

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SUNDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1887.

A PORTLAND PROTEST.

Against Abandonment of Fort Canby. The Coming National Conventions. PORTLAND, Oct. 22.—The Portland board of trade took action to-day, in conjunction with the Astoria chamber of commerce and sent dispatches to Senator Dolph and the secretary of war protesting against the removal of the troops from Fort Canby.

SAFE HOME. WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The presidential party arrived here at 6:10 this morning.

CRIMINAL AFTERMATH. CINCINNATI, Oct. 22.—The expected sensation in the Fidelity National Bank indictments began to develop this morning. Twenty-eight true bills have been found. The divulged names indicted are vice president Harper, five indictments; cashier Ann Baldwin, four indictments; cashier B. E. Hopkins, four indictments. The indictments are for violation of the statute at large concerning national banks and for fraud. J. W. Wilshire, the broker who led in the disastrous wheat deal, using the Fidelity Bank funds, has four indictments against him. W. H. Chaffield and Henry Payne, the directors, who signed the May reports of the Fidelity Bank to the comptroller of the treasury, have been indicted for signing false returns and were arraigned this morning.

THE NEXT DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—A number of prominent Democrats met last night to consider the proposition of endeavoring to induce the national Democratic committee to hold the next national convention in this city. The committee appointed to confer with the railroad officials in regard to rates estimated that $25,000 would cover the expenses of the convention, and the members of the committee having the matter in charge directed that steps be taken towards raising that amount if the convention shall be held here.

WITH FATAL RESULT. REDDING, Oct. 22.—G. S. Henderson, of Adin, the passenger on the outside box on the stage who was shot in the abdomen by a highwayman last night, died this morning. He was on his way from the Knights Templars convalesce at San Francisco. After the shooting the driver drove the stage to Loomis corners, where the wounded man was made comfortable until his death this morning. There is no clue to the robbery yet.

WILL ARREST THEM ALL. CINCINNATI, Oct. 22.—Miss Josie Holmes, private secretary to E. L. Harper in the Fidelity National bank, was arrested last night by the United States officers on a north-bound railway train at Hamilton. She was brought here at midnight and put in jail. There is belief that the U. S. officers will make numerous Fidelity bank arrests.

THE NEXT REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. PITTSBURG, Oct. 22.—Chairman Jones to-day issued a call for the national Republican committee to meet at the Arlington hotel in Washington on December 8th to fix the date and place for the next national Republican convention.

LYNCH LAW. DELPHI, Ind., Oct. 22.—About midnight last night a mob of 180 men attacked the jail here, took out Amer Green, who was confined therein waiting for trial for the abduction and murder of Lula Mabbitt, and hung him. He was taken about seven miles from town, where the deed was committed.

JOS. WILL NOT WITHDRAW. LONDON, Oct. 22.—Jos. Chamberlain in response to inquiry to-day said: "There is no foundation for the ridiculous statement that I propose to withdraw from the fisheries commission."

A TERRIBLE DISASTER. DETROIT, Oct. 22.—The Canadian propeller Ontario is reported blown to pieces by the explosion of her boiler in the North channel near the Bruce mines and 85 people have been killed thereby.

OBITUARY. LONDON, Oct. 22.—The death is announced of Waldemar Adolph, the celebrated Danish poet and novelist, at the age of 72 years.

THE WORLD'S NEWS.

Clipped and Condensed From Various Sources.

An appeal for renewal in the case of the Chicago anarchists is before the United States supreme court. Gov. Church, of Dakota, in his annual report, says that territory has 568,477 population, and thinks that it ought to be admitted as a state.

The probability of the supreme court declaring the prohibitory liquor laws unconstitutional, is being discussed in New York and elsewhere.

Near Redding last Friday, while on the stage box with the driver, Geo. Henderson, of Modoc county, Cal., was shot and fatally wounded by highwaymen.

The Coos Bay Mail is informed that an inside bar has formed at the mouth of the Coquille, which presages a great detriment to shipping at that port.

Five thousand soldiers, comprising the first brigade of the Massachusetts expedition, leave Rome for their destination November 2. Another brigade of 6,000 men will follow November 11.

A number of Chinamen met in New York city on the 20th, and denounced their consul because he would not favor a mass meeting of Chinamen to protest against Denis Kearney and his utterances.

It is rumored in Washington that secretary Lamar will resign his office as secretary of the interior in November, and that after the 15th Muldrow will be virtual, if not acting secretary of the interior.

A bloody fight between vigilantes and outlaws on the north fork of the Arkansas river, in the Indian territory, last Thursday, resulted in the repulse of the former after a loss of sixteen of their number.

The work of grading on the Southern Oregon company's logging railroad at Sumner, goes right along, about fifty men being employed. New buildings are going up, and Sumner is getting to be a lively town.

The run of salmon on the lower bay has been rather light for the past few days, but Coos river is still holding out. Opinions in regard to another run of silversides are somewhat divided, a few of the fishermen claiming that the fall run is over, while others expect a good run yet.

An effort is being made to get up an excitement about the mineral deposits in the Kootenai lake region along the boundary line of northern Idaho and British Columbia, says the Murray Sun. Parties on the Northern Pacific railroad lately from that section are quite enthusiastic over recent discoveries.

The sloop Ariel, used as a pilot boat off Cape Flattery, is missing. She has not been heard from for several days. Captain Henry McAlmond left Port Townsend to pilot up a vessel over a week ago. Frank Francis was in charge of the sloop after McAlmond left. It is feared the crew have perished.

Piles that were coated with different anti-teredo coverings and driven along the harbor front of San Francisco as an experiment in 1882 and 1885, were drawn last Friday. All the coatings showed signs of having proved a failure. Most of the piles were honey-combed by teredos.

Horatio L. Barling, George W. Locher, James Madison, T. F. Nesmith and James E. Van of San Francisco, have incorporated the Alaska Improvement company, with a capital stock of $250,000, divided into 250 $1,000 shares. The company propose to engage in the business of trading, fishing, mining and milling in Alaska.

E. M. Cooper, general superintendent of Wells, Fargo & Co., has sent a letter to messenger J. E. Smith at Houston, Texas, complimenting him for "prompt and effective action in defense of the company's property at the time of the attempted train robbery near El Paso on the evening of the 14th inst.," and enclosing the company's check for $2,000.

The London board of trade has concluded its inquiry into the loss of the Inman line steamer City of Montreal, burned at sea August 10, while on a voyage from New York for Liverpool. The board decides that neither the owners nor the officers of the ship are blameable for the disaster, but that the cotton in the steamer's cargo, in which the fire was first discovered was not properly packed.

A large cargo of canned salmon was shipped to San Francisco from Yaquina by the steamer Eastern Oregon Tuesday. Most of it was brought from Siuslaw by the steam schooner Mischief. Capt. Winant, of the last named vessel, says that the Siuslaw bar is becoming badly shoaled from the heavy swells of the past few weeks, which, strange to relate, have had no perceptible effect upon the Yaquina bar.

A joint contract was entered into at New York last Friday between the Northern Pacific, Union Pacific and Oregon Railway & Navigation company, by which the latter company is leased and jointly operated by the two former companies, who guarantee 6 per cent. per annum on Oregon Railway & Navigation stock. All questions between it and the Oregon & Transcontinental will be settled amicably, and suits and counter suits withdrawn.

Dr. Steele returned from a visit to Umpqua and Siuslaw rivers Saturday. From him the Coos Bay Mail learns that the run of salmon has fallen off considerably of late, the boats when he left averaging only about twenty fish each per night. The three canneries on that river had put up about 12,000 cases altogether. Al. Bee's cannery on the Umpqua, being the only one running on that river this season, is getting about all the fish it can handle, and will put up a large catch.

The Northern Pacific Railroad company will receive the highest award and a gold medal at the American exhibition in London for its display of products of Oregon, Washington territory, Idaho, Montana and Dakota. The exhibit has attracted universal attention there the past summer, and much has been done to direct attention thereby to this country. The company sent over forty tons of pamphlets descriptive of the whole country, which were distributed all over the British islands.

M. Hogan, secretary of the Empire Seed company swindle, who was arrested in Albany for fraud in obtaining a $600 note of A. P. Maxwell, for forty bushels of wheat at $15 a bushel, was discharged last Friday in justice Humphrey's court. The note and contract were legally drawn, and the court held that verbal misrepresentation and lying do not constitute fraud within the meaning of the criminal law. More than a dozen farmers of Linn county are known to have been taken in for several hundred dollars each. Much indignation is expressed by farmers who have been swindled.

THE CLACKAMAS HATCHERY.

Proposed Action Of The Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The sundry civil appropriation bill passed at the last session of congress containing a proposition for the establishment of a salmon hatchery in Oregon, and for this purpose $10,000 was placed at the disposal of the fish commissioner. Attached to the appropriation is a proviso that it shall not be expended until the state of Oregon first takes the necessary steps to protect and prevent extinction of salmon that resort to its rivers, it being claimed that in this particular Oregon has been remiss, and it was insisted that before coming to congress for relief the state should exert its power to prevent wanton destruction of the fish product of the Columbia and other rivers in that state.

Oregon has, in the meantime, moved in the matter, and the requirements of the proviso have been complied with. This being the case, senator Dolph has placed himself in communication with the fish commissioner, urging that the appropriation be now expended. This the commissioner has promised to do.

At the outset this officer, however, finds himself faced by an obstacle that may delay this action. The point selected by the fish commissioner for the hatchery is the mouth of the Clackamas river, at which point the state is about to establish a hatchery. This location is deemed the most eligible, as it affords many advantages not found elsewhere, and the government is naturally very anxious to secure this site. Senator Dolph has promised to exert himself to secure such concessions from the state as will relieve the fish commissioner from his present embarrassment, and assurances are given that the hatchery will be established with as little delay as possible, it being presumed that the Oregon authorities will move promptly in the premises.
