-sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references.

Each packet contains one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and an invaluable LAXATIVE, with treatment and directions, and is sold by all druggists for $1.00. POTTS, DRUG & CHEMICAL CO., Boston.

IT STOPS THE PAIN IN ONE MINUTE. Aching backs, hips, and sides, kidney and uterine pains, neuralgic, rheumatic, sciatic, sudden, sharp and nervous pains and strains relieved in one minute by that new, elegant and infallible antidote to pain and inflammation, the CUTICURA Anodyne-Pain Expectorant, 25 cents, 5 for $1.00. PERSONAL MENTION. Renel Nims, of Cosmopolis, is in the city. Dr. Alfred Kinney has returned to the city. Miss Rica Mayer, of Vancouver, is visiting Mrs. Monteith in this city. Mr. Job Ross, who has been seriously ill, has returned from Portland, much improved in health. Jos. Pinschower starts on a business trip this morning through Pacific and Chehalis counties. Woodworth, an old-time correspondent of THE ASTORIAN under the nom de plume of "Chemetete," is at her old home in Newark, Ohio. His Eminence, Cardinal James Gibbons, will confer the pallium on Archbishop Gross on October 9th, in Portland. Rev. Father Dielman, of this city has received an invitation to be present. Deputy sheriff Thos. Boelling, who has returned from the Nebalem, does not wholly agree with the government measurement of the township lines. He thinks that they are more than six miles apart. E. P. Peake, who is quite well known to many of our citizens as the chief engineer of the United States light-house tender Hancock, is in the city to-day. Mr. Peake has tendered his resignation to the government, and is visiting in the Queen City for a few days before engaging in other business.—Seattle Press, 6.

Give Them a Chance! That is to say, your lungs. Also your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.
