The First Sign

Of falling health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weariness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.
Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.
I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., D. D. S., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.
It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians, and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 383 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Most Popular Woman.

The princess of Wales is the most popular personage in Great Britain. So far as the institution of royalty is concerned, it can be truly said of her that her life is the most valuable in the kingdom. So long as she lives her popularity will be sufficient to keep the cause of royalty well protected from popular innovations. I have tried to obtain from those who know the princess of Wales well the secret of her great popularity. She is not a brilliant woman, she has never written anything, and in conversation she never impresses any one with the idea of her having any particular originality or striking force of character. In ordinary society, without the advantages of her position, she would make but little impression. She is excessively ladylike and refined. She has a most marvelous beauty, which chiefly consists in regular features, a fair complexion and a perfectly serene and placid expression. The most remarkable feature of her good looks is the preservation of her youthful appearance. In the broad glare of daylight she looks to-day as young, if not younger, than her eldest daughter. Her figure is also slim and slight as that of a young girl. She dresses with exquisite taste, and appears to enjoy general society very much. The secret of her popular charm is said to be this: She has the rare and gracious faculty of impressing people who come in contact with her in the casual meeting of a general reception or a levee, with her genuine cordiality. People who have been presented to her and who have simply seen her bow and smile, and perhaps have heard a half-dozen words of commonplace greeting, are the ones who are the most wildly enthusiastic over her. Her bearing before the public constitutes her chief charm. Everyone is led to believe that she is the most gracious and winning personage in the kingdom. It is this outward suggestion upon the part of the princess of Wales of brilliant graciousness that has captivated and thoroughly charmed the British public. Those who know her best say that a more intimate acquaintance with her does not bear out the public estimate. She is thoroughly refined, accomplished and self-possessed, but is not interesting in a general conversation.

While I was on the continent last month, I heard a number of interesting stories concerning the early life of the princess of Wales. These stories are not particularly new, and I do not propose to allude to them except to give the exact income of her father before he was called to the throne of Denmark. The prince lived in the most obscure poverty for a number of years. He had an income of exactly $1,200 a year. There were five children to be supported and educated from this beggarly sum. The young ladies of this household learned to cook, to sew and to do all kinds of household work. They were obliged to make their own dresses for many years. No members of any family so obscurely placed have risen to more brilliant positions than this Danish family. The head of the family became the king of Denmark. His oldest son is of course crown prince of that country. Another son is the king of Greece. His three daughters are the princess of Wales, czarina of Russia and the duchess of Cumberland.—T. C. Crawford's London Letter to N. Y. World.

The Democratic party will go into the presidential campaign as thoroughly committed to one side of a living issue as the Republican party is to the other side. This is a pleasing prospect to voters who believe that ballots should have a distinctive meaning in relation to some principle or policy of government.—N. Y. World (Dem.).

Gentleman—How is your wife. Uncle Rastus—Oh, no, sir; I heard de doctah say this mornin' dat she am gittin' bettah.

A Chicago woman has not spoken to her husband for three years, and he wants a divorce. If that is not ingratitude, what is?

The Center of the Battle.

The result of the election will depend upon the four States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana. Four years ago all these States were carried by the Democrats. Last fall all of them, except New York, were carried by the Republicans. The contest, in a nutshell, therefore, is to recover these doubtful States that are essential to Democratic success and to hold New York. In 1884 all of these doubtful States were carried by the Democrats in the face of the lingering doubt of timid business men as to the trustworthiness of that party. That three of these States were lost after three years' demonstration of the groundlessness of these fears shows that the task before the Democratic leaders is not without difficulty and danger.—N. Y. World (Dem.).

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

"Haven't you anything at all to give me, ma'am?" pleaded the tramp; "can't you see that I am in need? 'I can, indeed, my poor man," replied the kind-hearted lady, moved almost to tears; "here is a cake of soap."

The Wonderful Properties of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid.
Wherever a preventing, healing, cleansing and deodorizing injection or wash is required use Darby's Prophylactic Fluid. Any inflamed surface, external or internal, treated with the Fluid will be quickly relieved. It has effected cures that had resisted the best medical skill.

The president has only a few weeks before the democratic national convention to reissue the following order: "I deem this a time proper to especially warn all subordinates in the several departments and all office-holders under the general government against the use of their official positions in attempts to control political movements in their localities."

Dunlap of the Pittsburgh nine announces that he will get $7000 this year for playing base-ball. Well, why not? Even a congressman gets $5000, and not one of the members of congress could fill Dunlap's place.

An excitable Ohio man, whose wife's clothing caught fire, attempted to quench the blaze by deluging her with whiskey. Of course this only added fuel, and the woman was so badly burned that she died.

The pressure of the atmosphere upon every square foot of the earth amounts to 2,160 pounds. An ordinary sized man, supposing his surface to be fourteen square feet, sustains the enormous, pressure of 30,240 pounds.

The man who never made a mistake in his life is deaf, dumb, blind and still unmarried.

Swift Flyers.

There seems to be no doubt that the "frigate bird," an inhabitant of the tropical seas, is the swiftest bird that flies. It has been impossible to calculate its rate of flight within fixed limits. The pectoral muscles are immensely developed, and weigh nearly one-fourth as much as the whole body of the bird. Another rapid flyer is the common "black swift." It has been computed that the great speed it attains is about 276 miles an hour, which, if maintained for about six hours, would carry the bird from its summer retreat in England to Central Africa. Our American "canvas backed duck" is commonly computed to be capable of flying 200 miles an hour.

Ayer's Pills are pleasant, safe and sure, and excel all other pills in healing and curative qualities. Best for family use.

The Fond du Lac Commonwealth doubts if Wisconsin is to have an Arbor day, and says: "Wisconsin people are too busy cutting trees to think of planting them."

No other preparation so meets the wants of a debilitated system as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

There is really nothing encouraging in the expression, "There's plenty of room at the top," if we stop to reflect that we can't all be the big strawberry.

It seems somewhat unnecessary to advise a young man to live within his income. He could not well live without it.

The honest man has to make up to the landlord what he loses by the rogue.

There is no place where style counts so much as in the lining of a pocketbook.

The chamois, it is said, were destroyed wholesale last winter by avalanches in the Alps.
