ASTORIA, OREGON:

SEPTEMBER 11, 1887

No. One's service cart is again, in repair and ready for use if required.

San Francisco salmon shipments on the State were 240 cases from the North Shore Packing company.

The McArthur arrived in yesterday; the Queen of the Bay went to the Nehalem with lumber and cannery supplies.

The Albany Democrat hears that a census is being taken in Oregon of all men between 18 and 45 years of age subject to military duty.

The schooner Geo. C. Perkins sailed lumber laden from Trullinger's mill yesterday for California. The pilot schooner Gov. Moody came in: she goes out again Tuesday. The New Market theater at Portland has been leased by J. P. Howe to Staver & Walker for an agricultural warehouse. "To such uses may we come at last."

The Oregon Register says that "Astoria is to be envied. The circus did not visit that city." Astoria is ahead about $5,000 by the non-appearance of Jo-Jo and the rest of it. Capt. Hustler wants those who have not yet paid their city taxes to come and see him before noon Tuesday, as the time for payment ends then, and his list goes to the city At two o'clock to-morrow afternoon sheriff Ross will sell, at the court house door, the right, title and interest of Robert Bell to sundry property minutely described in another column. Beautify your home; it is the place where you may talk of what you have done without being thought selfish, where you may be enthusiastic without being taken for a crank and where you may lounge without being thought ungrateful. Last Thursday night, the Sellwood ferry steamer caught fire, burned to the water's edge and sunk. The steamer cost $5,500. She was owned by the Jefferson Street Ferry com-pany, and was insured in the Colum-bia Insurance company for $3,000. J. C. Barneberg, a well known resident of this city, died at St. Mary's hospital of disease of the liver.

Deceased was a native of the liver. ased was a native of Hanove

In connection with the proposed extension of the West Side narrow gauge railroad system to the Nestucca and up through Tillamook and along the coast, the Telephone says of Yambill county's grain, that by direct communication with Astoria, that which now goes by way of Port-land, or Yaquina, would have a quick ection to the sea coast, which is

Martin Olsen, one of the surviv-ors of the wrck of the British bark Star of Scotia, has arrived at Liverpool. The bark, he says, was wrecked on the rocks at Bull's point, 100 miles from Port Stanley, and the crew stayed with her for six hours after she struck. They tried to come ashore in open boats, and part of them succeeded, but eight were drowned. Two bodies were afterward found, half eaten by wild birds. The shipwrecked men nearly per-ished from cold, but they were sheltered by herdsmen.

Measrs. Dealey and Boelling, cus tom house inspectors, who went up on the Idaho, returned from Portland last Friday. E. Z. Ferguson, who went up on the Olympian, returned yesterday. Search was made on both vessels for smuggled opium, but none was found, the boiler of the Idaho being the last place examined. It is probable if there was any on board it was got rid of at Seattle, where, it is reported, the Idaho lay for twenty-four hours without a custom house er going near her upon her arrival there from Port Townsend.

Willie Pohl thinks of going to San Francisco, overland, starting on the R. R. Thompson, this afternoon to attend the funeral of his uncle, August Bochau. The body reached San Francisco yesterday, on the Ya-quina. A dispatch was received yes-terday, but no further particulars of his death were given. The commit-tee of Beaver Lodge, No. 35, tele-graphed to the general relief committee in San Francisco to take FROM EUROPE AND THE EAST. charge of the remains. The family have the sympathy of the public in this last sad calamity that has over-shadowed a household already strick-

About 11 o'clock this forenoon, says the Telegram of the 9th, the steamboat Lurline, Capt. Gray, made fast to the American bark Coloma, blew four whistles to open the draw, and without any fuss or feathers both craft passed through the Morrison street bridge, and up to Smith Bros.' mill, where the Coloma will load lumber for Hong Kong. This is the first deep sea vessel that has passed up the river above Morrison street since the bridge was buit, and with a pride that may be considered pardonable under the circumstances. Captain Noyes ordered the little cannon which is mounted on the fore-castle to be fired as soon as the bark had passed through. This effectually an end to the statements of croakers that no deep sea ships would go above the bridge, for Capt. has demonstrated how easily and safely it can be done.

Fourth of July Committee.

Amid the giddy whirl of events it will probably be remembered that Astoria had a way-up celebration on the 4th of last July, and that among other doings three salutes were fired ont of a big brass cannon by a detach-ment of soldiers from Ft. Canby. The powder used by the soldiers was not sold to the committee of arrange-ments; it was just loaned, and when the day was done, and the subset guns were fired, the committee were owing to the United States governowing to the United States government about 24 kegs of mighty fire gunpowder that Uncle Sam wouldn't take any money for, but wanted returned. Ever since then C. J. Trenchard and Capt. Gray and the other members of the committee have been writing to San Francisco and Chicago, and Newport and and Chicago and Newport, and other places, to get 24 kegs of powder, and it was found to be a very difficult matter to get the particular brand that was used.

Finally everything is satisfactorily arranged. The bill for the powder has been received; so has the powder: it arrived last night and goes over to Major Eakin at Fort Cauby to morrow morning, and the committee are

This is a preface to the statement that the Fourth of July committee will meet at C. J. Trenchard's office to morrow evening to make final accounting and settlement of the cele bration bills, funds, etc.

"When Shall We Three Meet Again?"

When the left wing of the Salva ion army swung onto the Main and Chenamus crossing last night, the vigorous information that "if you're not a lover of the Lord, Oh you cawn't gracefully reclining on the rail above the chasm beneath, that they fell backwards and pawed wildly in the standing in a row they sadly asked "When shall we three meet again?"

One lost his hat in the mud, another was partly scalped and the third had an ugly slash on the nose. They divided attention with the Sal vation army, and some who came to scoff remained to pray.

Presentation.

Clum Brown, six years Seaside Lodge, No. 12, A. O. U. W. was yesterday evening the pleased recipient of a gold badge, emblematic of the order, handsomely gotten up and suitably inscribed. P. M. W., C. W. Fulton made the presentation speech, Mr. Brown responding in his usual bappy manner.

He leaves next Tuesday on an extended visit to Southern California.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.-Com mander Harper, of the department of Pennsylvania G. A. R. posts, has is-sued an order for a Grand Army demonstration in the military parade next Friday. The wording of the order is the cause of no little comment. It reads as follows: "In passing the reviewing stand, or while being reviewed by Lieut.-Gen. Phil H. Sheridan of the United States army, none but post commanders army, none but post commanders will salute, and the post commanders' colors will be dipped as the parade will be reviewed by president Cleveland, and Gen. Sheridan will be in command of the line."

It is claimed by some of the veterans not Grand Army men that the name of president Cleveland should have been inserted in that para-been inserted in that paragraph of the order and that it is a direct slight to the chief magistrate in not doing so. The men, however, are all of the opinion that the matter was an oversight and that no slight was intended.

THE FRENCH ARMY. Paris, Sept. 10.—The mobilization experiment has necessitated the raising of the Seventeenth army corps from 10,000 to 36,759 fully clothed and armed and equipped. Members of the reserve are of fine physique. The cavalry have good pace, but the men lack a firm seat, many having been thrown. The officers were somewhat bothered in handling a larger body of men than they were accus tomed to. The artillery movements were sluggish, but altogether, however, the experience inspires confidence in the army, the Seventeenth corp not being regarded as the best in the army. NOT DEAD YET.

San Francisco, Sept. 10.-There is practically no change in Gov-ernor Bartlett's condition to-day. He remains unconscious most of the time, and when his mind clears a little he can recognize a little he can recognize no one but his brothers. Lieut.-Gov.

Waterman and his private secretary, Boruck, called at the house for a minutes this morning, but were not permitted to see the governor. Water-man said he would perform no official act while a spark of life was left. VERY TRUE.

London, Sept. 10.—The Daily News says that if anything could be more flattering to Gladstone than the invitation from Philadelphia, it would be the unananimous regret of both the president and the people of America that he had been obliged to decline it.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. — John J. O'Brien, chief of the bureau of elec-tion, caused to be published yesterday in the city record a list of voters whose names are under consideration for appointment of inspectors of election. Four lists were given: Tammany, county Democracy, Repub-lican and the labor organization. No mention was made of Irving Hall. Among politicians the publication is taken as a notice that that or-ganization's claims are to be ignored. A TERRIBLE SCOURGE.

Little Edith's Ministrations.

A touching little incident comes to us of a young mother who was hopelessly ill, but quite unconscious of her condition. One afternoon her physicians held a consultation, and afterwards announced the sad fact that she had but a short time to live to the husband and sister of the patient. The four exchanged opinions as to the wisdom of telling her, and were quite unmindful of little Edith, the only child of the dying woman, five years old, who was busily playing with her dolls, apparently unconscious of what was going on about her. But in a few minutes the little Edith left her toys, walked slowly up stairs, and went directly to her mother's room. With the aid of a chair she placed herself on the bed at her mother's side, when she kissed the wan cheek and asked, in low, tender tones: "Mamma, are you 'faid to die?" The mother was startled by the question, and hesitatingly asked: "Who told you? Do they think—" "No matter, dear mamma. You needn't be 'faid at all. Hold my hand tight, like this, shut your eyes close, and I will stay by you, and when you wake up again you will be where 'tis all light." The eyes were closed, as directed, the two hands tightly clasped for a few minutes, and when the members of the family re-entered the room the child looked up and said: "I helped dear mamma to die, and she was not 'faid at all."
