ASTORIA, OREGON:

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1887

Scandinavian Benevolent society meet to-night.

City council to-night—if there's a quorum.

The Idaho sailed for Alaska at 1:15 yesterday afternoon.

In San Francisco tin plate is quoted at $5.25; in Portland at $4.90; in Astoria, $5.

L. Martin has a neat little plunger for sale at his shop opposite Arndt & Perchen's.

Portland's hotel subsidy aggregates $82,800, and in other respects it is doing quite well.

The Dolphin started for Tillamook at four yesterday morning, with 3,000 empty cans and 20 tons merchandise.

D. G. Ross has moved his working force to Hill's creek, where he is putting in logs at the rate of 25 M per day.

Mr. C. W. Shively, clerk school district No. 18, gives notice regarding the payment of school taxes in that district.

The A. B. Field came in from Tillamook last Sunday. She brought 1,100 cases salmon for Elmore, Sanborn & Co.

Fishing in the vicinity of Brownsport and Brookfield is reported slack. The seines catch a few, but the gill nets are doing scarcely anything.

There will be a novel entertainment at Liberty hall this evening, and one which will prove a source of pleasure and amusement to all who attend. See advt.

The Tonguin arrived in last Sunday with 800 cases salmon from the Sawlog cannery. The scow Queen of the Bay is broken and dismantled. Capt. Grounds has saved considerable from the wreck.

The Mansanita is repairing the boiler and expects to get out to Tillamook rock to-morrow with supplies. On her next trip to the rock superintendent McClure will take out a new boiler and engine for use in hoisting, etc.

R. E. Davis, a San Francisco drummer, recently committed suicide at Lakeview. He was short only $100. He lost his money by gambling, and being recalled by his employer was afraid to return home. His widow is in San Jose, Cal.

New blanks containing information for the use of shipmasters, are now posted on the bulletin board at the incident. They are more systematic and stylish than the old ones and present the information from the bar in neater shape.

Second assistant Carlson, at the Cape lighthouse, is to be transferred to the lighthouse at Cape Arago, and promoted to the position of first assistant. This will create a vacancy at the Cape lighthouse to be filled by collector Abrahams of Portland.

The Port Townsend Argus has been taking dispatches. Its enterprising editor says he believes the community of Port Townsend ought to depend on its own resources for telegraphic news of the world. The Argus is a live paper and deserves success.

They have a singular way of dealing with criminals at Pendleton. The East Oregonian says: G. C. Israel was arrested for destroying a chattel mortgage. He gave bonds in the sum of $800. On the following day the matter was compromised, Mr. Israel agreeing to leave the state. He left town on Wednesday evening's train.

Twenty-two applicants were before the supreme court at Salem last week, for legal permission to practice law in this state, which was unanimously granted. One of them was asked, "What is marriage?" He replied: "A contract by which a man and woman agree to live together." He was dumbfounded by the judge curtly remarking: "Yes! Many a man and woman are indicted for that!"

Since last report, additions have been made to railroad subscription lists as follows: Wm. Chance, $100; W. J. Barry, $100; A. M. Twombly, $100. Four or five of our citizens, a little backward in coming forward, have now a chance to distinguish themselves by signing for $1,000 apiece, thus aiding in making the $150,000 subscription an accomplished fact.

A Lewis county farmer owned a Holstein bull worth $500, which was inclined to be cross. It got into the yard one day last week, and the farmer, intending to frighten the animal, loaded up his shotgun with an extra charge of powder and a large wad of paper. Then, planting himself squarely in front of his bullship, he let drive at short range. When the smoke of battle cleared away the bull was lying on the ground as dead as Julius Caesar.

A church sociable and hugging held in the eastern part of the state, recently, broke up in a row. The withered remnant of a man aching for a smack at a sweet sixteen, blew in fifteen cents and was blindfolded for a game. The manager ran his wife against him and the squeeze he gave her made her back ache. When the bandage was removed and he discovered the swindle, he howled like a mad man, smote the manager on the jaw and choked the treasurer until he refunded.

Specials to Readers of "The Astorian."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The statistical report of the department of agriculture makes an increase of only one-half of one per cent. in the condition of the corn. The past month has been generally favorable, but the status of the large part of the crop was fixed at the date of the last report. The general average condition is 72.8 instead of 72.3. The average of the seven surplus states is 64.9 instead of 64.2 in September. The yield of oats is slightly above the average of about twenty-five bushels per acre. The product is fully 600,000,000 bushels—a lower condition than has ever been reported, except in 1881, when the average was nearly seven points lower and the average yield 18 1/2 bushels. Indications now are for a yield of a small fraction over 20 bushels per acre.

WHAT THE "POST" THINKS. LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Post, commenting on the fisheries dispute, says that the main contention with Americans is that no nation has the right of jurisdiction over the sea beyond the three mile limit. On the Pacific, America is acting in flat contradiction to any such principle of international or treaty rights. British vessels have been arrested outside their limit and their captains fined and crews imprisoned. In some cases the vessels and cargoes have been forfeited. America's Pacific claims form an excellent counter argument to America's Atlantic claims, and as such will be of great and direct value to Mr. Chamberlain.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 18.—It is believed that the British gunboat Wasp, from Singapore, was lost with all hands, in the recent typhoon. The steamer and three war ships are searching for traces of the Wasp.

EVERYTHING ALL RIGHT. MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 10.—John Morrison, of New York, announced this noon, that the trouble over his famous expelled district assembly of carpet weavers had all been settled and they would be reinstated by the general assembly.

A LAKE DISASTER. VIENNA, Oct. 10.—The Austrian steamer Hapsburg yesterday collided with and sank the Saxonian steamer on Lake Constance. Many passengers were drowned, the exact number being unknown.

DEATH OF STRAKOSCH. PARIS, Oct. 10.—Maurice Strakosch, trainer of Mme. Patti, is dead.

TENDERED A RECEPTION. PORTLAND, Oct. 10.—Cardinal Gibbons was tendered a public reception at the Casino to-night, at which there was a very large attendance.

W. C. T. U.

By order of the president the Astoria W. C. T. U. will hold a special meeting, this afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. hall, for the purpose of making arrangements to receive Mrs. Mary Lathrap, the celebrated temperance lecturer, who will speak in Astoria Oct. 12th and 13th. The members are requested to be out in full force.

Have the following to say of Wisdom's Robertine, the great beautifier and preserver of the complexion:

PORTLAND, Or., June 4, 1887. To Mr. W. M. Wisdom—Dear Sir—I have tried your Robertine. It is excellent, and I shall be pleased to recommend it to all my lady friends. Believe me, yours truly,

PORTLAND, Dec., 1885. To Mr. W. M. Wisdom—The "Robertine" you so kindly sent me is excellent. It is the finest preparation I have ever used, and is a decided acquisition to every lady's toilet. Yours truly,

ASTORIA, WISCONSIN. PORTLAND, Or., April 6, 1887. Dear Mr. Wisdom—I have tried your "Robertine," and it gives me much pleasure to say that it is excellent for the complexion, being one of the best articles of the kind I have ever used. Believe me, yours sincerely,

Z. TABELL. For sale by W. E. Dement & Co. druggists, Astoria, Oregon

The Oregonian publishes a long list of prices paid compositors in newspaper offices and job printers in different parts of the United States, as supplied by the different typographical unions. The price per 1,000 ems varies from 23 cents to 50 cents; the weekly wages of job printers from $15 to $21. Astoria does not appear on the list. For several years The Astorian has paid 50 cents, the highest price, for every 1,000 ems set in this office, and $25—higher than the highest on the Oregonian's list—job printer's wages.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

A Big Advertisement For "The Salvation Army."

In the police court yesterday G. W. Wade was on trial charged with fighting. Officer Whalen testified that he went into the salvation army barracks at 9:30 Sunday night and found Wade on top of a man whom he was hammering; that Wade was the one who was doing the hammering. Chief Twombly testified that it sounded, before he went in, like a tornado; that Wade was thumping a young man named McCann. C. E. Chipman testified that the young man named McCann and a few others had been kicking up a row all the evening and had been asked by Wade to keep still, and when finally Wade tried to put one of them out, another jumped on his (Wade's) back, and that when the officers came in they took Wade. The defendant testified that he was detained by the officers of the "salvation army" to keep order; that he hauled the man up out of his seat and started to put him out; that when the officers came in he said "Here, arrest this man;" that they didn't arrest the man he asked them to arrest, but took him and locked him up in jail and here he was.

After this the court took a recess till 7:30 P. M.

AND THE VILLAGIN STILL PURSUED HER.

At 7:30 the counsel for the defense, the counsel for the prosecution, the prisoner, the judge, three policemen, a cloud of witnesses and an interested crowd of spectators appeared and the examination was resumed: "Captain" Wills, a member of the "army," was the first on the stand, followed by others, the testimony being somewhat disconnected, owing to objections on the part of counsel, who sustained their objections with argument of great force and precision.

But the court room was presently but a sideshow, the main circus being down stairs. About 7:30 the usual procession started from the barracks, two girls in front, with tambourines; three men with torches bringing up the rear, the five singing songs of Zion as they trudged through the streets. They walked around as usual, and on their return to their headquarters halted and began to sing on Cass street, in front of I. W. Case's bank. Policeman Linville, under recent instructions, as he states, from the mayor, ordered them to move on and not obstruct the streets. This being refused, he insisted, and a second refusal resulted in their being arrested and taken to the city jail, followed by a dense crowd of men and boys. They walked willingly, and with unbroken song, and when the doors clanged on them they first prayed loudly and then burst into louder strains of melody that drowned the voices of opposing counsel in the court room above.

Judge Jewett instructed officer Whalen to make them be quiet, and he left, remarking as he did so, that it would be a hard job. The two girls had their tambourines taken away from them and were locked in a cell, the three men being incarcerated in a cell adjoining. They immediately struck up a lusty tune and for probably the first time the jail was filled with five voices that proclaimed their fervent belief in the power of the Lord to save.

Counsel for the defence asked what bail would be required for each of the ladies. Judge Jewett said $10. A gentleman who was present asked one of them through the little wicket in the cell if they wanted to be bailed out; the youngest said "Oh dear no," and asked one of the policemen if there were any lice in the place, for if there were any she thought they'd better keep their hats on. The policeman reassured them on that point and then they asked him to give their candle to the poor man in the next cell; they didn't need any candle. Alfred Zetterman, Chas. Johnson, and John Doe are the male members and Mary Rowe and Nancy Rowe the female members of the quartette. Later on the tambourines were handed back they whooped it up till they were and tired.

By 9:30 they had sung all the songs they knew and wound up with "What shall the harvest be?" The girls were told that it wasn't necessary for them to remain; that they would be allowed to go on their own recognizance, but the opportunity to pose as martyrs was too good to be lost, and they said they preferred staying where they were, and were resigned to suffer for the Lord. Upstairs the trial of Wade went on, a very large crowd being present and enjoying the fun. On the street the remainder of the circus paraded the streets, singing, but the chief attraction being in jail the performance did not attract the usual attention. Several witnesses were examined and at 10:15 the evidence being all in, the argument began; the case was thoroughly discussed, the defense arguing that they had a right to worship God in their own way and repress any disturbance on the part of those who saw fit to go there; the prosecution arguing that the performance partook of the nature of a circus; that they went out on the street, drummed up a crowd, invited the boys in to have a regular time and couldn't expect anything else but that their antics would create disturbance. At eleven o'clock the judge said he would take the case under advisement till three o'clock this afternoon.

By their parades and postures, their performances on the street and in their barracks, this gang of mountebanks invite ridicule and thrive on notoriety. Devoid of dignity and with the sole idea to make money, they do all they can to get men and boys to go to their meetings, and while it is to be conceded in general that any one has a right to worship in their own way, yet the widest latitude of meaning given to the word "worship" will not justify such rows as they manage to get and seem inclined to have as a part of their way of making money. The gang of hoodlums who hoot and jeer and follow if they would let the salvation army alone, the several members would find the salvation army business so unprofitable that they would quit. A heavy, soaking rain would probably dispose of them as effectually as any municipal interference.

Give Them a Chance! That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boscbee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

V. M. C. A.

The executive committee of the Young Men's Christian association met last evening to consider the needs of the organization and to take steps toward placing it on a sound financial footing. Fifteen hundred dollars is required for the coming year's expenses and after considerable discussion as to the best means of raising this money, it was resolved that a committee of four, viz: C. A. Hanson, E. C. Holden, J. T. Ross and G. A. Charnock, be appointed to call on the business men for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions for the carrying on of this work for another year. Considerable progress has been made in the work during the past year. The membership has increased over a hundred per cent. More young men have now got their shoulders under this work than ever before. The rooms are now in good shape for the carrying on of an increasingly useful work. Classes are being organized in grammar, book-keeping, writing and arithmetic, and a Chautauqua circle has already been formed, with 16 members.

Their Business Booming. Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at W. E. Dement & Co's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free of charge size $1. Every bottle warranted.
