The First Sign

Of failing health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health. Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever. Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

Dyspepsia Cured. It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians, and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored. Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

Fire! Fire!

Is one of the greatest blessings when you have it under control. If you build your fire in one of those Mangle Ranges or one of those Acorns or Stoves at John A. McGillem's, you will find it a pleasure to prepare a meal, or if you get one of those Hearths you will find them to be clean and economical and an ornament to your parlor. If you intend getting a range or a heater don't fall to look at his stock. You should call in see his beautiful Ornamental Coal Vases.

OF IMPORTANCE TO ASTORIA.

VERNONIA, Columbia Co., Or., April 6, 1888.

EDITOR ASTORIAN: Your pamphlet entitled "Astoria's Forest Wealth" is read with pleasure by all who are interested in the future prosperity and in whatever promises to be a source of wealth to the people of Oregon.

While the writer abundantly shows that more mills may be profitably erected at Astoria, it occurs to me that he has left untouched and unnoticed the forest wealth of the interior, which Astoria may secure as a permanent source of commerce and of wealth little dreamed of by men of the past decade in Oregon.

From Astoria south 70 miles, and eastward 50 miles, stretches a forest of unbroken timber land, 1,500,000 acres of which is the finest growth of fir and cedar timber in Oregon.

The surveyed line of the railroad as adopted by the Oregon Central company, while it had the land grant to Astoria from Forest Grove, traversed the center of this forest from Astoria up the valley of the Nehalem river 70 miles, to the head of that river, within 20 miles of Forest Grove.

More than 102,000 acres of this timber land is within one mile of the Nehalem river and of the line of the contemplated railroad, and it is safe to say that an equal area of timber is found upon the large creeks, tributaries of the Nehalem, down which logs may be floated to the mills on the railroad and Nehalem river.

Men of experience and wealth from the great lumber regions of Wisconsin and Green Bay in Michigan, have recently partially explored along this route and more than intimated their readiness to erect mills all along this line as soon as the rails are laid from their mills to the docks at Astoria.

The advantage of having an almost inexhaustible supply at the door of the mills, and the cars receiving the lumber as it falls from the saws, to be placed, without further handling, on their docks at Astoria, is considered by experienced men as not only practicable, but promising the establishment of the lumber industry on a scale hitherto almost unthought of in Oregon.

The withdrawal of all the land in these extended limits many years ago for a certain railroad corporation prevented settlements there. Since these lands have been restored to the government, settlers are swarming in and dotting the forest with their new and promising homes.

The beginning of this great industry will of course be simultaneous with the beginning of work on your railroad to Forest Grove. If the output of ten establishments amounts to but 400,000 feet of lumber per day, it is easy to estimate the number of railroad trains, and the fleet of ships to which this will give active employment; but it is not so easy to compute the results that must follow the rapid settlement of the 800,000 acres of land between Forest Grove and Astoria, and the dense population which Astoria will control.

It is not alone in the forests, and mines of coal along this route that the future wealth of Clatsop, Columbia and Washington counties consists; but it also consists in their widely spread uplands having a warm loamy soil, producing fruits, grain, and meadows of clover and timothy; and 25,000 acres of alluvial bottom lands in the upper valley of the Nehalem river, gives to these counties a permanent source of wealth which is not surpassed by any country of the same extent on the Pacific coast. Respectfully, JOHN CAMPBELL.

Interesting Statistics.

The Voice, organ of the prohibition folks in this country, has long been carefully collecting the statistics which show the expenditure for liquor per head in the different states. It has recently published some of the results of this investigation, and they are of interest to all people, whether "wet" or "dry," in regard to prohibition. The Voice finds the expenditure for liquor to drink to be in Tennessee, $4; in Ohio, $17.81; in Arkansas, $2.56; in Massachusetts, $14.74; in Alabama, $2.74; in Pennsylvania, $14.78; in South Carolina, $3.06; in Wisconsin, $14.47.

Some New York people propose to send a school for the training of servant girls if they can raise the necessary $50,000 or $60,000. The past year about $7000 was raised in small sums.

Physicians, clergymen, and scientists, unite in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral as an invaluable remedy for throat and lung troubles.

Leading members of the bar in the east propose to raise a fund for the widow of chief justice Waite.

Exactly What is Sought After. A safe, reliable, harmless, not repulsive remedy that can be taken without changing the regular diet or disorganizing the system; a vegetable compound assisting nature to get rid of impurities in a gradual manner as nature intended. Such is Simmons' Liver Regulator, and a trial proves this to the most skeptical. Complete satisfaction is guaranteed, and certainly it is a satisfaction to find the head clear, the bowels regular, the blood purified and the breath sweet.

Director Kimball desires to have the Carson Mint reduced to an assay office.

Read all the advertisements of spring medicines, and then take Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
