

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1887.

Calendars for '88 are arriving. The boys are catching crawfish. Geese were flying north yesterday.

The county commissioners meet today. All three amendments deserve defeat. A school holiday is asked for next Tuesday.

Gov. Penney's thanksgiving proclamation is due. The telegraph line went down at 6:15 last evening.

The W. T. board pilot commissioners meet to-morrow. Dead mallard ducks are plenty: canvasbacks are scarce, dead or alive.

"A blind pool" is what the Olympia Partisan calls our railroad subsidy: That's all right. Griffin & Reed are moving into the brick building, corner Third and Genevieve streets.

Yesterday the feast of All Saints was observed with appropriate ceremonies at the Catholic church. General A. B. Campbell, of Kansas, will deliver a lecture on prohibition at Liberty Hall at 7:30 this evening.

The ship Argyleshire cleared from Victoria for London on the 1st with 31,104 cases salmon, valued at $175,000. Messrs. A. V. R. and G. W. Snyder, of the Transcript, begin this afternoon, the publication of a daily edition.

A steamer came down at ten last night for a surgeon to attend a young man who broke his leg yesterday evening at Skamokawa. Prophecies are made that the coming winter will be a stormy one. Whatever the winter, the summer and fall were remarkably fine and dry.

A. L. Maxwell has been appointed general passenger and ticket agent of the O. R. & N. Co., in the place made vacant by the resignation of J. J. Byrne. Across the plump jersey of one of the salvation army is the startling scarlet legend: "There is no water in hell." So that institution has gone dry, has it!

The London Grocer of Oct. 8th, says of the market in that city: Holders of salmon are still screwing the market up tightly as possible, and higher prices are asked everywhere, so that the lowest figures now spoken of are 28 1/2 cts for "outside" fish, 31 1/2 cts for Columbia river, and 32 1/2 cts for flat fins of really choice quality; but the transactions effected are of small extent. Of the Liverpool market the same authority says: The general business in salmon is satisfactory, showing the usual steady demand at the present season. The anticipated yield of Alaska fish has not been realized, so that there is now no possibility of making up any deficiency, and the usual supplies of this country will probably not exceed one-half the average of the preceding five years.

PERSONAL MENTION. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fox have returned to the city. Rev. W. L. McEwan, of Walla Walla, has tendered his resignation as rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

J. W. Hume, Nat. Jones and about twenty who were fishing on the Coquille, have returned after a successful season's operations. R. A. Foster, J. C. Muhlenburg, H. S. Hostetter, E. S. Edwards, A. Olsen, R. E. Haines, Wm. Buttler are at the Occident.

J. W. Hume, Wm. Chance, Geo. Barneburg, A. J. Hayden, J. Gold, W. J. Smith, I. S. Grage, W. De Lisswood, T. A. Danielson, J. W. Morris, H. L. Shuster, Thos. Irving, B. O. Hara, A. A. Chuchie, E. Spencer, E. Speckley, Wm. Reid, E. Reid, C. Hawbacker, are at the Parker House. G. Noren, O. Ekland, G. Waugren, J. L. Churst, D. Kuntz, M. R. Clifford, D. R. McIntosh, W. H. Taylor, D. A. Stewart, D. Martin, R. Martin, W. Welton, G. A. Berry and wife, H. Sloop, Peter Olsen, G. W. Johnson, W. McKinnon, J. M. Munroe, C. S. Rubie, M. Washburn, Geo. Sold, Jr., E. L. Mitchell, A. Clark, C. W. Hamblin, H. H. Hayward, C. C. Jones, M. A. Graham, R. Jenkins, L. Hanson, F. Tronsen, C. Westlund, are at the Astor House.

The Power of Concentration. I believe the men who rule the world are those who have got the power of concentration. That is not to deny the power of word painting. When you wish the people to see the truth, you must not spare the coloring. Iteration and reiteration are the only ways of getting a ball through the steel plated brains of bigots. Hit a spot once, they are mad; twice they sliver and stagger; three times they are terrified and say if he hits there again he'll be through, sure; four times, and you penetrate. But the ball must be concentrated and solid.

The power and influence of the newspaper has been of necessity to teach concentration. Nearly its whole make-up is itemized. One murder, ten lines; a political speech of three hours, fourteen lines; the doings of congress for a whole day, half a column; railroad affairs for the whole United States, itemized in two columns; editorials short and pithy and pungent. Everything must be so arranged that you can read at a glance. This is no trifling matter, dear reader, and you know it right well. Life is short. There are 60,000 English words, not counting 10,000 slang words. The possible permutations and combinations of all these is incomputable. No author, speaker or writer should undertake to handle words except just enough to express an exact idea.—Globe-Democrat.

All Bets Were Off. According to a recent letter Larry Jerome's latest story about high life in New York is rapidly going the rounds. It seems that the artistic Mrs. Vanastorbik has a telephone in her house, and, as the meat had not arrived for dinner up to five o'clock, she telephoned the central office and was put into communication with the butcher.

"Wall?" drawled the butcher over the wire. "Where is that meat that was ordered for Mrs. Vanastorbik this morning?" "It'll be at the house in ten minutes." "I am afraid you will disappoint me." "Wall, you can bet your sweet life, me daisy, that I won't disappoint you, for I'm stuck on your shape." A shriek, and then the query, "Do you know to whom you are talking, sir?" "Of course I do. I am talking with the cook." "No, you're not; you're talking with Mrs. Vanastorbik." "Wall, in that case," was the cheerful response, "all bets are off."

Attention, Co. "H." There will be a regular business meeting of Co. "H." O. N. G., at the armory this evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested. By order A. E. SHAW, Commanding. Notice. The ladies of Grace Episcopal church are preparing for a bazaar to be held on the 10th and 11th of November, 1887, at Liberty hall. A more extended notice will be given in due time. Sweet Apple Cider. At the Astoria Soda Works. Ten cents for a cup of Fabre's nice coffee. Private Rooms. At Frank Fabre's for suppers, parties, etc. The best cooked to order. Seeds, Seeds, Seeds. All kinds of Grass Seeds and a fine variety of choice Vegetable Seeds in bulk, sold in quantities to suit, at Thompson & Ross'. Try Fabre's celebrated pan roast.

THE GARRISON TO GO.

The Secretary of War Declines to Suspend the Order. Capt. Gray was last evening in receipt of a letter from Senator Dolph who, under date of Washington, D. C., Oct. 24th, says, relative to the proposed removal of the garrison from the fort:

"I called Saturday on the secretary of war and filed the telegrams and a written protest against the removal of the troops from Fort Canby, and used such arguments against it as occurred to me. The secretary was not familiar with the matter, but promised to take it under consideration. Gen. Sheridan was out of the city. I called at the war department again to-day and filed a telegraphic remonstrance from the board of trade of Portland, and had an interview with Gen. Drum, to whom I was informed, the papers had been referred. I presented to both the secretary and Gen. Drum such reasons as occurred to me against the removal. I shall endeavor to see Gen. Sheridan as soon as he returns to the city."

WHERE THE SCHEME STARTED. "I learned," continues Senator Dolph, "that Gen. Howard on the 29th of August, based in part upon the report of an inspector as to the condition of the government building at Fort Canby and the amount necessary to provide suitable quarters there and the unusual cost of transportation, recommended the removal of the garrison to California. On the 12th of September Gen. Sheridan submitted the recommendation to the secretary of war with favorable endorsement, and it was returned with the approval of the acting secretary of war on the 28th of September. The movement is also in accordance with the policy of the department, which is to consolidate the military posts and concentrate the troops."

REFUSES TO INTERFERE. About the same time that Capt. Gray got the above last evening, he received the following telegram: WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1, '87. Hon. J. H. D. Gray: Unable to see the secretary to-day, but learn that he declines to suspend the order. So that unless the secretary of war reconsiders his refusal or declaration to suspend the order of removal, the fort at the north entrance to the Columbia river is to be virtually abandoned, an unwarrantable proceeding, which, under the circumstances, seems likely to come to pass.

But It Isn't Even Good Economy. The proposed evacuation of Fort Canby at the mouth of the Columbia is in accordance with the policy of concentrating the army at a few large posts. The policy is good as a measure of economy, and in offering better opportunity for instruction in regimental and grand tactics, but it hardly warrants the abandonment of a harbor defense position covering the outlet of a great shipping district, and the terminus of a transcontinental railroad.—S. F. Bulletin, Oct. 25.

A Sort of Snap Judgment. Mr. Donald Macleay, president of the board of trade, has received a letter from Senator Dolph stating that it will not be an easy matter to get the war department to revoke the order to abandon Fort Canby. Such abandonment was recommended to Gen. Howard by an inspector. Gen. Howard endorsed the recommendation to Gen. Sheridan, and he in turn indorsed to the secretary of war. It will be seen that much has to be undone to prevent the post being abandoned.—Oregonian, 1.

Give Them a Chance! That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them. When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boghee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Knag Paper. We knew it would come. The announcement has been made that a paper coffin has been invented and put upon the market. A man may now build his house of paper, eat his dinner from paper plates, wipe his face with a paper handkerchief, buy his wife a paper piano and go to his grave in a paper coffin. The coffin may be paid for with a piece of paper and the death published on another piece. There are few things more useful than paper. Plain Sewing and Dressmaking. At Mrs. Scott's, opposite Ross' opera house. Sewing for families by the day at their homes if desired. For the very best pictures go to H. S. Shuster. Meals Cooked to Order. SKIN SCALP BLOOD

Having been a sufferer for two years and a half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg, and having been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES when all other methods and remedies failed, I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John F. Finlay, (to whom I shall ever feel grateful), spoke to me about CUTICURA, and I consented to give them a trial with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no sore about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of any one in the State. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. I refer to druggist John F. Finlay and Dr. J. C. Montgomery, both of this place, and to Dr. Smith, of Lake Lee, Miss.

She used all the best known remedies in the country without effect. I advised her to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES. Got her a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and she took it, and has taken in all about six or seven bottles, and now she is a well woman today. Her leg is entirely healed, and her health was never better. She can go out every day, something she has not done in ten years, so you see I cannot be stating to you about your wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES. You have saved my mother's life. I can't say enough for you. I have advertised your CUTICURA REMEDIES far and near.
