Sore Eyes
The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.
Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely cured.
My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.
For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.
From childhood, and until with a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.
I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
By Taking
three bottles of this medicine I have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendall T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.
My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1.50 six bottles, $8.

The Festive Blueback
For some days past there has been a most extraordinary run of blue back salmon at both the Cascades and the Dalles and tons of these handsome fish averaging about five pounds each have been taken in dip nets at both places. Three years ago the bluebacks used to be sent here from the Cascades for six bits a dozen, and the men who risked their lives fishing for them from stagings and platforms rigged in perilous places along the sides of the foaming torrent, where a misstep meant certain death, received but slight compensation for their dangerous labor. Things are different now, as bluebacks are worth 44 cents here spot cash and 5 cents delivered at Astoria. A day or two since one man made $64 catching bluebacks, and another made $50. A number of Indians who fish on the Washington territory side of the river have been making $20 a day on an average for several days. The fishing places used by these dip net men are on government ground near the locks. The fish caught at the Dalles are used in a cannery there and all hands are kept busy of late. Till within the past day or two the only wheels running at the Cascades were those mounted on scows, but the late rise in the river has started several of the other wheels, and if warm weather continues they will all be going shortly, and then the bluebacks and also the Chinooks will need to keep a bright look out to pass the rapids in safety. From the large number of bluebacks caught, it is to be supposed that a great many have passed up, and unless some foul work is done away above, enough of them will reach their spawning grounds in Wallowa lake to furnish "seed fish" for the settlers there and to keep up the supply.—Oregonian, 7.

Women in Business.
In this age of extreme activity and wonderful development, it is a noteworthy fact that many women have made their own way in mercantile life, and successfully compete with men in many lines of business. Women, whether they labor in the household or in the store, are all liable to suffer from functional derangements and the cares of maternity. For all troubles known under the category of "female weakness," Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a tonic and tried specific. It relieves the greatest sufferers, and restores the patient to vigorous health and strength. It is the only medicine for women sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturer, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper and faithfully carried out for many years.
Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, bilious headache, and all derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

A man living in this county, who owes over two years' subscription, put his paper back in the postoffice last week marked "refused." We have heard of many mean men—there is the man who uses the wart on the back of his neck for a collar button, and the one who pastured the goat on his grandmother's grave, the one who stole coppers from a dead nigger's eyes, the one who got richer by giving his five children a nickel each to go to bed without supper and then stealing the nickels after the children were asleep—but for pure, downright cussedness the man who will take a paper two years, mark it "refused" and then stick it back in the postoffice is entitled to first premium.

For dyspepsia or stomach derangements, no other remedy can be found so pleasant, prompt, and effective as Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

In an opening speech in the Jackson county Democratic convention held at Jacksonville last Friday, Judge Willard Crawford, a Medford delegate, after declaring himself in favor of the nomination of Horatio Seymour as candidate, for president of the United States, said: "Oregon will go Democratic this year, and I will tell Republicans the reason why. The prohibition party is well organized throughout the state, and its efforts will give the election to the democracy. God bless the prohibitionists." This sentiment met with the approval of the convention, the members of which cheered it to the echo.

Leading medical authorities endorse Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine.

The Parson Yelled "Fire!"
Pittsburgh Press.
They tell a story on an Alleghany preacher, which, to the best of my knowledge, has not as yet been in print. It occurred on a very warm day last summer, and the congregation was drowsy. The preacher was a long talker, and after his sermon had been spread out over the better part of an hour the congregation was drowsier. Heads began to drop on the respective chests thereunto appertaining, and long, deep breathing became noticeable in various parts of the church.
Then the preacher began to lower his voice gradually. Step by step he reduced his elocution from a fortissimo tenor to a low, soothing bass, until eventually his voice died out altogether. He looked carefully over the congregation. All was still as death. No one stirred. All were nodding. Then the optics of the indignant servant of the Lord filled with gore.
He leaned over the pulpit—away over—waited an instant in that position, and then suddenly yelled, "Fire! fire!" in a voice which sent its reverberations through every nook and corner of the edifice. That brought the congregation to life as though a bomb had burst under them. One old deacon jumped up and yelled: "Where? Where?"
That's where the gag came in, and the minister shrieked in tones of thunder:
"In hell! In hell, for all you sleepy sinners!"
Only strangers sleep in that church now.

There's Virtue in Onions and Beef.
What is the most strengthening food for a convalescent? Well, you know, the beef tea theory has been exploded. The most life-giving and digestible food that can be given to one just recovering from an illness is chopped beef. Just take a pound of the finest round of raw beef, cut off all the fat, slice two onions, and add pepper and salt. Then chop the onions and meat together, turning them over and over until both are reduced almost to a pulp. Then spread on slices of rye bread and eat as sandwiches. People talk about celery being a nerve, but let me tell you there is nothing which quiets the nerves without bad results like onions. The use of them induces sleep, and much strength is obtained from them. That is my ideal for those convalescing or for any one who is in a weak state of health.—Kansas City Star.
