ASTORIA, OREGON:

WEDNESDAY SEPTEMBER 11, 1887 PHILADELPHIA flippantly calls the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the constitution, which she is preparing to celebrate, "Centennial No. 2."

GENERAL MASTER WORKMAN POW-DERLY will address the Knights of Labor convention in Minneapolis, on October 3d, on "The World as Knighthood Would Make It."

Twelve cents a word from New York to England, Ireland and France, and fifteen cents to Germany are the rates to be charged hereafter by the Commercial Cable company. The company has voted an addition of $2,-000,000 to its capital stock.

THERE are eight "war governors" still living, it seems, who have agreed to attend the Grand Army of the Republic encampment at St. Louis. Among them is Joel Parker, of New Jersey, but Andrew J. Curtin, of Pennsylvania, is not sure that he can go. Most of the war governors who had the most war in them are dead.

Some time ago in Syracuse, Kan, when the nomination of candidates for council was under consideration, it was suggested, as a joke, that a ticket composed entirely of women be prepared. The joke went a step further, The ticket was prepared, and now at the election just held it has come out successful.

Mouris Atrins. proprietor of the Rocky Mountain News, died yesterday at San Diego, while visiting that city in the vain search for health.—Alta, 10.

In April, 1886, we visited Atkins in the News office in Denver. He said, "I've worked here fourteen hours a day for nine years without any vacation." And now all that is ended. There is a moral to this if we had time to study it out.

An interesting point of law has been decided by Judge Wilson in the superior court of San Francisco. A reporter of a city newspaper was asked whether he had received information embodied in one of his articles from a certain source. Objection was made to the question, on the ground that the communication made to the reporter by his informant was a privileged communication, and the judge sustained the objection, stating that it was against public policy to compel reporters to divulge sources of their information. There is a deal of somment on this decision, much of it being adverse.

To the farmers assembled in Atlanta, Henry W. Grady recently spoke in these glowing terms of the new south: "There are 230,000 artisans at work in the south to-day that were not here have tried your Robertine. It is excellent, and I shall be pleased to recommend it to all my lady friends. Believe me, yours truly, RHEA. terprises. We manufactured last year $213,000,000 worth of articles, that six years ago we bought from the north or west. In six years following the cotton exposition of 1873, new cotton mills have been built in the south, starting one million new spindles. The south to-day is witnessing an industrial revolution for which history has no precedent. Figures do not measure it, and amazement is simply limited by comprehension."

An important decision involving the construction of the phrase "dangers and accidents of the seas," in a bill of lading, was rendered by the English house of lords recently in the case of the Xantho. In this case the owners of a cargo sued the shipowners to recover for loss of goods carried under a bill of lading excepting, among other things, "dangers and ac cidents of the seas." It appeared that the loss of the goods was occas ioned by a collision between the carrying vessel and another, the plaintiffs alleging that the collision was occasioned by the negligent navigation of the carrying ship, the Xantho, and the defendants alleging that the loss was caused by the excepted perils, and that the collision was occasioned by the negligent navigation of the other vessel. The court of appeal gave judgment for the plaintiffs, but this judgment has now been reversed by the house of lords, which holds that the loss fell within the exceptions in the bill of lading.

is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abseess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumptien I would have died of Lung Troubles Was given up by doctors. Am now ir best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at W. E. Dement & Co.'s Drug Store.

With the fruitful soil of Clatsop yielding fruits to be canned at the canneries that now remain idle eight months in the year: with each of Astoria's twenty-four canneries a warehouse side-tracked to the main line of railroad: with a railroad from Portland down the Columbia: another J C Yale Miss E Potter Portland down the Columbia: another from Forest Grove, and a third up the coast via the Seaside and Young's bay: with the headquarters of the whale fisheries, and the deep sea fisheries and the salmon industries of the northwest coast located here: with an improved bar permitting vessels of deepest draught to enter and depart loaded to their fullest capacity: with large herds of improved cattle on the loaded to their fullest capacity: with large herds of improved cattle on the great grazing grounds of the county: With roads leading from Astoria to the remotest settlement within Clatsop's borders: with a healthy "boom" developed and not manufactured. developed and not manufactured: with a salmon exchange in Astoria, where all the business connected with charles B. Fink, senior editor of the Latrobe Advance, who is visiting in the east, recently went through a factory in New Jersey where the celebrated "Boston baked bean" is made. He had always believed that beans grew on a vine, but was disabased of that idea. The beans were made of an edible mixture, which a street railroad: with a water system that would insure a good supply of water in case of fire in any part of the city: with a bulkhead along the city front to keep the harbor from city front to keep the harbor from filling up: with the enormous lumber wealth of our county even partially developed: with a flour mill and a beet sugar factory: with the great coal measures of the Nehalem opened up: with all these and as many more needed enterprises, how bright As-toria's future would be. All these are possible and will ultimately be realities. It is for us all, regardless of internecine disagreements, to has ten their fulfillment. A Very Peculiar Accident.

A very peculiar accident is reported to have recently occurred at Keith's electric light works in Santa Rosa, Cala., which came near causing a fatality and conflagration. Some miscre auts dashed a bucket of water on the dynamo, which caused a counter cur-rent of electricity. Revolutions were greatly increased and electric sparks shot out in every direction. The heat was so great that some of the copper bearings and plates were melted. The superintendent attempted to shut off the circuit, but could not place his hand near the switch. The engineer tried to shut off the steam, but all iron was so heavily charged that he could not retain his hold upon the gauge. The men could very percep-tibly feel currents running through their bodies, and were at a loss to know what to do, when the belt slipped from the machinery and the trouble was ended. The injury to the dynamo and machinery is consid-erable, and the former will have to be ing of president and vice president sent to San Francisco to be repaired. The superintendent and engineer state that they never before experenced such peculiar and indescriba-ble sensations. Five men were seen leaving the place just about the time of the occurrence, and they are thought to be the guilty parties.
