ASTORIA, OREGON:

BRACE UP.

Ir's just as easy to form good habits as bad ones and just as hard to break them. It's a bad habit to get into to be always and forever crying and whimpering and croaking and bellyaching about "hard times." Did you two or twenty weren't whimpering about "hard times." Times are always "hard" with some people.

Just at present there's a good deal of doleful talk about "hard times." It's purely a habit. People get into that habit through a variety of causes. Some people who are actually making money have so good a thing of it that our modest request may be diffithey are afraid some one else will get on cult for the Oregonian to grant. But, to it, and so they wring their hands and cry "hard times," to fend off competition. Others who have put their expectations away up and who ain't getting possessed of the earth as fast as they expected, drop in the same doleful ditty, and cry "hard times"

This is the first time in three years that the Oregonian has made this assertion. The eloquent interval of silence that it maintained since1885, when one day it insinuated that this paper misstated facts and the next day was confronted with an affidavit, has been broken. Tote fair, neighbor. Perfection is an attribute denied to poor humanity, but any one can be fair if he tries. Try. It won't hurt you and may help you.

Renews Her Youth. Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years: could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and sorceess, and am able to do all my own neip. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain."
