AYER'S PILLS.

If the Liver becomes torpid, or if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them, with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism and Dyspepsia.—G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John G. Fattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.—Theodore Esling, Richmond, Va.

DISTRICT SCHOOLS.

The Perils and Difficulties of Teaching Forty Years Ago.

Not one of the teachers of the district schools ever fancied that discipline could be enforced without corporal punishment; in fact, the people esteemed him in proportion to his severity. Generally the instrument of torture was a flat "ruler" of hardwood, and was applied to the open palm of the hand. Some of the brutes who handled this weapon seemed to delight in its use and employed it on the slightest excuse, and not infrequently without any cause. I have been flogged scores of times without the consciousness of having committed any offense whatever.

The women who taught in the summer did not use the ferrule, but generally a switch, the offender often being sent out to cut the instrument with which he was to be punished. One feminine teacher was an ingenious torturer, who constantly invented novel methods of punishment. One was to put a closed penknife between the fingers of the victim, press the fingers tight to the handle, and then twist the latter till the pupil howled over the intolerable pain.

While fitting for college I taught district schools for several winters, and so abhorred the various punishments I had suffered when a boy that I determined never to strike a pupil unless in absolute self-defense. And I never did. I taught in some pretty tough localities where punishments had been the rule from time immemorial.

There is, or was, a cross-road settlement on the Saconia river in which was a district school that was famous all through the region for the barbarism and intractable character of its scholars. I applied for it one winter and was laughed at by the trustees to whom I made the application.

"Why, they throwed out the teacher last winter; and that ain't all either; they mutilated him so that he'll be a cripple for life."

After much parleying I succeeded in getting the engagement, it being understood on the part of the trustees that if I lasted a week it would be a miracle.

The pupils who presented themselves on the opening day were not a choice lot. Most of them were from the hills, and were but little more advanced than savages in book learning. There were some half dozen boys as old as, or older than, myself, and two or three hulking chaps who were considerably larger than myself in physical dimensions. They looked me over with about the same glance that a bull dog might a slender terrier, but for several days were on their good behavior, being of the opinion that when the time came they would throw me out without any trouble. It was the case of a half dozen cats playing with a feeble mouse.

I soon sized up the crowd, and found that the leader was a sullen brute of some 25 years of age, who could just barely spell words of two or three letters, and could not even write his name. He good naturedly allowed me to order him up to repeat his letters with an air as if saying: "All right for a week or so, but we'll show you by and by." A fortnight after the school opened he was more sullen than usual one day, and when I requested him to come out and recite his letters "guessed he didn't want to say no lesson."

"Very well. When recess comes you'll keep your seat and not go out with the boys."

His ugly face took on a deeper scowl than usual, and he glanced around at the other big boys, with a glance which said: "Now's the time! We'll tackle him!" It was a half hour before recess. Meanwhile he pulled out an immense pocket knife, opened it, and then, when he saw me looking toward him, he jabbed the blade ostentatiously into the desk. The smaller scholars saw that a storm was brewing and were uneasy; the larger ones moved about and evidently thought the crisis was at hand.

When the hour for the recess came I picked up a heavy iron poker and carrying it as if it was a cane, I opened the door and said: "The boys may have a recess." As I did so I fixed my

How's Your Liver?

In the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.
As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

Price $1.00.

Wages of Lumbermen On the Sound.

Following are the wages in Puget sound logging camps: Skid greasers, $30 a month, this being the lowest position in the crew; swampers, barkers and hook-tenders get about $40; the skidders, who must keep the road in repair, get $50, if proficient; log-cutters get about $60, and a teamster, handling from three to eight yoke of oxen, which he must take care of and shoe, receives from $60 to $125. Cooks get from $40 to $100, according to size of crew. The head sawyers in the mills get from $100 to $125 per month; other sawyers, 200 to $65; filers, about $80; hands employed generally about the mill are paid from $30 to $40 per month. The price of good logs is $7.50 per thousand, and every mill on Puget sound is running on full time.

A Useful Prevention.

It is a useful precaution for the tourist, the commercial traveler, or the emigrant to the West, to take along Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Invalids who travel by steamboat or rail should provide themselves with it, in order to prevent or remedy the nausea which the jarring and vibration of vehicles in transit often cause them. Vastly preferable is it for this simple, but needful purpose, to the heady unmediated stimulants of commerce. On board ship it not only relieves seasickness, but neutralizes the pernicious effects of water slightly brackish, which, if unqualified, is apt to give rise to irregularities of the bowels, cramps in the abdominal region, and dyspepsia. To the great poison of malaria it is an efficient antidote. Sick headache, heartburn and wind from the stomach, are promptly banished by it. It healthfully stimulates the kidneys and bladder, and nullifies the early symptoms of rheumatism.
