THE ASTORIAN guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

The Mistletoe club will have a dance next Friday night.

Let's get Henry Villard out here and organize a blind pool.

Note the artistic pastile work in the window of the City book store.

The New York Novelty Store is getting in a large supply of fall novelties.

The new four masted schooner Volunteer will be launched at Hoquiam to-morrow.

County commissioners Crow and Nurnburg will meet and set the county tax levy to-day.

Wm. Nyland, an insane man, was taken to the asylum in charge of John Curran yesterday.

The Main street wharf is full of business. There is a mast and spar factory in present operation.

The Norwegian bark Alert cleared for Queenstown yesterday carrying 47,971 bus. wheat, worth $33,400.

How would it do to buy a street sweeper, one of the brush kind? Our streets need something of the kind.

The Columbia yesterday took 213 ca. salmon, 165 sks. oysters, 9 M. feet lumber, 30 tons shooks, 506 bbls. laths.

In spite of wind and weather building goes right on. This has been a good year for the permanent growth of Astoria.

The Sawlog cannery on the Nehalem closed operations last Saturday. The pack for the season is a little over 7,000 cases.

The British Columbia salmon pack of '87 footed up 185,000 cases of this 130,000 were sent to England, 30,000 to Canada, and 25,000 local.

Ducks are coming in plentier, and the honk of the festive goose is heard in the land. Turkeys are roosting high and wear an anxious expression.

The attention of lovers of the beautiful is directed to A. V. Allen's announcement of his coming opening of artistic glass and crockery ware.

Captain U. Sebree, light house inspector, desires that the captains and pilots of vessels inform him whenever they observe that the lights along the coast and rivers are not lighted or the buoys are out of place.

J. W. Conn says the articles of incorporation of the Astoria street railway company will be filed in the county clerk's office to-day. The intention is to go right ahead with the work as fast as possible.

The Coos Bay Fisherman's protective union have filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state: incorporators, Peter Scott, C. Norris, H. Graves, P. Thybre, H. Caino, F. Hodson; capital stock, $1,000, divided into 100 shares at $10 each; principal office, Marshfield.

There was large and delighted audience at Ross' opera house last night, and the play by Maud Granger of "The Planter's Wife" was put on the stage in a manner satisfactory to all. Every actor and actress in the company were the recipient of merited encomiums, and should they appear here again they will be assured of a cordial reception.

The railroad subsidy goes right ahead: J. O. Hanthorn gives in the latest additions to his lists as follows: Ben Young, $500; W. F. McGregor, $200; Gust. Holmes, $100; W. H. Lewis, $50; J. H. Langworthy, $25; David Airth, $20; Frank Sweeney, $10. By getting up on tiptoe you can see clear over the hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The money is about ready: now for the man.

The Western Amateur band orchestra furnished pleasing music at the opera house last evening. Their fine new piano purchased of Kohler & Chase, arrived just in time for their initial appearance, and they were a prominent and pleasing feature of the entertainment. Their playing under the able leadership of A. W. Utzinger, shows both skill and practice and their music last evening was applauded.

In Justice Brakke's court yesterday, Thos. Partland, accused of having failed to account for money collected from Mrs. Larsen, was held in $500 bail. In Justice Cleveland's court Geo. Wilson, charged with attempt at rape on the five-year-old daughter of D. Cronk, was held in the sum of $1,000 bail. A family row, in which Antonio Dortero, and wife, and Robt. Williams figured, the charge being one of assault and battery, was taken under advisement.

When the Court street school house was built in '83, pipes were laid to conduct water to all parts of the building, but the supply has been precarious and unsatisfactory. The directors having every faith in the warm current of the north Pacific have rigged up two tanks, and the gentle patter of the rain upon the roof now betokens that the wants of the juveniles in the way of water will be supplied. It is as hard to run a school without water as it is a printing office.

Wet or dry, summer or winter, May or November, THE ASTORIAN'S circulation steadily increases. In the flush times of '83 the circulation went up with a bound, and in these busy days of '87 we print and circulate more papers than at any time in the past. This applies to the WEEKLY as well as THE DAILY ASTORIAN. During the present year the circulation of the WEEKLY (a large paper that city readers rarely see,) increased 211. As for the DAILY, whether they agree with it or not, everybody reads it to see what is going on in the city, state and nation.

What's the matter with the Corvina? Last summer that vessel started up here from San Francisco and when nearly to the bar the propeller dropped off and she had to put back under sail, and now again she started, this time with three government officials on board to look after our important life saving station's interests, and again, when near the bar, she broke her shaft, and now, like a wounded bird, is slowly beating her way back to San Francisco under sail against southerly gales. The Corvina appears to need substantial repairs.

Hon. W. R. Kirk, grand sacrificer of the Most Modern Order of Equal Rights at Brownsville, organized Friday night a lodge of that order in Roseburg with the following officers: Most excellent satrap, L. S. Rogers; grand mogul, Dr. N. P. Bunnell; gubernator and major-domo, W. F. Benjamin; grand lecturer, J. B. Horner; scribe, Michelle Mullansson; guard of the archives, T. Ford; grand sacrificer, J. Jaskulek, conductor, L. D. Carl; scepter bearers, W. R. Howell and Frank Moelfield. The item omits to say who was chosen grand high-cockalorum.

T. M. Hoge, of New York, agent of the well known medical firm of Wm. H. Hooker & Co., is in the city. Commenting yesterday on the freight rate of $7.61 to Liverpool, he said that that is exactly the freight rate from Liverpool to London, but at even that figure the traffic does not pay very large dividends on account of the enormous expense of keeping up the road. THE ASTORIAN has about five tons of paper, etc., on the way from Chicago, on which it is paying $17.69 a ton freight, which compared with a rate of $9.12 between Liverpool and London, looks very reasonable. Mr. Hoge is a widely traveled man, his route ranging from London and Paris to Astoria.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Jno. P. Betts is taking an account of stock.

Leon Fabre has returned from Arlington.

Auditor Jewett got back from a hunting trip yesterday.

Geo. T. Meyers is about to establish a cannery at Port Townsend.

Mrs. Belle Herren is in the city on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Nancy Welch.

John T. Flynn, the live real estate agent, arrived from boomland on the Oregon yesterday.

Bishop, the mind reader, is ill in San Francisco, and his Astoria visit is indefinitely postponed.

P. W. Weeks is feeling duly elated over an addition to the census at his house last Sunday in the shape of a fine girl baby.

Frank M. Bewley has returned from the Nehalem, where he has been superintending the operations of the Sawlog cannery for the season.

Jno. Hunter left for Eugene city where his family is, yesterday morning. He reports that his fall fishing on the harbor turned out very satisfactory.

Rev. M. L. Bugg has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church and expects to go to Victoria about the 1st prox. His successor has not as yet been selected.

Ben Young arrived last Sunday on the Telephone, from British Columbia, where he has been in charge of some canneries for the last seven months. He expresses himself well satisfied with his northern canneries this season. He remains but a short time, and will winter in southern California. On meeting J. O. Hanthorn at Portland he subscribed $500 to the railroad subsidy fund.

LATEST TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Specials to Readers of "The Astorian."

JOLIET, Ills., Nov. 14.—Michael Selwab and Samuel Fielden were taken out of the court of solitary confinement this morning looking healthy and bright and put to work. Selwab was put in the convict kitchen where his work will be to help to peel potatoes and chop hash and help prepare the convicts' food. Fielden was placed in the stove department.

CHARGED WITH RIOTING.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Seventy-five men who were arrested for taking part in disturbances here yesterday, were arraigned in a row at the police court this morning, and charged with rioting. Many were fined while others were sentenced to from four to six months' imprisonment at hard labor.

AN INTERVIEW WITH O'BRIEN.

DUBLIN, Nov. 14.—Dr. Moorehead has had an interview with Wm. O'Brien. He says he found him fiercely excited and laughing frequently. He complained of a breach of faith on the part of the jailors in removing his clothes while he was in bed Friday night.

RELEASED FROM ARREST.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Gen. Boulanger, who has just been released from arrest, arrived at the hotel Louvre. He alighted from the railway train at Charenton and drove into Paris, his object being to avoid public notice.

A SUSPENDED "BEAR."

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A prominent "bear" operator, known as Hatch, has suspended. He was once president of the stock exchange. He was caught short of Reading and the boom in that stock forced him to the wall.

WILL ACCEPT THE POSITION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A Washington special states that Don M. Dickinson of Michigan has notified the president that he will accept the position of postmaster general.

THE CROWN PRINCE.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—Dr. Mackenzie left San Remo to-day for London. The swelling in the crown prince's throat continues to diminish.

HIS OWN LAWYER.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—The trial of F. W. Williams, the man who murdered his wife August 15th, for taking her little girl to the theatre against his wishes, began this morning. The remarkable feature so far is Williams practically conducting his own defence, challenging jurors while his lawyer seems to be a mere figure-head.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 14.—The ministry of agriculture building burned last night. The chamber of deputies and ministry of finance buildings were with great difficulty saved. The loss is great. The minister of agriculture and his wife and family who dwell in the burned building had to fly for their lives.

Solid on the Dingley Bill.

There was a lively time last Sunday at 10:30 A. M., in front of the Parker House. The Salvation army was in full swing and had just placed a brand from the burning in the shape of a sailor, who was chuck full of religion, when Messrs. Kelly and Sullivan, agents for the deportation of recalcitrant seamen, appeared, and forcibly urged the sailor man to ship, as per agreement. This he declined to do, and shielded himself behind the skirts of an aged female member of the gang, who loudly shrieked that she had come across the plains in '49 and it was a shame and an outrage that these bad, bad men were trying to accomplish, so it was. The bad men then asked the sailor to at least pay his board bill at the caravansary that he had honored with his patronage, which he declined to do. He'd got religion, and wasn't going to be bothered by such a little fool thing as an unpaid board bill; not he; he'd got religion, and they might depart to Hades.

Then there was a grand walk around; the drum, the tambourine, the heavy weight, the "special," the sailor, and Kelly and Sullivan, the females shrieking and the men "sing-ing," and in the middle of the jubilee the sailor skipped off, and the ship is still short one man.

THAT TERRIBLE NORTH COAST.

Loss of the British Ship "Duchess of Argyle"

The ship Indiana, Captain Morrison, arrived here Saturday, says the Port Townsend correspondent Journal of Commerce, with the captain and crew of the ill-fated British ship Duchess of Argyle, wrecked on the coast of Vancouver, opposite Cape Flattery. The following is the captain's report: We sailed from San Francisco, October 13th, bound to Burrard inlet, under charter to load lumber for Melbourne. Had light winds up the coast. Oct. 28th at 8 A. M. made Cape Flattery distant about 25 miles. Next day tug boat Pioneer came along side, and taking our hawser proceeded to tow us, but owing to the head seas found she could make no headway and let go of our hawser. We were then some 8 or 9 miles from the cape, weather foggy and thick. At midnight experienced a blow from the eastward, weather clearing; lost Cape Flattery light bearing southeast by south. November 1st. The weather being thick at 4 P. M. the fog raised and we made Cape Flattery bearing southeast by south, distant three miles. With light airs from the eastward, we managed that night to work the vessel up the straits, but it shut in thick again, and we must have drifted out. We were in company with a large fleet of vessels all evidently inward bound. Next day, Wednesday, Nov. 2nd, we managed to work into the straits again. When the fog raised in the afternoon we saw Neah bay. We stood in the northward, my vessel was foul, she would not stay, and we were always obliged to wear her. At 10 P. M. made Ta-toosh Light, distant about 6 miles. Wore ship and stood to the northward and westward; wore again at midnight, and again at 3 A. M. On Thursday Nov. 3rd at 5:15 A. M. weather very thick, and calm, ship struck forward on a rock. There was considerable of a swell running. The yards and sails were backed and she came off. I sent the carpenter down to see if she was making water; he reported every thing all right below. It was not long before the ship touched bottom again, this time on her broad side, where she remained pounding with every sea that came in. The iron plates could be heard tearing from her side. It was not long before the water was up to the main deck. Finding that there was nothing we could do without assistance, we lowered our boats and abandoned the ship, pulling for San Juan harbor, a distance of about 6 miles, to the eastward. We remained there all next day. On Friday we found the bows of the vessel nearly under water, and the stern on the rocks. We gathered what we could of clothing and other effects, our chronometers and a few of the instruments of navigation, and seeing a ship close by we pulled for her. The ship hove to and at noon we were all on board what proved to be the American ship Indiana from San Francisco bound to Port Townsend. The Duchess of Argyle is on the rocks just between Bonilla Point and Port San Juan."

In Brief, and to The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this bad habit and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.
