

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1887

Read the news.

Reaching high water mark.

Astoria is to have a railroad.

Less than $48,000 more completes the amount.

Look out for the locomotive when the bell rings.

Subscriptions to the railroad subsidy aggregate $102,950.

The bark Pearl arrived in from San Francisco yesterday afternoon to load lumber.

To-day the Telephone makes her last Saturday round trip for the season.

The Columbia sailed yesterday at 5:30 P. M. She took on here 2,585 cases salmon.

Tillamook has heard of the Astoria railroad boom, and is going to have a $5,000 court house.

The River Indus is loaded and ready for sea. The City of York is discharging ballast.

The Gen. Miles arrived in yesterday seven hours from Gray's harbor, with 1,955 cases salmon.

There were twelve boats anchored in line yesterday in front of the city, catching the little fishlets that swarm in the stream.

It is thought that the grand jury will finish their labors about Monday next. The present court term is not expected to be a very long one.

The schooner Norma now loading at West Shore mills will take about 450 M. feet. The mill is cutting the lumber faster than it can be carried away.

A party of excursionists start this morning from Judge McGuire's place on a pleasant trip to the mouth of Elk creek, one of the attractive spots of Clatsop county.

Ben Worsley will have a three times auction sale at the Crystal Palace to-day—at 10:30 A. M., and 2 and 7 P. M. Goods at your own price. You are invited.

The revenue cutter Richard Rush is expected daily at San Francisco. Upon her arrival there, the Thos. Corwin will leave San Francisco and resume her station at Astoria.

The coasting fleet is busy: the Mischievous and A. B. Field are loading for Tillamook; the Gen. Miles came in yesterday; the Tonquin went out yesterday afternoon, and the river boats have all they can do.

Capt. J. C. Hunter, of the steamship Ancon, and the other officers of that vessel are to be transferred to the Idaho, and Capt. Carroll and the officers of the Olympian will take charge of the Ancon, which will continue on the Alaska route.

The San Francisco coast seaman's union has posted a new schedule of wages on coasting, lumber and coal vessels. The rates are $50 a month to open ports, $45 to bar harbors, and $40 to islands, or an increase of $5 all around over rates throughout the summer.

Fall fish of excellent quality is being packed on both sides of the river. Some of that which is packed on this side comes from Shoalwater bay; the bulk of it is brought from Washington territory, where September is an open month. After the first of next month the fall fishing will be more extensive, as after that date there will be no question as to legality.

At last, says the Journal, the post-office department have come to the rescue of Shoalwater bay, and have ordered a new letting of contract. Postmaster Morehead received instructions Wednesday to advertise for service beginning November 1st, upon the same schedule that was formerly run under, i. e., leave here three times a week after arrival of stage, and return the following day. Warren must have been "fired."

News comes all the way from Omaha, says the News, that a big row is brewing in the Union Pacific between president Adams and vice president and general manager T. J. Potter, and that one or the other must necessarily resign. The latter persists in sweeping out office-holders right and left and his broom occasionally strikes a favorite of the president's. In such cases Mr. Adams holds that he is entitled to name successors, which Potter disputes, and on this basis the two forces stand arrayed against each other.

An interesting piece of news.

It is announced on excellent authority that the largest shipping firm in Portland has bonded all of Geo. W. Hume's property in this city, a shared piece of business on their part. Mr. Hume's property is valuable, consisting of some water frontage in the heart of the city that will be of extreme value in the matter of warehouses and shipping facilities. The gentlemen who have bonded this property recognize its value and the business necessities of the hour.

ASIATIC CHOLERA IN NEW YORK.

A Murderer Hanged in San Francisco.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The steamer Alesia, which arrived below last night from Marseilles and Naples with six hundred passengers, has Asiatic cholera aboard. Eight passengers died on the passage and on the arrival of the vessel at quarantine the health officer found four cases aboard. He has sent the Alesia and her passengers to Westbank, in the lower bay.

The Alesia left Marseilles August 30th and Naples September 3rd. She is chartered to James K. Elwell & Co. On September 12th, Luigi Maria, a steerage passenger, aged 23, was taken sick, and died on the 15th. Paul Antonia Baldyria, another steerage passenger, aged 38, was taken sick, and died on the same date, the 15th. Jean Lenivin, sailor, aged 40, died the following day. In less than 24 hours from the time, taken on the 17th, Jean Somma, sailor, aged 30, was taken sick. He died on the 19th. Lerafin Delta, aged 21, steerage passenger, died on the 20th. Anna Valtraged, steerage passenger, aged 45, died on the 21st. Francisco Matteo, aged 41, was taken sick before coming on board, and died on the 22nd. Maria Antonia Scala Venio, aged 59, also ailing at the time of coming aboard, died on the 22nd. All were buried at sea.

The passengers will be transferred to the Swineburne Island hospital, and all the remaining passengers will be transferred to Hoffman Island for observation. The ship will remain in the lower bay until she has been thoroughly fumigated and cleaned.

REPIATED HIS CRIME. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—John Kernaghan was hanged in the county jail in this city at 12:04 P. M. to-day, for the murder of his sister-in-law, Martha Ann Hood, October 23, 1885. He entered her room and killed her with a hammer. The only cause given for the crime by the murderer was that the murdered woman had estranged him from his wife.

A PROMINENT FIGURE. NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The pathfinder, Gen. John C. Fremont, was a prominent figure at to-day's meeting of the Pacific railroad commission. He had been subpoenaed at his New Jersey home by sergeant-at-arms Walsh and had come to testify with reference to some of Gen. Stone's statements to the commission when it was in Omaha. The examination by Gen. Dodge was resumed as to the cost of construction of the Union Pacific railroad.

PORTLAND ITEMS. PORTLAND, Sept. 23.—The remains of the young attorney, J. C. S. Richardson, who died of typhoid fever at Prineville, arrived to-day. The body will be embalmed and forwarded to Washington.

To-morrow there will be a meeting of the members of the Portland bar to take appropriate action.

DEAD. Floyd, whose skull was badly fractured yesterday, on the White House road, died this morning at St. Vincent's hospital.

An unknown man fell from the train this morning while on the way from The Dalles to Portland and was instantly killed. The train was moving rapidly at the time and it is said, the man fell a distance of 50 feet.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Hattie Dunning leaves this morning for Eugene City, where she will continue her course of studies at the state university.

W. B. Adair, of this city, was married in Victoria a few days since to Mary Louise Jocand. The happy couple are passing their honeymoon at Goldstream.—Portland News, 23.

A Proffer of Terminal Facilities.

The following appears on one of the subscription lists, and constitutes a handsome addition to the inducements that will guarantee a railroad to the seaport of Oregon:

Ground for terminal facilities on Henry Martin land claim with water frontage not exceeding 2,000 (two thousand) feet, fronting as per diagram to be submitted to Mr. J. H. Woodward when $150,000 (one hundred and fifty thousand dollars) is subscribed:

Provided: The terminus of the road shall be located thereon.

VAN DUSEN AND BROS. With this is subscribed by the estate of A. Van Dusen the sum of $5,000.

The Gray's Harbor Trouble.

THE ASTORIAN is informed that the eight men indicted for malicious mischief in cutting traps, etc., at Gray's harbor, were unable to furnish the bail required, and were yesterday hauled for Olympia, where they will languish in jail till the next term of court, in May, '88. They were indicted, each on three counts, with bail fixed at $300 for each indictment, which was afterwards lumped at $500 each, and this, not being forthcoming, they had to go to jail. There is such a feeling on the harbor among residents and men who have their homes there that if there is a repetition of such depredations the perpetrators may consider themselves lucky if they have a chance to go to jail.

In the Graveyard.

Strolling through the Hillside cemetery in the bright September sunlight, where the new, fresh mound and the mossy stone half hidden from the eye told the same eternal story, he who accompanied us said, stopping at an old, old relic of poor mortality: "It makes me sad to stand by an old grave like this. It is so strange to think that these people—all these lying around us here—were living once. They walked about the streets, and went in and out, and loved and hated, and enjoyed and suffered. They lived whole great worlds of their own, and now even their names are lost, but for the record on these stones." He looked beyond the narrow mound with frightened eyes. "Oh, it terrifies me so to think that they lived all this bright, joyful, happy life, and now they are nothing."

"They lived, loved and were happy; at least, let us suppose so, since it is more comfortable to suppose that than the reverse. And see, this one lived more than eighty years. Was not that enough? One can run the whole gamut of life's experiences in eighty years. And then he must have been a good man, for see, his epitaph is filled with good advice to future generations. If he had been wicked it would have been devoted to setting forth his transcendent piety. A very bad man always becomes a saintly character after he goes into his grave—thereby creating in the minds of moral economists the pious wish that he had retired sooner to that sanctifying retreat."

Give Them a Chance! That is to say, your lungs. Also your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well. Cough, cold, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters.
