"Extra Star" Kerosene BEATS THEM ALL!
SAN FRANCISCO, October 21, 1887. Messrs. WHITTELL, FULLER & CO., Front and Side Streets, City:
Gentlemen:—I have made a very careful and thorough burning test of your "EXTRA STAR" KEROSENE WATER WHITE, and find it the best for FAMILY USE, and find the Burning Test to be
148 Degrees.
Very respectfully yours,
CHARLES J. WOODBURY.

REVISION OF THE LAND LAWS.
An Important Bill Agreed Upon by the House Committee on Public Lands.

The sub-committee of the house committee on Public lands, which has been considering the various propositions to change the land laws last Thursday reported to the full committee a bill "to secure to actual settlers the public lands adapted to agriculture, to protect the forests on the public domain, and for other purposes." It is in effect a repeal of most of the existing land laws. Its provisions, in brief, are as follows:

All public lands are to be classified as agricultural, timber, mineral, desert, or reserved. No timber land is to be sold, but the timber growing upon it may be disposed of to the highest bidder, in forty acre lots, the timber to be removed within six years from the date of sale. Mineral entries may be made of the same land, even after the sale of timber, but cannot impair the right of the purchaser of the timber. The president may set apart any forest lands as public reservations, on which the trees and undergrowth shall be protected from waste or injury, and he may employ the military for this purpose. Lands valuable chiefly for stone and unfit for cultivation and destitute of timber may be disposed of under existing laws. The desert land law is continued in effect with an amendment requiring entrymen to file maps exhibiting the mode of contemplated irrigation and the source of water supply. Association is permitted in the case of persons desiring to co-operate in the construction of irrigating canals or ditches.

No land is to be patented to any person under the desert land laws unless he has expended in its irrigation and cultivation and in permanent improvements at least $3 per acre, or at the rate of $1 per acre for three years. In the event of failure to meet this requirement the lands shall revert to the United States and the entry shall be cancelled.

Final entries shall be made and patents issued before the expiration of three years upon the presentation of proof of reclamation to the aggregate extent of $3 per acre, provided that proof be further required of the cultivation of one-eighth of the land, but no single desert land entry is to exceed 320 acres, nor shall any payment be required therefor; and entries are further confined to bona fide citizens and residents of the state or territory in which the desert land is situated.

The existing laws relating to town sites, swamp lands, and other grants made by congress to states and territories are continued in force. The homestead law is amended so as to allow heads of families, citizens of legal age, or persons who have filed declarations of intention to become such, to enter a quarter section or so of public lands; but no person who is the proprietor of 160 acres of land, or who quits and abandons his residence on his own land to reside on the public lands in the same state or territory, shall acquire any right under the homestead law. The transfer of any portion of a land entry for church, cemetery or school purposes, or right of way for railroads or irrigating canals shall not impair the right to perfect the title. Persons who have not had the benefit of the pre-emption law, and have failed for any cause except by sale or disposal of their rights to perfect title to tracts entered by them may make a second homestead entry in lieu thereof.

All laws allowing pre-emption of public lands, and the act entitled "An act to amend the act to encourage the growth of timber on the western prairies," and all other laws in conflict with the provisions of the present bill are repealed, but all bona fide claims initiated before its passage may be perfected. All laws relating to bounty land warrants, college, and other land scrip remain in force. The last section of the bill makes it unlawful to cut or wantonly destroy any timber on the public lands, or to willfully set fire to the timber or underbrush and leave the fire burning, exposing the trees to destruction, or to remove any timber from the public lands. Transportation companies and vessel owners are forbidden to transport such timber. Provision is made, however, that the section shall not operate to prevent any miner or farmer from clearing his land in working, or from taking the timber necessary to support his improvements.

During the czar's visit to Copenhagen a German conjurer was giving an exhibition of his skill before a royal party at Fedensborg when the czar took up the pack of cards with which the prestidigitateur had been operating and said: "I will show you another trick, but I doubt whether you will be able to add it to your repertoire." The czar then tore the pack of fifty-two cards in two without apparently the slightest effort. The showman produced another pack and tried to imitate his example but in vain. Only those possessing wrists of steel can in this case follow suit. It is no trick, but the exercise of almost superhuman strength. A few minutes later the czar called for a silver dollar and bent it double between the thumb and forefinger of his right hand.

EXPERIENCE OF AN EX-CHAMPION.

Athletes and men who take ordinary out-door exercise such as walking, running, bicycle riding, jumping, swimming, tennis, etc., are often the subjects of acute troubles. The experience of an ex-champion walker will be of interest to all who are afflicted. Read the following letter: No. 324 East 19th St., New York, April 2, 1886.

Numerous statements relative to the merits of different plasters having been brought to my attention, I take this opportunity to state that I have used Alcock's Porous Plasters for over 20 years and prefer them to any other kind. I would furthermore state that I was very sick with catarrh of the kidneys, and attribute my recovery entirely to Alcock's Porous Plasters. HARRY BROOKS.

Kentucky congratulates herself that fish worms have gone down only an inch below the surface this winter in that State. That's all right, but the question is how far down have the fish gone?
Can't Make Anything Like It.
I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, remedy and effectually move the liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system. No other remedy within my knowledge can fill this place.

The Yosemite tribe of Indians has been reduced to eleven members, and these are an inch thick with dirt. There is talk of asking congress to appropriate $5,000 for water and soap to scrub them up and see how they look.

A Stab in the Back.
Sometimes falls of its murderous intent. The insidious and dastardly attacks made upon the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters by persons who seek to gain off cheap and fiery tonics is identical with it, or "the same thing under another name," or equally as good. In most instances react adversely upon the popular credulity who attempt them, converting their speculations into ruinous failures. The Bitters is a pure, wholesome and thorough medicine, adapted to the total cure and prevention of fever and acute, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, debility, nervousness and kidney troubles. Its every ingredient, unlike those in the imitations of it, is of an ascertained standard of excellence, and while they by reason of their fiery properties, react injuriously upon the brain and nervous system, of both those organs, it is a sensitive and vigorous. Beware of all these harmful imitations.

A letter of complaint about the foul condition of the river Thames was recently written to an English newspaper with ink composed of the sediment which had formed in a wine-glassful of the river water.
