AYER'S Sugar-Coated Cathartic PILLS.
If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to regulate my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in the bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.

DISGUSTING INDIAN RITES.

Professor J. Jacobsen, who had been in the province for some years collecting Indian curios for the Hamburg Museum and writing up the habits, customs and traditions of the aborigines, arrived down on the Boscowitz from Bella Coola. The professor spent all last winter at Tacalo, the head of the southernmost of the Bentinck arms, which is distant from Bella Coola about eighty miles. Here he found the Indian in his primitive state, a wild untutored savage, with but a scant knowledge of the arts or customs of civilization.

The inlet, running far inland, and being every way out of the course of traders or prospectors, is never visited, and the Indians say no white man ever went up to the head of it before. They live there as they do in most places around the coast, by hunting and fishing, deer and fur bearing animals abounding in large numbers. They are without missionaries and cannibalism is rampant. The professor tells of some sickening sights which he witnessed there during the past winter, which at this day no one could believe capable of being witnessed so near home, did the information not come from a reliable person. The custom is still carried out there of men ambitious for the honors of chieftain betaking themselves to the woods, and after remaining there for some time, coming back possessed of a spirit and biting pieces of flesh from the bodies of those whom they first meet. One who wished to graduate last winter went out and remained for sight for several weeks, though he came near the camp occasionally and made night hideous with his yells. When he came to the tribe he came naked, notwithstanding that it was the middle of winter, with two or three feet of snow on the ground. The first man he met he seized, knocked down and bit a piece out of his arm, which he chewed ravenously. This was repeated many times over his face becoming besmeared with blood and presenting a fiendish appearance. The victims of the would-be-chieftain's bites receive in return for their pains a small pecuniary compensation, and it is an honor to carry the scar. The more scars of this kind that decorate an Indian's body, the more numerous are his honors, and when he comes to have a good many he becomes a chieftain himself in a little way. The biter on one occasion made a break for the professor who soon gave him to understand that he was going to experience something pretty tough if he tackled him. He was not further molested.

It is the intention of professor Jacobsen to reside in the provinces permanently, and will go north again. He brought down with him many valuable curios, which will be forwarded to Germany.

Distress After Eating.
This result of indigestion will no longer be experienced if Simmons' Liver Regulator is taken after each meal. It is such a good digester, and so mild and pleasant in its effect that it is used by many, after a hearty meal, to insure good digestion. The Regulator does not nauseate or irritate the stomach, but corrects acidity, dispels foul gases, allays irritation and assists the stomach in its digestion.

An Over Supply.
Wailala is flooded with about 600 idle men, who cannot find work and have no money. It seems that G. W. Hunt sent east to an agency for 150 Italian laborers, to work on his branch road, and they sent him 600 men, and when they came he could not use over a quarter of the number, and as there is no work there for the remainder of the men, they are in a hard predicament. They appear to be ready and willing to work, and are good quiet men; but under the pressure for food they often compel restaurant men to feed them gratis. This state of affairs cannot continue. The Sound offers the best inducement for them and it is expected they will go there, but how—having no money—unless the R. R. Co. carries them free?

Mr. Amanda Davidson died recently at Tillamook. She was the daughter of James and Annie Quick, and was born November 26, 1853, the first white girl born in Tillamook county. She leaves a husband and two small children.

Unearned Land Grants.

The land grant forfeiture bill has been passed by the senate. The first section declares forfeited to the United States all lands granted to any state or to any corporation to aid in the construction of railroads opposite to and co-terminus with the portion of such railroad not now completed and in operation, for construction or benefit of which lands have heretofore been granted, and all such lands are declared to be part of the public domain. The act is not to be construed as forfeiting the right of way or depot grounds of any railroad company heretofore granted nor as limiting the rights granted to purchasers or settlers by "an act to provide for the adjustment of land grants made by congress to aid in the construction of railroads and the forfeiture of lands and for other purposes," approved March 3, 1887, or as repealing, altering or amending that act, or as in any manner affecting any cause of action existing in favor of the purchaser.

The second section authorizes persons in possession of any such lands prior to the 1st of January, 1882, to purchase them within two years from the United States, in quantities not exceeding 320 acres, at the rate of $2.50 per acre.

The third section refers to the lands of the Northern Pacific company, heretofore forfeited, and gives persons in possession of them prior to the first of July, 1885, a like right, and confirms to the city of Portland the right-of-way and riparian rights of a water-pipe line.

The fourth section reserves the right to forfeit other railroad grant lands for failure, past or future, to comply with the conditions of the grants.

The fifth section exempts from the operation of the act certain grants to the states of Mississippi and Alabama.

The sixth section fixes the price of the even numbered sections of land within the limits of forfeited land grants at $1.20 an acre.

The seventh section repeals certain sections of the land grant acts for Minnesota and Iowa, and the last section refers especially to the lands of the Portage Lake canal company.

John Bates, who is living at the age of 85 in Chicago, was deputy postmaster of the "Lake City" in 1832-33, under Andrew Jackson. Business was not heavy and Mr. Bates used to carry the mail in his pocket. In those days it required 25 cents to get a letter, and the reports made to the department of the business done were made in pounds, shillings and pence.

Major Gilbert of Palmyra, N. Y., who is well known as the composer of the first Mormon Bible, celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday the other day by doing a good day's work at the case in the office of the Palmyra Courier. He saved the first sheet of the book of Mormon printed from each form, and preserved the book until a short time ago, when he sold it for $500.

Buried With His Gold.

During the time of the construction of the Northern Pacific railroad through this city several Chinamen were killed by an unexpected explosion. They were buried near the track on Cannon's addition, and the bodies have not been permitted to remain there until recently, when Dr. Campbell, acting as health officer, issued an order for their removal. As the friends of the deceased were preparing the bones for shipment to China, considerable interest was taken by bystanders who happened to be in that vicinity. As one body was taken from its box twenty-dollar gold pieces began to drop from a decomposed belt about the waist. Six twenties, one ten and one five-dollar piece, beside about $300 worth of gold dust, was the amount found. It was evident from appearances that this body was fearfully mangled, and hence it is supposed that owing to superstitions of their race the Chinamen did not dare touch this body in its mangled condition lest some evil should befall them.—Spokane Falls Review.
